$40,000 FIRE SWEEPS IRONDALE

EIGHT BUSINESS HOUSES ARE DESTROYED; BUCKET BRIGADE IS POWERLESS

With Only Primitive Defenses at Their Command, Fire Fighters Stage Losing Battle as Flames Raze Offices, Restaurant, Meat Market, Pharmacy, Two General Stores, Barber Shop and Motor Supply Establishment.

Alarms are Sent to Wellsville and Steubenville Fire Departments and Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Forces as Fire Cuts Wide Path in One Section of Village Thursday Evening—Heavy

With only primitive defenses at their command, and hampered by near-zero weather, residents of Irondale last night saw one of the most disastrous fires in the history of the village cut through the main section of the business district, sweeping in its path eight business houses and causing a total loss estimated at approximately $40,000.

The fire razed the structures, all of frame construction, to the ground, and with the buildings went practically everything within them.

The list includes:
THE BANFIELD CLAY CO., OFFICE.
THE HUTCHINSON HART RESTAURANT.
CHARLES FERGUSON MEAT MARKET.
ROBERT NICHOLSON GENERAL STORE.
THE IRONDALE PHARMACY.
OFFICE OF DR. G. F. RICE.
THE JAMES RIDGLEY BARBER SHOP.
PAISLEY BROTHERS GENERAL STORE.
THE IRONDALE MOTOR SUPPLY CO.

The flames are thought to have originated in the rear of the Nicholson general store shortly before 8 o'clock.

Carry Water Through Snow Drifts.

Smoke, pouring out of the store, was seen by citizens who were attending a home talent play under way in the opera building.

A general alarm was sent out. Hundreds of men responded and bucket brigades were formed. But the fire had gained sufficient headway to make the efforts of the fire fighters practically useless and the lines of water carriers, who were forced to work through deep drifts of snow, slowly gave way before the sheet of flame.

Alarms were sent to Wellsville and Steubenville fire departments and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad fire forces. But snow drifts made it impossible to get either the Wellsville or the Steubenville trucks to the village. The fire was too far advanced when the C. & P. engine arrived.

Save Three Buildings.

But the efforts of the volunteer fire fighters were not entirely unrewarded. Three buildings, in imminent danger as the flames were at their height, were saved from destruction.

The fire-swept section of the

JAPAN COVERED BY SNOWFALL

Communication Blocked, Train Service is Hit.

TOKIO, Jan. 30.—All of Japan was covered by a record snowfall, one of the heaviest in many years.

All communication was temporarily crippled by the storm. Telegraph and telephone lines were put out of commission and train service into Tokio was blocked.

Syracuse Suffers.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Eighteen hours of continuous snowfall yesterday and today buried Syracuse under its heaviest blanket in 26 years. Thousands walked to work through three feet drifts this morning. Train, trolley and taxicab service was suspended.

More than sixty trolleys were stalled. Early estimates placed the number of abandoned automobiles at 1,500.

Three hundred and fifty persons narrowly escaped death when the roof of the Elmwood theatre caved in two minutes after the close of the last performance.

Blanketed under a foot of snow and with a wind blowing at times fifty and sixty miles an hour, all traffic in Albany, including trolley, rail and automobile, was completely demoralized. Streets were blocked by huge drifts in some places eight and ten feet deep.

Other Cities Snowbound.

Two feet of snow fell last night and today in Olean, N. Y., a wind this

"Cold and Fair" Tonight, Saturday, Weather Forecast

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—Cold and fair weather, with the mercury hovering around 10 or 12 degrees above zero, tonight and Saturday night was predicted today at the local United States weather bureau.

Snow, ranging from one to four inches deep, fell throughout Ohio Wednesday and Thursday night, it was stated. Today 5.2 inches of snow lay on the ground here, establishing a new local record. Deep snow drifts prevailed in various parts of southern Ohio along the Ohio river. Traffic was inconvenienced in many cities by the snow.

MOTHER OF NINE SHOT; MAN HELD

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 30.—With three bullet wounds in her body, Mrs. Loretta Monroe, is in a critical condition in a local hospital today. The woman was shot last night by her husband, following a quarrel that climaxed his admitted two-day debauch. After shooting the woman, the gun was wrenched from him as he pleaded for it to be returned to "shoot himself." The woman ran a block from the home and collapsed. Monroe was placed under arrest. There are nine children in the family.

JULES BRAZIL OFFERS NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT FOR KIWANIANS

Canadian Headliner of Dinner-danceat Country Club.

100 ARE GUESTS

Monologues, Impersonations, etc., Feature Night Meeting.

An hour and a half program of humorous monologues, impersonations, musical numbers and other diversions, was featured by Jules Brazil, noted Toronto, Canada, entertainer, at a dinner-dance given by members of the Kiwanis club for their wives and friends at the East Liverpool Country club last evening.

The affair was attended by approximately 100 guests, many of whom were forced to make the trip to the club house under hazardous conditions owing to the deep snow. The program was a novel one.

The banquet tables were attractively decorated with flowers. A four-course dinner was served. Dr. G. E. Lewis, club president, presided. The chorus singing was led by Prof. H. F. Laughlin, with Clair Chambers as pianist.

Memorizes Guests' Names.

Few entertainers who have appeared in East Liverpool can measure up to Jules Brazil, who kept the crowd in a paroxysm of laughter from the moment he took charge until he sat down. Before he opened him program Mr. Brazil memorized the names and faces of every person in the banquet room. Throughout the evening he referred to the guests by their names, often calling them by their first name and even going so far in some cases as to mention their professions, business connections or occupations.

With the assistance of a piano, Mr. Brazil gave musical numbers, in which impersonations were featured. His monologues were numerous and his jokes were original. Mr. Brazil has been on the entertaining platform for nearly a score of years and during that time has appeared before many large conventions. He was introduced by President Lewis.

Souvenirs for Ladies.

Attendance prizes were given many ladies. Those drawing the souvenirs were: Mrs. Frank Huff, who secured a bottle of perfume, donated by C. T. Larkins; Mrs. L. C. Difford, box of chocolates, donated by F. S. Huff; Mrs. John Golden, bottle of perfume, donated by Dr. Clyde Larkins; Mrs. Chris Metsch, box of chocolates, given by Harry Fleming; Mrs. Richard Thompson, bottle of perfume, donated by Thomas Anderson; Mrs. W. A. Hobbs, bottle of perfume, also donated by Thomas Anderson; Mrs. Olen Dawson, box of chocolates, donated by Joshua Poole.

Dancing was featured between 10 and 12 o'clock. Music was furnished by Bill Moore's West Virginians, a five-piece orchestra, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Snow Halts Work in Mine.

YORKVILLE, O., Jan. 30.—Coal miners in Gaylor No. 2 mine were forced to suspend work underground today because of yesterday's heavy snow. This blocked the tracks leading from the mine mouth to the tipple preventing the removal of coal.

45 Men of Crew of Stranded U. S. Submarine Rescued As Cratt Dritts In Howling Gale

STATES ON GREAT LAKES ORGANIZE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A permanent organization of state officials interested in the development of the Great Lakes, was formed here today.

The purpose of the organization is to secure concerted action by all states bordering the lakes against legislation permitting diversion of water from the lakes—to unify the opposition to Chicago's obtaining enormous quantities of water from the lakes for municipal purposes.

Last 20 Aboard Taken Off S-48 as Big Submersible Begins to Fill With Chlorine Gas.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 30—All of the 45 officers and men from stranded U. S. submarine S-48 were rescued today by coast guard men from the Wood Island life saving station.

Twenty-five members of the crew were taken from the undersea boat after being imprisoned aboard all night in a howling northeast gale. Later the skeleton crew of 20 men was removed.

U. S. DEBT NOTE GOES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 30—Diplomatic circles heard today that the American government was sending a note to France on the subject of the Franco-American debt.

The French government disclaimed knowledge of such a note. Both Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel said they not only had not received a note regarding the debt, but they had no official information that a note had been sent.

Life-giving Serum is Rushed Over Ice-covered Trails.

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 30. — This diphtheria-stricken city appealed to the world for aid today. Conditions are serious and anti-toxin rushed here by airplane is essential to save hundreds of lives, Mayor George Mayfard declared.

Many children are among the victims. All schools have been closed and the city is under teh strictest quarantine, but the disease is spreading rapidly.

Without anti-toxin, primitive methods are being used in a fruitless attempt to check the ravages of the dread disease.

The conditions in Nome were regarded as critical by Maynard and dispatching of serum by airplane was regarded by him as the only course to be taken to save the sufferers.

"We are advocating that action be taken immediately, declared Maynard, "and want anti-toxin from Menana sent by airplane. Conditions here are very serious."

Mayor Maynard declared that all had been said that could be said concerning conditions in Nome at present and indicated that Nome felt re-

Mountainous Seas Lash Schooner, But Men Stay Aboard

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Jan. 30.—Mountainous seas today lashed the disabled four masted schooner Commack, aground on a sand bar at the eastern end of Sandy Hook.

All through the night the ship was driven farther upon the bar. A shift in the wind early today, however, restored hopes of coast guards that Captain Joseph Barnes and four members of his crew on board the schooner may be saved.

The captain and his men refused to leave the vessel. Although coast guards dropped a breeches buoy line over its decks and offered to take them off.

The last 20 men were taken off by the coast guardsmen after the big submersible began to fill with chlorine gas, seeping out of the storage batteries, as water from a hole in the submarine's bow penetrated the interior of the craft.

Lifesavers on Job.

The rescued crew were taken in power boats from the Woods Island life saving station to Fort Stark. None of them was injured, but they were worn out from their all-night battle in the sea and went to bed.

The S-48 lies hard and fast on the mud flats off the Little Head breakwater. At high tide she drifted off the rocky reef on which she first stranded, floated around a bit and then brought up on the mud flats.

Great waves were breaking over her as the three coast guard lifeboats came alongside and rescued the submersible's crew.

Until the gas from the S-48's storage batteries leaves the interior of the undersea craft, it was impossible for any person to go aboard to learn the full extent of the damage.

MEANS, FELDER FOUND GUILTY OF BRIBE PLOT

Jury Recommends Extreme Clemency for Convicted Lawyer.

SEALED VERDICT

Detective Gets Prison Sentence; Counsel Fined $10,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Gaston B. Means, detective, and Thomas B. Felder, his lawyer, were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe government officials in a sealed verdict returned today in U. S. district court. The jury recommended extreme clemency for Felder.

Judge Lindley sentenced Means to serve two years in the Atlanta, Ga., pentitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000. It was the mamimum penalty.

Felder was fined $10,000 but given no prison sentence.

Detective Smiles.

The jury's verdict was reached at 8:50 p. m. yesterday, but sealed and kept until court opened this morning. The jury had been out five hours and 45 minutes.

Means received the verdict with his familiar dimpled smile.

Felder turned pale, licked his dry lips and gulped, while he sat solemnly in his chair.

Takes Verdict as Joke.

Means seemed to take the jury's finding as a joke. He had bet a newspaper reporter five cents, at even money, that he would be convicted.

"We", he said with a grin, "I guess I win five cents".

The governor, in bringing the conspiracy charge complained that Felder, Means and the latter's confidential man, Elmer Jarnecke, who pleaded guilty and testified against them, conspired to bribe former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, one of Felder's law partners, United States district Attorney Hayward, his assistant, John Holloy Clark, and William

TURNKEY FACES HEARING FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF $40 PISTOL

I. H. Aaronson, Pawnbroker, and Chester Becker Summoned.

ZIMERMAN ACTS

Brown Instructed to Bring Search Warrant and Affidavit.

Mayor Charles Brown today was called as a state witness against City Jail Turnkey W. A. Cline, charged with the theft of a revolver, valued at $40 in connection with the liquor raid made upon the farm home of Daum Appell, Campground road, Jan. 3.

Other State Witnesses.

The subpoena, issued by Justice M. K. Zimerman, in whose court at Lisbon Cline's preliminary hearing opened shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon, instructed the mayor to bring the search warrant and affidavit on which the raid of the home and the arrest of Appell was based.

I. H. Aaronson, Diamond pawnbroker, in whose store, it is alleged, the revolver was pawned for $10, and Chester Becker, of East End, were also summoned as witnesses for the state.

No subpoenaes for defense witnesses were requested up to noon, Justice Zimerman said. Cline, however, is expected to take the stand to testify in his own behalf.

Hearing In Mayor's Office.

The accused was released on $1,000 bond, signed by W. A. Calhoun, of East Liverpool, at noon Wednesday after he spent 24 hours in a cell in the county jail at Lisbon. He surrendered to the court at noon Tuesday after a constable failed to find him here on Monday evening.

The information against Cline was preferred by Appell, who was committed to the county jail when he was unable to pay a $2,000 fine assessed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the large crowd expected to attend the hearing, the session was transferred to the mayor's office in Lisbon.

Senator Copeland Attacks Coolidge Influence on Bills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—President Coolidge's influence on legislation was condemned from the floor of the senate this afternoon by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, in an attack on the Moses compromise postal rate bill.

Copeland declared the postal measure was "unfair" and "outrageous" he urged his colleagues to shake off the White House influence in voting for the bill and declared he hoped the President's yacht Mayflower would soon be used exclusively for pleasure.

McLain Yellow Cab Co. Signs Contract With Pennsylvania

The McLain Yellow Cab company today signed a contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad company, whereby they obtain the passenger and baggage concession at the Cleveland & Pittsburgh station, East Second street.

Under the provisions of the agreement, it was announced, the taxicab company is given the exclusive right to parking in front of the station and to have solicitors on the railroad company's platform. The company will establish an office at the station, in addition to the headquarters uptown. The fleet of cabs willl be increased from four to six.

SLAYER OF GIRL ELECTROCUTED

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Jan. 30—Peter Virgolini was electrocuted early today for the fiendish murder of last September of nine-year-old Anna Tomsich. He walked with a steady pace to the death chamber, apparently unconcerned as to his fate.

Mayor Brown Metes Out $185.60 Fines to Alleged Gamblers

Fines aggregating $185.60 were assessed by Mayor Brown, last evening, against seven men, arrested yesterday afternoon when Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley raided an alleged gambling house in Center alley.

A. M. Wilson, alleged proprietor, was fined $75 and costs, amounting to $80.60. His son, Francis Wilson, charged with interfering with an officer, was assessed $15 and costs. Five players, alleged to have been participants in the game, Verne Boston, Arnold Nolan, George Conroy, B. Lambright and Frank Hudson, were fined $10 and costs each.

Police say that young Wilson was acting as a lookout for the game and sounded the alarm when he saw the two officers approaching. All the offenders paid their fines or made arrangements to settle.

ICE DAMAGES BELLAIRE FERRY

BELLAIRE, O., Jan. 30—Ice in the Ohio river so badly damaged the Ferry, Charon, that it had to suspend operations today. Hundreds of workers were forced to travel by trolley to Wheeling and thence back to Benwood in order to reach the big steel mills just opposite this city.

A. & P. Tea Store Employes are Guests At Dinner-dance

Managers of the A. & P. tea stores of the East Liverpool-Alliance district and their employes, to the number of about 100, attended a dinner dance held at the Larkins annex, Market street, last evening. Guests were in attendance from Chester, Wellsville, Salem, Sebring, Alliance, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Among the speakers were James Fitsimmons, Pittsburgh, general district superintendent; F. Schenkle, Pittsburgh, district purchasing agent; H. O. Hare, Youngstown, general superintendent Youngstown district; M. P. Ney, Youngstown, superintendent; J. R. Houck, Youngstown, also superintendent; W. R. Marchand, Wheeling, superintendent; L. M. Wallheim, Salem, assistant superintendent.

Musical numbers were furnished by the Troubador quartet and solos given by William Stevenson and William Wood. Dorsey Mann's Swanee Serenaders furnished music for the dance.

The meeting is an annual event among the store managers of the local district being held in the community where the largest sales are reported for the previous year. This is the second successive season that the five East Liverpool stores have topped the list.

New French Envoy Presents Credentials To Nation's Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Emile Daeschner, the new French ambassador, presented his credentials to President Coolidge today.

This routine bit of formality attracted unusual interest in Washington because of the understanding prevailing in administration circles that M. Daeschner will speedily follow it up by undertaking some serious negotiations with this government for the funding of the $4,000,000,000 French war debt.

'JAZZMANIAC,' FACING MOTHER-MURDER CHARGE, FIGHTS FOR HER WOMANHOOD

Dorothy Ellingston, 16-year-old "Tiger Girl," Ready to Battle Against Life Term in Prison.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Again the "Tiger Girl," 16-year-old Dorothy Ellingson, prepared today to fight for the sweet years of her womanhood.

The "Jazz struck" flapper who calmly confessed she killed her mother and then went out to dance and drink gin with "sheiks," the viking blood of her forebears asserting itself, flashed her eyes as she got ready to meet her attorneys who will battle to keep the girl out of San Quentin prison for life.

Juvenile Judge Frank Murasky ruled late yesterday the mother slayer must stand trial for murder in Superior court. With the tranquility and sangfroid that has marked her bearing most of the time since her arrest two weeks ago, Dorothy showed the same fortitude when her hopes for a short term in a girls' reformatory were dashed. A few tears, turned a-glowing beneath her red hair, filled her eyes. Then she clenched her hands and quietly walked to prison.

Leaves City Prison.

The "jazzmaniac" will probably be taken at once to Ingleside jail to be placed behind cell bars while waiting the month or two elapsing before her trial.

Under instructions of Policewoman Kathryn Sullivan, the child murderess packed her belongings ready for transfer from the comfortable city prison.

Unmoved, she crammed into a suitcase the copper-colored dress she

220 STUDENTS OF HIGH SCHOOL PLACED ON RECOGNITION LISTS

Qualify With Grades for Enrollment in Three Groups, With Credit for Good Conduct.

Two hundred and twenty high school students have been placed on the recognition lists as result of their qualifying grades during the last six weeks of school, Miss Florence Updegraff, principal, announced today.

The students have been enrolled in three groups. The first, which contain 46 names, includes those who have grades of 90 or above in four subjects. The second group, 65 students, are those whose grades in three subjects are 90 or above, with the fourth grade not below 80. The third group includes students who have four grades of 80 or above. This classification is the largest, with 109 listed.

Each student placed upon the recognition list is also graded under the citizenship head. This includes regular attendance and good conduct about the building. The vote of the entire faculty confers good citizenship.

Post Recognition Lists

New Recognition lists will be posted at the close of each six weeks of school when report cards are distributed. Special exercises honoring students who have been included in the lists will be conducted at the close of the term. Special recognition will also be given those who complete their courses under special difficulty. There will be special honor to students who qualify for their work on the Keramos, theh igh school maga-

REVIVAL MEET DRAWS LARGELY

Evangelist Kaye Talks to Large Audience Here.

A large crowd was present last night in the Pennsylvania avenue Church of Christ when the Rev. Harry Kaye, of New Castle, Pa., preached on the "Credentials of Jesus," he took his text from the book of John 17:21. This evening his sermon subject will be "Lord To Whom Shall We Go."

Announcement was made that there would be no services on Saturday evening. Sunday morning Rev. Kaye's sermon subject will be "The Highest Service." In the afternoon all young people under the age of fifteen are requested to be present. In the evening his subject will be "Something in East Liverpool that God Won't Forgive."

In his sermon last night he spoke in part as follows:

"Credentials is a letter that tells what the individuals are. Jesus came into the city and said, "I am the son of God" but they demanded his credentials. Jesus has the credentials. He can read men and women's hearts, he knows your heart, I don't. God knows whether you are right or wrong, he is the one that you will have to settle with.

Jesus has power over disease, he went to Peter's wife's mother and Jesus rebuked the fever and she immediately arose and administered to those present. Even the very devil trembles at the name of God. Jesus has power over teh spirit and demons. Since Jesus came into this old world, the idols have disappeared, and we are living in greater harmony than ever before.

Jesus Christ produces another credential, when he overcomes the power of death. A large amount of the people are trying to eliminate these credentials, and how foolish they are. There are some people that do no live five minutes from the gospel and then they are not accepting that joy. Twenty-five per cent of the people go to church and the other seventy-five per cent, go to a ball game, pay to get in and then they think they are having a good time. There are a lot of people that think they are saved mechanically.

Mircales were necessary in the early days of the church but they are not necessary in this day and age. Heaven is a place that we all have to prepare for, if we go to heaven unprepared it would be hell for us. God wants you and I for his service. This is our preparation and if we prepare here we will be able to go with Jesus Christ to the place where he has gone to prepare for you and for me.

Tonight is the time to prepare for that day, now is the very minute that you should accept that blessed Christ that is waiting to take you into his fold, the same as the shepherd takes the little ones into the fold, where they will be protected, well from all the herm that is always near.

Won't you come this night and find that perfect peace?

Scouts Meet Tonight.

Members of the Boy and Girl Scouts of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will meet this evening in the church. Routine business will be transacted.

Food Sale Arranged.

Women of the Second United Presbyterian church will hold a food sale tomorrow afternoon in the Bradmon store, Mulberry street.

Cottage Prayer Meeting.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 this evening in the home of W. L. Mautz, 1833 Michigan avenue. These meetings are under the auspices of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church.

Bear Hunters Loaded For Big Game Find Sleeping Porcupine

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—A cattle buyer recently came into the hamlet of Mountain View with teeth chattering and a tale of a big bear he had seen in the barn of an abandoned farm.

The local Daniel Boones immediately unlimbered their artillery and hastened to the barn, with high hopes of bear skin rugs and bear steak. All they found was an extra large porcupine asleep on a rafter.

First—Stop Pain Don't suffer for an hour

When pain comes, stop it. Be ever ready to stop it quickly, night or day. Don't suffer any pain which a moment of rubbing can stop.

These include pains allied to rheumatism, to soreness, to lameness, to chest colds. They can be stopped at once. For 65 years they have been stopped by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

As for curing the cause of the trouble. Nature usually does that. But don't suffer while you wait. St. Jacobs Oil causes counter irritation. Then it draws the blood to the surface to relieve congestion. In a minute or two you feel that the pain has ebbed. You rejoice in relief.

Perhaps there are other ways. But this is the one way that millions have used—have proved it for 65 years. You can rely on it. Your druggist guarantees it. Why take chances when you know that nothing can be better?

Don't wait for an emergency. It may mean a night of pain. Have St. Jacobs Oil ever ready. Apply it as soon as you feel a pain, or a chest cold. Be ready to soothe it, to check it at once. There will never be a better way. Go get it now to be prepared when pain comes. It may save to you and yours many unhappy hours.

TOKIO — It will cost about $55,000,000 to run the city of Tokio during 1925. The annual budget estimate of Mayor Nakamura amounts to 110,360,000 yen, which is a decrease of 13,200,000 yen as compared with 1924.

How Goiter Affects School Children
MOTHERS SHOULD WATCH FOR THESE SYMPTOMS

A goiter usually develops during the age of puberty or a little earlier. Some cases are noticeable at 10 years of age, but most of the cases occur in the fourteenth and fifteenth years.

Even simple goiter is accompanied by some derangement of the nervous system, manifested in restlessness, nervousness, irritation and more or less insomnia, together with lack of attentiveness and concentration. These things hamper a child or youth in its school work and in its full development mentally and physically. Then in girls the disfigurement of simple goiter is no trifling matter. This has a tendency to make a girl very sensitive, embarrassed and retiring. Although the goiter itself oftentimes subsides, the nervous manifestations may leave a lasting impression upon the person afflicted. Occasionally the enlargement is permanent and sometimes there is a fatal termination.

Since one out of every four or five young girls develops a goiter, it should be welcome news to parents that medical research has found its real cause and that it is within the power of any parent to prevent its occurrence. It has been demonstrated that goiter is due to a deficiency of iodine in food. Table salt is now obtainable at grocery stores which contains a definite amount of iodine, and if this is used in all food, instead of ordinary salt, health authorities state it will prove to be a positive preventive of simple goiter.

AT GROCERS

MULKEY'S IODINE SALT for Goiter prevention comes in 2-lb. round cartons with pouring spout. It is to be used for all household purposes—both in cooking and on the table. The iodine does not change the taste or color. In these respects it is just like any other high grade free running table salt.

Begin using it today—ask your grocer for MULKEY'S IODINE SALT, and be sure the name MULKEY'S is on the label.

MIDLAND

SMITH'S FERRY STATION ENTERED

Railroad officials are making an investigation into the robbery of the Pennsylvania station at Smith's Ferry, Wednesday night, it was announced today.

The lock on the door was jimmeyed, and it is believed that the robbers gained entrance in this way. A trunk was broken into and a suit of clothes; two pairs of trousers, three silk shirts, one 38-calibre-colt revolver, underwear, and some other small articles—were stolen.

The theft was discovered by the station agent yesterday morning, when he came on duty.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE MAKING RECORD

Midland high school basketball team is holding their own with county teams even though they have had no practice or available place to play. The girls defeated the Darlington team 31-16 and the boys 30-12 in the municipal building here Tuesday evening. Coach C. R. Freeble is planning several other games for the team during the next few weeks. Several will be played away from home. The boys team will play against the alumni in the municipal building Saturday evening.

MIDLAND POLICE FORCE IS BUSY

Tom Haley, Midland avenue, was arrested last evening by local police on a charge of drunkenness. John Danny of Midland avenue was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. This Sincere Letter For Surgeons, Physicians, Dentists

We are calling the attention of the good people of East Liverpool and vicinity to the most powerful, non-poisonous, non-alcoholic, non-irritating Antiseptic known Kojene.

In this newspaper we will tell the people, and especially the ailing people to whom it will prove a blessing, just exactly what physical ills it will help, and in spite of our enthusiasm for this wonderful antiseptic will stick to the truth in every statement we make.

We will not exaggerate—although some of the things we write may seem exaggerated.

Nothing equals Kojene for irrigation of the antrum; for Pyorrhea and Gingivitus; for Stomatitis, Trench Mouth, pus pockets and all cases of infection.

Kojene, so we will tell more people who need it, is four times as powerful as an antiseptic than Carbolic Acid. It is much more powerful than poisonous bi-chloride of mercury, and will not burn or even irritate the tenderest membrane.

We will tell the readers of this paper of its wonderful and quickly effective action in Tonsilitis and sore throat; of how completely it drives out the offensive mucous of catarrh and thoroughly cleans the entire nasal tract.

We will tell them of its remarkable success in the treatment of cankers in the mouth and how quickly it succeeds when used for Eczema, itching skin, ulcers, boils and skin eruptions.

And last but by no means least, we will tell them that as a germ destroying mouth wash it is as far ahead of the highly flavored and bubbling kind as daylight is to candlelight.

It is seventy-five times as powerful as the weak kinds whose popularity seems to lie in their weakness and the ignorance of those who use them.

A sixty cent bottle (6 ounces) of Kojene, will make one-half gallon of a stronger, better and more efficient mouth wash than the high priced doubtful ones you buy ready made.

Medical men like to join in any effort to drive menacing poisons from the home and give their support to any great and worthy preparation that destroys pernicious germs and helps humanity—that is just what Kojene does.

In six ounce bottles at Carnahan's Drug Store, Jesse D. Holloway, Mathews' Cut Rate Store and every progressive druggist in America, 60c with the understanding that money will be returned if any purchaser is dissatisfied.

A Richness of Flavor recommends "SALADA" TEA H602 to every discriminating tea drinker. Its freshness and purity are a constant delight. Try it.

Play and Crime Reduction

The chief of police of Memphis, Tenn., is quoted as saying: "There are three departments of our municipal government that can reduce crime. First, our playground and recreation department as an educational and preventive force. The police department comes second, and our courts third."

Apparently the police chief is not the only Memphis citizen who has such belief in the usefulness of parks and playgrounds. Memphis is a city of about 165,000. It spends $337,500 a year on playgrounds and recreation. It has invested $15,000,000 in recreational facilities, which include the setting apart of 1,165 acres of land, 25 neighboring parks, the third largest zoo in the country and an art gallery. There are swimming pools, baseball grounds, golf courses, tennis courts, bridlepaths and beautiful flower gardens in the park system.

Many people regard these things as foolishness and consider the city that pays for them extravagant. Memphis can point to an unusually good record in regard to juvenile delinquency, to physical and moral health for rich and poor citizens and to a decreasing crime record.

Viewed in this light, community playgrounds are worth considerably more than their cost.

Health Examinations

Sarnia, Ont., has just been observing its annual public health week. The special feature of the program, more important than conferences of medical workers and public lectures on health subjects, has been the giving of physical examinations by physicians and dentists.

Hundreds of citizens from the city and the surrounding country districts registered for physical examinations. Eye, ear, nose and throat, and chest specialists, from Sarnia and other Canadian cities, have been working overtime to take care of the people appearing at the clinics. Particularly hopeful is the fact that great numbers of these patients have been children. That means that a good many minor defects, which might become serious ailments if not cared for in childhood, will be discovered and the proper treatment recommended.

Persons interested in public health work in any way have long been urging regular physical examinations for everybody. An annual examination need not always be detailed. It should be sufficiently thorough, however, to disclose the general physical condition. If that is good, then it is likely that there are no hidden diseases at work. If the general condition is not good, then the examination should be made more detailed until the disturbing cause is found. Many ills formerly regarded as inevitable and uncurable can be entirely prevented or completely cured if a regular, annual physical examination is had.

Lives, White and Yellow

The United States has always prided itself on its fair dealing with China, and thereby has often earned the gratitude of that country. Helpless China is not used to being treated fairly. But here is a little matter that invites thought:

Compensation has been recommended to congress for the death of a Chinese boy 11 years old, killed accidentally by a bullet in his garden at Hankow, while an American warship crew were shooting at a target.

A naval inquiry, absolving the crew of blame, concluded that, inasmuch as China had frequently paid $25,000 for the death of an American, the United States should compensate the family of the dead boy "in the sum of $100 gold."

It may be that these contrasting sums represent the relative value of life in China and America—that an American's life is worth 250 times as much as that of a Chinaman's. Yet one wonders what the lad's parents will think about it, and what the Chinese government will think, and what our Asiatic friends in general will think. It doesn't look like anything for the richest nation on earth to brag about.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF GREECE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—One of the organizations undertaking the care of the destitute among the million and a half refugees who sought sanctuary in Greece following the destruction of Smyrna is the American Friends of Greece, which has placed its philanthropic work on the practical basis of helping the unfortunates to help themselves.

This society has its headquarters in Washington. Professor Edward Capps, of Princeton, former American minister to Greece, and former commissioner of the American Red Cross in that country, is the president. The vice presidents are Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, and John Finley, of New York city. Milton E. Ailes, the well known Washington banker, is treasurer, and Henry B. Dewing, of Bowdoin college, secretary. The field representative in Greece is W. Stuart Thompson, supervising architect of the Gennadius library now being erected in Athens by the Carnegie corporation.

The story of the Asia Minor refugees, driven from their homes by the Turks, is a familiar one. They fled into Greece, the only country that would take them in, and most of them arrived there naked, hungry and destitute. Of the total number, thousands have died, and other thousands have become self-supporting.

But it is stated that at least half a million, mostly women and children, are still in dire need of assistance, and that their plight this winter is even worse than it was last winter. Their vitality has been lowered greatly by hardships already endured and by the ravages of malaria and other diseases, and a great majority of the refugees are undernourished, almost to the point of starvation, and are without proper clothing or shelter.

When it is considered that the arrival of the refugees increased the population of Greece by fully 30 per cent, and that prior to their arrival the density of population of the country was about three times greater than that of the United States, it is readily apparent that the problem and burden of caring for them cannot be met by the Greeks themselves, although the Greeks have expended $20,000,000 in that work.

REFUGEE SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The refugee settlement commission was organized in 1923 under an agreement between the Greek government and the league of nations. One of the provisions of the protocol under which the commission was established is that its chairman shall be an American, and the position was filled by Henry Morgenthau, former minister to Turkey, until December last. He was succeeded by Charles P. Howland, a New York attorney.

A loan of 10,000,000 pounds has been floated for the commission, and the fact that such a sum was being raised and that the loan was over-subscribed the first day it was offered to the public has led to a somewhat general impression that ample provision had been made for all that was needed in the way of relief work in Greece.

As a matter of fact this money can only be used for the purpose of permanent installation of the refugees upon land donated by the Greek government. It can be used to erect houses, reclaim land and purchasing farm implements, animals and seed. It cannot be used for food, clothing nor medicine. Thus it affords no aid to women and children who cannot be placed upon farms and made self-supporting in that way. Other relief organizations must carry on in that field.

At the present time the one said to be doing the most for the refugees is the British Save the Children fund, which also has a branch in Canada. This organization is feeding about 50,000 people, mostly children, one meal a day. The Near East relief is now doing nothing for the refugees, its work being confined to the care of the children in its orphanages who were brought over from Asia Minor in 1922. About two-thirds of these children are Armenians, and there are among them no children of Greek refugees.

The American women's hospitals are operating a hospital service at many of the refugee camps, but they do not feed the refugees except such as are in their hospitals. The relief for fatherless children of Greece is caring for children under the same adoption plan which was used for the benefit of the children of the French and Belgian refugees during the World war. This organization is closely affiliated with the American Friends of Greece.

The Catholic Near East Relief Welfare association, which derives its support exclusively from the Catholic church, is raising funds for the erection and maintenance of orphanages in Greece.

THE REFUGEE WORKSHOPS

The Friends of Greece society was created in 1923 for the purpose of informing the American people regarding the condition of the refugees and to assist the regular relief organizations in their work.

"It was not our original intention to raise a relief fund ourselves," says B. P. Salmon, the managing director, "but the withdrawal of the American Red Cross from Greece on July 1, 1923, and the failure of the Near East relief to cope with the situation in Greece made it necessary for us to change our plans and take up the question of relief directly.

"What I have said is not intended in any way as a critisim of either organization mentioned. The Red Cross felt they had done their share when they had met the first shock of the emergency, while the Near East relief have had their hands full taking care of the Armenian orphans already in their institutions.

"Our hopes are now largely centered in our workshops. These have been started on a small scale, but for several months the products of the shops have been arriving in the United States and we find them readily salable. Every cent received goes back into the fund and we are trying to raise a much larger amount so as to take on several thousand more women and girls, saving them from the utter destitution and hopelessness of the bread lines of the refugee camps, and making them again self-supporting, self-respecting members of the communities in which they live.

"Our organization is working one a very small expense account. None of the officers draws any money either in the way of salaries or expense allowances, and on the contrary all of them are contributing a great deal of the clerical work through their own offices. So far it has been possible to dispose of the products of the workshops through volunteers, so we have no expenses for salesmen or paid promoters."

Practically all the refugee women and girls, many of whom are of gentle birth, are skilled in native embroidery and needlework, it is said, and they require only raw materials and a place in which to work. Hence, the organization has found that a comparatively little money goes a long ways and accomplishes much in helping them to help themselves.

DINNER STORIES

It was after dinner and the talk had turned to psychology. This disturbing question had just been put: "When does old age really begin?"

To establish a formula was proving rather difficult, when one lady, who did not look her years, found the following:

"To me, old age is always 15 years older than I am."

A schoolmaster had been giving his class a lesson in physical geography, and had explained that the world is made up of land and water.

Then, in order to see if they had been paying attention, he asked: "Now, boys, can you tell me what it is land and water make?"

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Score another one for George Bernard Shaw!

"Why did you write St. Joan?" Shaw was asked, just as he was starting for Madeira to take a sunbath cure.

"To save her for John Drinkwater," came back Shaw's quick reply, accompanied by a twinkle of the Shavian eyes.

There is a legend that the English have no sense of humor. Some of them have, but it's a different sort of sense of humor.

Ask Sinclair Lewis. He knows.

Lewis has an English friend who is a bookseller. On his recent visit to London Lewis went to call on his friend in his shop, advising him by telephone that he was coming.

When Lewis started to browse around the shop he suddenly stopped and opened his eyes in wide amazement. There he saw before him a shelf stocked with "first editions" of "Babbitt" and "Main Street," marked with price marks that would take the breath away from almost anyone.

"Good heavens!" Lewis exclaimed, at least that is the parlor version of his ejaculation. "What rot! People nowadays will collect anything and pay for it."

Now Lewis won't admit that the English haven't a sense of humor.

James Cox Brady, the American millionaire, is the owner of a famous ghost. Brady married Lady Victoria Perry, daughter of Lady Limerick. He has recently taken over the historic 600-year-old mansion of Lady Limerick near Bexley eath, and with the mansion goes the ghost of the Black Prince. Lady Limerick's friends claim that she is authority for the statement that on three recent occasions the ghost of the Black Prince has been seen about the manse, where he wooed and won the Fair Maid of Kent and then set out for the battlefield of Crecy.

Man seems to be the sinner in England, if divorce records are any criterion. During 1919, 1920 and 1921 husbands were in the majority in filing suits for divorce. Now conditions have changed, and with a change in the laws which makes it possible for a wife to divorce a husband for misconduct, the majority of divorce petitions are being filed by wives.

Mrs. J. M. McVittie, of New York, has started a new vogue. She recently had her diamond necklace unstrung and used some of the largest stones to adorn the corsage of her frock. The stones were attached in no set fashion, but were scattered here and there over the front of the gown, which caused a sensation in the Savoy ballroom.

The hunt season is nearly over and the Prince of Wales up to now hasn't had a spill. Maybe Will Rogers gave him the secret when they met on Long Island.

A double royal wedding is predicted for 1925 by the society gossips of Britain.

The two prospective bridegrooms are Prince Henry and Prince George, the king's two youngest sons, and their brides will be Lady May Cambridge and Lady Betty Thynne, daughter of the Marquis of Bath.

Both are lovely and vivacious girls, but while Lady Betty prefers a quiet country life, Lady May is a great dancer and a favorite partner of the royal family.

Prince George is a fine upstanding figure and the best looking of the royal house; he is a keen soldier and works just as hard as any other regimental officer. His brother is a sub-lieutenant in the navy and worked his way up from the bottom like the rest of the service.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Chinatown at dusk. "Two Gun" Murphy of the narcotic squad. Small, wiry and a scrapper. Slip-slopping ancients with arms in their sleeves. Printers in the morning newspaper shops.

The balcony of the Port Arthur. Hung with lanters. "Old Horse and Wagon," the only Chinese beggar in the quarter. The nightly trail to the joss house. And the far away beat of a tom-tom. Musty shops displaying dried fruit and lechee nuts.

Children in flowered kimonos. Playing hopscotch. Yap wagon guides leading the faithful. Policemen strolling in pairs. Shuttered upstairs windows where white wives live. The old Chinese theater—now an all night mission.

Chatham Square with its clatter and bang. Dope vendors. Fortune tellers. Flower sellers. Bootblacks and sailors. The curious blowziness of the down-and-outers. Mumbling lips. Unshaven chins. And the hang-dog look of the thoroughly beaten.

Lurid movie posters. Men warming their hands over charcoal in areaways. Shawled women. Whatever became of the russet apple? Beefsteak John's. Shadowy and sawdusty. Dead wires—crossed and crossed and crossed. What a frightful thing poverty is.

Park Row's fanfaronade. Brisk merchants. Endless carts. Baxter street clothing shops. The wail of an accordion. The cobbled stone street that leads to the river. Why does a man always want to spit off the end of a dock?

The rumble roar under Brooklyn bridge. Old women selling newspapers. The white haired blind fiddler who is ever smiling. Scattered paper over City Hall park. The mayor's car. An Englishman steps in a taxi and tells the driver to "Flip along!"

This is a dog story. The people who own him carry him about wherever they go. He is paralyzed and cannot walk. And how his legs came to be paralyzed is that one day when a child of the family was sitting in a garden a centipede fell on her shoulder. The dog, sensing danger, with a quick stroke of his paw knocked the centipede off. But the centipede got the dog. He can never walk again. And writes a man who loves dogs: "And when the folks all go away from here to set their feet in the fields of asphodel don't you think they will want to take the dog along? And don't you think that God will let him in?" The answer is easy. Of course He will.

Old Bart, who has presided at the stage door of the New Amsterdam for many years, is going to retire. For many years he has sat in his cane bottomed chair, smoking his pipe—a rather odd figure in the tinseled world. Old Bart was a sort of father confessor for the gay creatures who passed him night after night. He sent many stage door Johns away and encouraged young girls to read, offering them good books from his little library.

There is always something gay and refreshing about a sudden rain to me. I like the blunder of thunder and the splashing and sluicing of the downpour. There is sense to the saying "Right as rain." I was caught in a shower on Forty-second street and groups clotted in doorways to wait for it to pass. There was something comfortable in our isolation and all began to talk—something unusual for New Yorkers suddenly cast together. I think the rain brightened their spirits. It made an otherwise diffident group very human.

True, America justly claims supremacy in the murder rate, but some of the murders lately have been very crude and amateurish.

Public oratory isn't all bad. Some of the speeches made in Washington lately would have been worth real money on the chautauqua circuit.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

"TAKE HEED?" WHY SHOULD WE?

The proposed constitutional amendment that would enable congress to regulate child labor is evidently defeated. That is an interesting test of United States civilization, and answers the red-blooded 100 per cent Americans who deny that money is the main power here.

Very interesting is the objection to any interference with child labor for fear it might interfere with the usefulness of children in religious and other institutions. The founder of Christianity would be interested to find his professional followers fighting an amendment that would save children from shameful exploitation in mills, mines and factories.

The warning against hurting one of these little ones because "their angels do always behold the face of my Father, which is in Heaven," must not be taken too seriously where cash profits are concerned.

SELF DETERMINATION BOSH

"Danger of setting all Croatia in flames and smashing the Jugo-Slavian kingdom," says the newspaper headline. Many of the artificially created "self-determining" governments, established after the war, will be smashed, or absorbed by stronger powers before long.

Self determination is a pleasing expression, but does not mean much as the story told and the strength shown, through centuries, not any burst of sentiment, following war, determines a people's fate. Those that could not govern themselves before the war do not become suddenly capable merely because the allies beat Germany. Foolish is the power that sets up a nation, or an individual in business for himself, unless nation or individual has proved his fitness. Merely wishing for self-government does not constitute capacity for self-government.

Ask Egypt or the Philippines.

NEITHER RATS NOR HUMANS

Mrs. Rosella Pyne has still to learn that sad experience is the only teacher.

To frighten away rats she kept on her bureau a loaded pistol with a piece of cheese just in front of the muzzle. Said she:

"They'll go to the cheese, see that my pistol is loaded, then run away from my apartment, for fear I'll shoot them."

Foolish hope.

Not even human beings are as intelligent as that. A little while ago they looked into the barrel of a gun labeled war. It went off and killed 20,000,000 of them. But even that won't make them keep away from war. They used to hang murderers in public and other criminals gathered to see. But that did not stop murders.

Congress, having decided to turn over the people's property at Muscle Shoals to a private concern, shows that it cares little for public opinion. But it does not show complete lack of intelligence. It objects to having Senator Norris on the committee chosen to adjust matters between house and senate. That's intelligent. A man like Norris, honest, able, belligerent and not afraid to call a senator a grafter when he happens to be a grafter, can be a great nuisance on an important committee.

REAL REMEDIES

When there is real sickness you need a real remedy. At Nome, in Alaska, there is an epidemic of diphtheria and none of the antitoxin that cures diphtheria.

The epidemic will proceed and many will die until the antitoxin can be provided. Then the danger will pass. It takes real science to combat a real disease.

Those that deny the value and power of scientific vaccination belong in the lower kindergarten grades. Such a statement annoys many well meaning souls, but that can't be helped. Others of the same type are annoyed if you say that Shakespeare wrote his own plays, and a few still resent it if you insist that the earth is round.

Jacksonville proposes to regulate "jay walking" by law. The pedestrian who often acts as if his life were of little consequence, will be compelled to walk the streets as though he knew that automobiles exist. Reading newspapers as you cross the street, or rushing into the road with your head turned backward to wave at your loved ones, is apt to make the loved ones miss you for all time.

WHO'S WHO

EVERETT SANDERS.

The next right-hand man of President Coolidge, Everett Sanders, of Terre Haute, Ind., was born in a log cabin on a small farm in Clay county, that state, 43 years ago.

Sanders takes the place of C. Bascom Slemp, millionaire, as secretary to the president, the closest official position to the chief executive.

E. SANDERS

Sanders was one of nine children, four of whom are living. His father farmed six days and preached no Sunday in the Baptist mission church in Lewis township, Clay county. Everett Sanders is a member of this congregation. One of his brothers is the minister, although he mines coal six days a week.

Everett Sanders worked on his father's farm as a boy, attended the country schools and worked his way through the state normal school at Terre Haute, and in spare time clerked in a shoe store.

At normal he met Miss Ella Neal, of Jasonville, Ind. They were married soon after they started teaching. Sanders first taught a country school, the one in the city of Brazil.

A year after marriage the Everett Sanders, as they will be termed in the Washington society columns, enrolled as students in Indian university at Bloomington, where he was a "barb"—a non-fraternity man—captain of the basketball team, president of the law class and manager of a boarding club.

Mrs. Sanders was one of the club members and paid for her meals. To occupy his time—and add to his funds—Sanders clerked in Ed Whetsell's shoe store.

Sanders successfully practiced law in Terre Haute until he came to congress March 4, 1917. His first important vote was on the declaration of war. He and Slemp were good friends. Sanders is on the house steering committee and the interstate and foreign commerce committees. He attarcted considerable attention at the last session by a remarkably strong speech against the Howell-Barkley bill.

President Coolidge's attention was attracted to Sanders' service in the house. In the recent national campaign, William M. Butler, Republican national chairman, appointed Sanders chairman of the speakers' bureau.

The principal reason for the president's choice of Sanders as secretary was the congressman's knowledge of the house and its members. The well for the comfort of several over whom he used president knows the senate as well as anyone, too to preside, but without Slemp he might be a little shy of "dope" on the doings at the other end of the capitol. With Sanders at his side he'll get all the information he'll need about the representatives.

Only eight college graduates in Sing Sing, the the warden reports, which isn't enough for a sing-out on the prison campus.

POTTERY NIGHT SERVICE HELD

'Earthen Vessels" Topic of Sermon by Dr. Lockhart.

Table ware, the product of East Liverpool pottery plants, was, figuratively speaking, showered upon Evangelist W. J. Lockhart and his song assistants, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Harbinson, at the revival service at the First Church of Christ, Fourth and College streets, last night.

It was "Pottery Night" in the revival campaign and a large delegation of pottery workers attended the service in a body. Dr. Lockhart spoke on the subject "Earthen Vessels" during his discourse. His sermon was a tribute to the "men and women who toil". In this connection he recited a poem, "The Glory of Toil", in which a high tribute was paid the laboring classes.

"I want to express my appreciation here tonight for having had the opportunity of knowing the people of East Liverpool and your industry," the evangelist said." You will always have a place in my life and you will not lose anything for my having been here, for as you may have noticed I preach very much out of my own life. And as I travel throughout the country you may be sure East Liverpool and her ceramic industry will frequently come out.'

"Heaven," Topic Tonight.

"I was to say to you and assure you that it is not idle talk when I say that I have been in many industrial centers and seen all kinds of workers, but I have never seen as clean-appearing, not as apparently healthy, wholesome, genial courteous and as Christian a bunch of workmen in any industry before."

Alaska's Dog Teams

lief should have been sent to the disease menaced city long ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Nome, Alaska, the city stricken by an epidemic of diphtheria, today appealed for aid in a radiogram received by International News Service, San Francisco.

The mayor's message said:

"Advocate rushing anti-toxin to Nome from Nenana. Conditions very serious."

Mayor Maynard's radiogram here contradicted a statement made by public health officials in Seattle who declared late yesterday that conditions in Nome were "markedly improved."

Mayor Maynard's message did not state how many persons had died in Nome. The latest reports gave the number of epidemic deaths as five.

Creek Driver Nears Goal.

ON THE TRAIL TO TANANA, Alaska, Jan. 30 — Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning Dan Green, third relay man in the dash with diphtheria serum to Nome, was 42 miles below Tanana.

He passed Tanana at 12:30 o'clock after driving all through the night. The weather was 45 degrees below zero.

ACHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 30.—With strained muscles and harness in an effort to bring life-giving anti-toxin into diphtheria-stricken Nome, the strongest, fleetest dogs in Alaska sped relief today in their "death race" northward.

Over snow and ice-covered trails in the bitter cold of the Arctic raced Dan Green, the third champion dog racer of the North relaying serum to the disease ravaged city.

Protect Anti-Toxin.

Green left Hot Springs late yesterday afternoon and last night was reported not far from Tanana.

In the light sled which Green's dogs are pulling rested a 20-pound package of the 1,000,000 anti-toxin units, which will save hundreds of lives in Nome providing the race against disease is won.

The package was heavily wrapped in blankets to prevent freezing and breaking of the containers.

Green, who is one of the best known of Alaska's weather-hardened men famous for their fast traveling dog teams, expected to reach Ruby tonight, where Leonard Seppala, three times champion of the Yukon dog derby, is speeding southward from Nome.

Seppala, his dog team led by the famous derby winners, "Scotty" and "Togo", will receive the serum from Green at Ruby and turning tail, make the final dash of 200 miles back to Nome, traveling across the snow-coated ice of Norton bay.

Cross Ice-Coated Bay

Wireless reports here today said the madly racing mushers would not make a detour around Norton bay on land but would speed across the ice from Bonanza to Elim, a distance of 100 miles.

village lies directly wast of the railroad tracks and opposite the northern part, which was practically wiped out by flames only a year or so ago, and which, in the interim, has been rebuilt.

As a result of the other disastrous fire which visited the village, business houses in general are carrying full fire insurance, it was reported. It is believed that the majority of the buildings burned last night were covered.

A number of families, living in second story rooms in the destroyed buildings, were taken into the homes of friends.

Dr. Paul Kammerer Warns Cigaret-smoking, Gin-drinking and Thin-hosed Flapper in Chicago Lecture.

By SARAH BROWN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. — Papa may think that his young daughter has no business to come in at 3 a. m. from a night of jazz and joy.

Mama may be sorrowful at her cigarets and slang words, at her gin capacity and her thin hose, and at her favorite topics of conversation.

And daughter may say to her scandalized parents: "Just wait until I'm grown up and have children and I won't be shocked at everything they do."

But even the hardest boiled young "Sheba" of today may get a shriek or two in the future from her offsprings, if she has any.

For Dr. Paul Kammerer, famous scientist from the University of Vienna, who is lecturing in Chicago, has a statement to make about the characters which the children of tomorrow will, in all probability, possess.

Pickup New Ideas.

"It is now being proved," Dr. Krammerer said, "almost beyond doubt that the characteristics acquired by an individual in his own lifetime may be passed in some measure onto his offspring.

"In other words, it is very possible that the daughters of tomorrow will possess many or most of the characteristics of their mothers—our girls of today.

"In addition they will pick up enough new ideas of their own to be just a step or two ahead of the most modern youngsters of the present time.

"They'll be the same thing, only more so."

Inherit Characteristics.

He had several other remarks to make regarding the behavior of the present generation and its effect on future ones.

"It is left in our hands to use our inherited acquired characteristics to regenerate or to degenerate the race" he said.

"For instance, in all probability, if Americans would obey their prohibition law, in a very few generations there would be no need for it. Their descendants would lose their taste for alcohol.

"As matters now stand, that taste may be developed in the future.

"Furthermore, if girls and women persist in smoking their descendants are going to be born with a desire to smoke.

"Gradually this will materially affect the birth rate. The more a woman is addicted to tobacco the fewer children she will have.

"Of course, these statements are made only as a result of experiments on annimals and on observation of human statistics. We cannot look into the future and predict exactly."

standing by the stricken naval craft, indicated that she was in danger of going down and that she had a hole stove in her bottom.

Attempt to Tow Craft.

As the tide slackened, however, efforts were to be made, radiograms to shore from the rescue ships said, to tow the S-48 to the Portsmouth navy yard.

In a blinding snow storm obscuring vision and in the teeth of a biting northeast gale, the big naval submarine was tossed up last night on the rocks at the mouth of Little harbor.

Through the spinning foam and the swirling snow, coast guardsmen on short first saw her red rockets of distress and the naval operator at the wireless station at the local navy yard picked up her calls of "S. O. S."

Coast Guardsmen R sk Lives.

Coast guardsmen risked their lives in the 50-mile an hour gale to launch a lifeboat to go to the rescue of the stranded submarine.

As dawn began to break a breeches buoy apparatus was set up at Fort Stark, New Castle, but high seas prevented its use.

Fear for the brave naval men aboard the submarine were expressed on all sides among the watchers on shore.

Tractors had smashed their way through the snow drifts on the beach roads to Fort Stark. In their wake came motor ambulances carrying blankets and medical supplies.

Lights went out on the submarine and this gave the shore watchers more concern.

Crack in One of Seams.

This morning, however, when the tide came in, the big underseas boat began to ease off the rocks at Little harbor. Later she started to float seaward.

By this time rescue ships had come up. It was deemed wise to take off part of the crew. The 20 men left aboard were manning the pumps. It was thought that the S-48 had a crack in one of her seams and was leaking slightly.

Giant seas were breaking over the submersible as she lay riding out the gale a mile and a half off shore.

No Injuries Reported.

First S-48 Was Sunk.

The S-48 was enroute from New London, Conn., to the local navy yard when she crashed onto the rocks.

The submarine tender Chewink and the submarine S 51 accompanied the S-48 here. The other two craft are safe.

Lieut. Commander Stewart E. Bray of New London, Conn., was in command of the S-48. The submarine's displacement is 1,100 tons. She has a cruising radius of 8,000 miles.

The first S-48 of the United States navy sank in Long Island sound off Fairfield, Conn., in December, 1921, while undergoing a trial trip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The navy submarine S-48, which went aground near the entrance of the harbor at Portsmouth, N. H., last night, drifted off the rocks early today and entered the inner harbor, according to a dispatch to the navy department.

Advices to the chief of naval operations from the commandant of the Porthmouth navy yards indicated that the submarine had freed itself without assistance and without material damage to the hull.

No injuries were reported among the crew of 36 men aboard.

Reports to the United States coast guard said that two cutters went to the assistance of the submarine early last evening, but that heavy seas prevented the crews from getting a line aboard the stranded vessel.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A sharp rebound in prices of the oil, motor and industrial stocks took place immediately after the opening of the market today. Most of the stocks which had been thrown overboard in Thursday's final scramble for profits were again under accumulation, and a number of the railroad stocks, under the leadership of Southern Railway displayed conspicuous strength.

The old stocks were the most active in this period and practically all of the leading independent and Standard oil shares showed a decided reversal of form from the last hour of Thursday. The Humble Oil company announced another advance in gasoline prices and the Gulf Oil company marked prices one cent higher to correspond with the latest revision of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. New high price records for the move, which in many cases were the highest prices since 1923, were made by Sinclair at 24, Shell Union at 27⅞; Maracabo at 32¼; Independent Oil and Gas at 20¾; Royal Dutch above 56; Cosden at 33⅜.

Southern Railway sold up three points at 84½, the highest in its history at the head of a modest rally in the railway shares, in which New York Central, Atchison and Union Pacific participated.

Mack trucks sold above 139 for a gain of five points as rumors persisted that this company was to be taken over by General Motors. Studebaker gained 1½ points in anticipation of a favorable annual report to be issued in about one week. Commercial solvents gained another 10 points each. American Can, ex-dividend, 3½ points, sold at the equivalent of 169½. American Woolen and American Sugar were not able to stage much of a comeback and United States Steel sold fractionally lower in most of its transactions.

Grain markets were reactionary at the opening, cotton firm, foreign exchange steady. Call money renewed at 3½ per cent.

morning has piled the snow into six foot drifts in many places here.

Heavy falls of snow in the Rochester, Syracuse and Utica sections caused delay in the arrival of westbound trains in Buffalo this morning. Central and Lackawanna trains were delayed from one to three hours. Erie trains came in on time. About four inches of snow fell here last night.

BINGHAMTON, Jan. 30.—Binghamton was practically snowbound today as more than 20 inches of snow lay over the city. Eighteen inches had fallen in the last 24 hours and the skies were still shedding a light fall. Traffic was moving but badly disrupted.

Electric cars between Binghamton and Endicott were snowbound over night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—New York skidded and sloshed to work today. Following an inch and a half snow fall late yesterday, heavy rain last night turned streets and sidewalks into treacherous paths of slush and ice.

Although 10,000 men were reported at work clearing the streets, the continued fall and freezing has made the work difficult.

were when she shot down her mother from behind. With the same hands that killed, she rather tenderly brushed a rust colored hat, given her as a birthday gift by the dead mother. On top of her clothes she packed in a copy of Oscar Wilde's poems and a package of letters written to her from all parts of the country.

Investigate Police Tactics.

In the re-telling of Dorothy's crime nothing new was brought out by the testimony before Judge Murasky except that police officers who obtained the girl's confession shortly after her arrest, made admissions which may result in an investigation of their tactics.

The officers testified they had not cautioned the 16-year-old child that anything she might say would be used against her.

Instead, it was testified the girl was rushed before two policemen and in the hours of dawn, alone and unguided, she dictated the mother-slaying confession.

Attorneys for the girl fought bitterly to prevent introduction of the confession at Dorothy's hearing yesterday.

Means Found Guilty

J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice under Daugherty.

Charged They Obtained $65,000.

The defendants, it was charged, obtained $65,000 from certain defendants in the mail fraud case growing out of the Crager company's sale of stock in the glass casket company.

Means, Felder and Jarnecke, the government alleged, told these defendants that they could obtain dismissal of the indictments against them.

Felder's and Means' defense was that Jarnecke, Isaac Padorr of Chicago and the latter's financial backer, Samuel Schmidt, conspired to swindle the casket defendants, using Means' name for that purpose without the detective's knowledge.

SOCIETY

Organize Mothers' Club at Meet in Church of Christ

A Mother's club was organized yesterday afternoon, in the First Church of Christ, with Mrs. C. R. Reese presiding. The meeting opened with devotionals, in which Mrs. Reese outlined the Bible story of Hannah and her son, Samuel. H. J. Harbinson, the evangelistic singer, sang "Mother." Rev. B. R. Johnson gave a short address on the work of Mothers' clubs.

During the business session, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Ben Galloway; vice president, Mrs. Phyllis Glynn; recording secretary, Mrs. Lottie Tracey; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. O'Hara; program committe, Mrs. C. R. Reese, Mrs. John Green and Mrs. Addie Jones; refreshment committee for the next meeting, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Leigh Moffett, Mrs. Elmer Crawford, Mrs. Howard Woodburn and Mrs. C. H. O'Hara.

These meetings will be held the third Thursday in each month.

Amity Bible Class Party.

The Amity Bible class of the First Methodist Protestant church entertained last evening in the social room. A short business session was held, with Mrs. Harvey Nelson, president of the class, in charge. The following program, arranged by Mrs. Newton Lane, was presented:

Vocal duet—Mrs. Pansy McDonald and Miss Sara Hargreaves.
Reading—Mrs. Emmett Wilson.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Charles H. Risinger.
Reading—Mrs. Bert Kaufmann.
Piano duet—Miss Mary Eva Karl and Miss Hannah Wilson.

A dainty luncheon was served during the social hours by the social committee, which was composed of Mrs. Florence Fowler, Mrs. Carl Kennedy, Mrs. Lucy Smith, Mrs. John Porter and Mrs. Kirby Stottlemire.

Birthday Anniversary Observed.

The twelfth birthday anniversary of Margaret Jean Shaw was celebrated recently in her home in Minerva street. Juvenile games were enjoyed during the social hours, a guessing contest being featured. Trophies were awarded Virginia Wingrove, Mary Harding and Mary Edith Wildblood. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Chester Dornan, and grandmother, Mrs. John Gilmore, assisted by Mrs. Forrest Bennett. Covers were arranged for Misses Ruth Orr, Dorothy Shultz, Virginia Louise Bennett, Mary Harding, Margaret VanVlack, Opal Brown, Jean Dornan, Margaret Jean Shaw, Virginia Wingrove, Elizabeth Peppin, Virginia Skidmore, Mary Edith Wildblood, Mabel Smith and Daisy Gilmore.

ROAD PROGRAM IS DISCUSSED

Commissioners Meet With Officials in Joint Session.

A general discussion of the road improvement program as has been so far outlined was featured during a joint conference between the County Commissioners, Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes and County Auditor C. E. Hamilton Thursday.

The commissioners will go to Columbus next week to discuss the county road program with the state highway department, leaving Monday afternoon, following their usual Monday session.

There has been set aside for road purposes on the general duplicate a levy of $2.20 per thousand of valuation, but this money is for county road purposes only.

In addition to the county road fund, various taxing districts of the county have made their individual road levies, nad these levies range from 86c to $3 per thousand of valuation.

It has been indicated by the commissioners frequently that it is the purpose of the board to improve roads that will result in the most good to the greatest number of people.

It is reasonable to believe that the Wellsville-Salineville road will be surfaced in Yellow Creek township this year if it is at all possible to reach this phase of the improvement.

Contracts have been awarded for the surfacing of the only open section of this road in Washington township, and the grading on the Yellow Creek section has been in progress for some months. This work will continue throughout the winter, and it is possible that the grading will be finished by March or April, weather permitting.

That the East Rochester-North Georgetown road will be surfaced this year there is no doubt. Bids are now being sought on this job, and as it is a county-township project, the contract is to be awarded by the county commissioners. This road has been graded for several years, and when finished will add over six miles of additional improved highway to the present county record.

Improvement of the Hanover-Salem road is also another road project that is being given serious consideration. Hanover township is in a position to go through with the grading of this road from Hanover to the Hanover-Butler township line. The section of this highway in Butler township has been graded for several years.

With these road projects out of the way, it is very likely that the commissioners will give attention to road projects in other parts of the county.

Sunday Bus Service Suspended.

Sunday passenger service between Lisbon and New Galilee over the P. L. & W. railroad has been suspended until spring, at least. The motor bus that has been operating over this road will continue to make its weekly trips. The operation of the bus on Sunday has not been profitable.

Granted Leave of Absence.

In the case of the State of Ohio, on relation of C. C. Crabbe, attorney general, for and on behalf of Columbiana county against George B. Williams, wherein a claim is set up for judgment for $877.56, the court has granted leave to the defendants to answer by Feb. 28th.

Alleged Alimony.

Temporary alimony in the amount of $50 within 10 days and $30 on the 1st and 15th of each month thereafter until further order of common pleas court has been allowed Hilda Osborne in her divorce action against her husband Clarence Osborne.

Woman Granted Divorce.

Judge James G. Moore in common pleas court has granted a decree of divorce to Mary P. Loganecker against her husband, Dewey Loganecker. Her petition was filed by Attorneys Metzgar & McCarty of Salem. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, that of Mary Pasco.

Case Adjusted

Adjustment has been made in the $50,000 damage case filed against the Y. & O. railroad by Merle D. Halverstaldt, according to a record just filed in common pleas court. The action has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at the costs of the [illegible].

WOMEN AND WAR INCREASE SALE OF CIGARETTES

Decrease in Use of Cigars as "Fags" Boom.

FEDERAL REPORT

Department of Commerce Official Gives Tobacco Figures.

WASHINGTON, Jan. — The outstanding feature of the tobacco industry in the past decade has been the vast increase in cigarette consumption in all parts of the world, says T. L. Hughes, chief of the tobacco section of the Department of Commerce, in a report on the international trade in leaf and manufactured tobacco.

This trend, according to Mr. Hughes, developed during the war years and has steadily gained momentum. The more general use of cigarettes by women in all countries has given a further impetus to this movement. The consumption of cigars, however, during this period, due chiefly to the curtailed purchasing power in many of the larger consuming countries, has registered a marked decline.

As in indication of the increased use of cigarettes it is pointed out that in the decade of 1913-23 consumption in the United States gained fourfold, increasing from 15,000,000,000 in 1913 to 63,000,000,000 in 1923; in Japan, threefold, from 7,000,000,000 to 23,000,000,000, and in Germany almost twofold, from 12,000,0000,000 to 23,000,000,000. Sweden consumed 275,000,000 cigarettes annually during the years 1911 to 1916, compared with about 825,000,000 in each year from 1916 to 1920. Belgium is now consuming 5,500,000,000 cigarettes annually; Austria, 4,000,000,000; Hungary, 3,200,000,000, and France more than 4,750,000,000.

The consumption of cigarettes in Denmark has increased from 139 per capita in 1913 to 246 per capita in 1922, or a total consumption of 950,000,000 in the latter year. The popularity of the cigarette in Italy is shown by the increase from 2,690,450,000, consumed in 1914, to 7,721,168,000 in 1922, or 187 per cent.

Strange as it may seem the report states that the consumption of tobacco is probably influenced as little by the economic conditions or prosperity of a people as that noted in any commodity. Absence of prosperity among a people may cause a reversion from the use of the more expensive to the cheaper forms of tobacco. This is corroborated by the fact that although the United States is the richest nation per capita in the world, it has not the largest consumption of tobacco.

In recent years leaf tobacco alone has formed approximately 8 per cent of all agricultural products exported from the United States, being relatively of more importance than our export trade in meats. This country is by far the most important producer and exporter of tobacco, but strong competition has developed from a number of other countries, including the Dutch East Indies, Brazil and Greece.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

First CASH AWARDS to be announced March 17, 1925.

IN the most dramatic movement ever heralded in the interest of Musical America, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, one of the strongest institutions financially in the United States, is offering $5,000 in monthly cash prizes, in a nation-wide "music memory" contest.

The offer is made without reservations. It is open to every man, woman and child in America. And everyone is invited. There is no obligation.

You are neither required nor requested to buy anything or to render any service in order to enter—or to win.

The only persons excluded are employes of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, the Radio Corporation of America and the artists, orchestras and musicians whose selections are to be broadcast in the contest.

Contest blanks now here—free

Briefly, the purpose of the contest is to emphasize the remarkable musical possibilities of radio as recently attained through the combination of the miracle of Radio, the Radiola of the Radio Corporation of America, and the world-noted Brunswick Phonograph. And to enable people to attain a more thorough appreciation and understanding of good music.

Starting Tuesday evening, February 3, 1925, and for every Tuesday during each month, until further notice, certain Brunswick artists, orchestras and singers, among them famous stars of the New Hall of Fame, will perform via radio their selections to be broadcast through stations listed.

Your object is to identify the name of the artists and the selections.

Complete details are on the contest blank. Also the names of the artists, and a list of selections from which the contest program will be taken.

Call for your blank

Call and we will gladly give you a contest blank.

Owing to the tremendous interest this contest is creating, we suggest your coming early.

Be sure to enter. Arrange to receive the program in your home over your Brunswick Radiola, and invite your friends in to do so with you. We'll give you blanks for the occasion.

Billion Fish Eggs Planted.

Canada, a sportsman's paradise in many respects, has no intention of letting its fishing retreats run dry. During 1924 the inland lakes and rivers in Canada received more than 900,000,000 young fish and eggs to replenish them. The varieties released were salmon, white fish, perch, bass and pike. More white fish than any other were distributed because of their popularity.

ANTI-PISTOL LAW PROPOSED

Measure Introduced in Lower House Carries Severe Penalties.

Severe penalities are prescribed in a bill introduced in the house of delegates by Delegate Wood Taylor of Roane county, regulating the possession, sale and use of pistols and revolvers. Any person committing or attempting to commit a crime when armed with a revolver shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than five nor more than ten years.

The bill provides second or third offenses are punishable for double or triple the penalty. Fourth offenders may be sentenced to perpetual punishment. Possession of a pistol would be prima facie evidence of intention to commit a felony.

The measure would prohibit unnaturalized persons or second offenders from owning a pistol, violation to be punished by five years imprisonment. Carrying of revolvers on person or in an automobile would be punishable by one year in prison.

In certain instances, justices, sheriffs, chiefs of police or judges may issue licenses to persons making application to carry revolvers. It would be unlawful to sell or give pistols to persons under 18 or to unnaturalized persons.

Signing of prescribed blanks would be required of other purchasers of firearms.

YOUR HEALTH

Short Fasts Surely Help to Renew Your Youth

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

IN Chicago they have been making some interesting experiments. The head of the department of physiology in the University of Chicago fasted for fifteen days. He believes the experience renewed the youthfulness of his tissues.

According to the report I saw, a fast of this length increases the powers of the body to take care of food. It appears to store up energy. The supply of gastric juices is added to and on this account food is more readily digested.

There is no suffering involved after the first pangs of hunger disappear. Gradual weakening of strength is observed, but aside from this nothing disagreeable is noted.

The average person "feels weak and "faint" if he does not get his meal right on time. Much of this sensation is psychological. We are creatures of habit. Unless the food is ready we look for some sign of bodily protest and of course we get it.

Mother worries tremendously if the baby is "off its feed" and refuses to eat. She looks for the little one to grow weak and to suffer seriously for lack of food.

As a matter of fact, even a tiny babe can do without nourishment for a surprising time. If the digestion is upset, it is far better to cut off food than to overtax a weakened stomach.

I am not sure that long fasts are productive of practical good. Usually, disordered digestion is the result of bad eating habits. Unless these habits are overcome, there will be a speedy return of the symptoms on resuming regular eating.

There is at least one lesson and a good one in the Chicago experiments. If a man can go two weeks, without any food at all and suffer no more inconvenience than a gradual weakening of strength, why should you eat so much food at each meal? Why not reduce your intake and relieve the pressure on your vital organs?

Life is shortened by overeating. Too much strain is placed on stomach, kidneys, liver and indeed all the organs. It is a foolish habit and should be curbed.

It is hard to control appetite but to do so is a wise thing. Even though you do not fast for fifteen days, try it now and then for fifteen hours at least, at a stretch. It will do you good.

Answers to Health Questions

J. M. B. Q.—What should a woman of 45, 5 feet, 2½ inches tall weigh?

2.—What are the symptoms of cancer?

A.—She should weigh about 140 pounds.

2.—They are very numerous and depend upon the part of the body affected. A thorough examination and X-ray will definitely determine the presence of cancer.

E. M. G. Q.—Do you think that wearing rubber garments would injure the health? I wear a rubber corset each day for three or four hours.

A.—I do not believe so—rubber garments are reducing in effect, since they cause profuse prespiration.

EFFIE. Q.—What do you advise for snoring?

A.—This is due either to mouth-breathing which has become a habit or to some obstruction in the nasal passages or throat. It would be wise to have the nose and throat examined so that proper treatment may be prescribed.

• • •

E. F. F. Q.—What kind of exercise will reduce the hips?

A.—Such exercise as dancing, running, walking, climbing etc., should all be helpful along these lines.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medical, hygiene and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it cannot be published in this column Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed. To Fill Local Pulpit.

Rev. Charles Bell, welfare worker of Elwood City, Pa.; will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. He was a classmate of the late Rev. Herbert O. MacDonald, who died early this month. He is not a candidate for the pastorate.

Gore To Take Office

Secretary of Agriculture Howard Gore, has issued a statement in which he denies that he intends remaining in the cabinet of President Coolidge after March 4 on which date he will be inaugurated governor of West Virginia. His denial was brought forth by reports that he would not qualify for the office to which he was elected last November.

143 Phones Per 1,000 Persons

United States still leads the world in the number of telephones per 1,000 inhabitants. In England it is only 21 per thousand as against 143 in United States, 83 in Denmark and 50 in Norway. A campaign has been inaugurated in England to increase and improve facilities and to enlarge the number of users thereby. The British telephone system is declared notoriously inferior to ours.

EVANGELISTIC PROGRAM HERE

Series of Meets in Christian Church Opens Feb. 1.

Arrangements are well under way for the series of evangelistic services which are scheduled to open on Sunday, February 1, in the First Christian church here, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Thomas B. Shearer.

There will be no week-night preaching during the first week of the services, according to Rev. Shearer, but members will convene at the church each evening at 7 o'clock for one-half hour and then go forth in teams to visit others.

Preaching services by Rev. Shearer, will be held on Sunday, there will be no sermons then until the following Sunday and from then on until the close of the revivals, there will be services each night. T. C. McClelland, choir leader, will lead the singing.

Rev. Shearer's sermon topics up until Feb. 13 follow:

Feb. 1—Morning, "Fishers of Men." Evening, "The Sinfulness of Sin."

Feb. 8—Morning, "Forgiveness." Evening, "A Program for Christian Unity."

Feb. 9—7:30 p. m. "Handling Aright the Word of Truth."

Feb. 10—7:30 p. m. "Life's Greatest Question Answered."

Feb. 11—7:30 p. m. "A Change of Heart."

Feb. 12—7:30 p. m. "The Bible Plan."

Feb. 13—7:30 p. m. "What Church Should I Join?"

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

"Lessons from the Eclipse" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. K J. Stewart, pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, on Sunday morning at services at 11. His evening sermon, at 7:30, will be, "What the Scriptures Say About the Second Coming of Christ."

An offering will be taken at the morning services for the church improvement fund. Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m., and young people at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Stewart will discuss "What the Scriptures Say About the Second Coming of Christ;" also at services Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Long's Run Presbyterian church. Sunday school will convene at 1:30 p. m.

Card Party at Hoffmeister Home.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Hoffmeister entertained last evening at their home in Tenth street.

Five hundred was the chief diversion, two tables being in play. Honors were awarded Mrs. Charles Kraus and Mrs. Lester Donnelly. Flowers were used in the decorations.

A two-course luncheon was served by the hostess. William Swarts of Hot Springs, Ark., was an out-of-town guest.

JOLLY MATRONS ARE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Roy Friscknorn was hostess to members of the Jolly Matrons club last evening at her home in Fifteenth street.

The home was appropriately decorated for the affair. Guessing contests, stunts and dancing were diversions. Honors in the guessing contests were awarded Mrs. George Fassett. A two course luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held probably within two weeks, at the home of Mrs. Paul Pearch.

APOPLEXY CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH

Apoplexy is believed to have been the cause of the death of Miss Bessie Blanche March, 42 years old, who died suddenly Wednesday night in her room in a private home in Buckeye avenue.

Miss March's lifeless body was found prone on the floor of her room, with her head against a couch leg, by a girl who lived in the house. Dr. E. F. Swift was summoned.

The body was removed to the Haugh funeral home and will be taken later to Mt. Zion where funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Shattuck.

Deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Meek and Edna, of Negley; and two brothers, William and Herbert, of Negley.

MISS STEVENSON CLUB HOSTESS

Miss Nan M. Stevenson will be hostess to members oif the Wellsville Twentieth Century club this afternoon at her home in Main street.

Members will respond to roll call with quotations from Don Marquis, Willa Cather, by Mrs. E. L. McGarey, and John Hall Wheelock, by Mrs. A. G. Smith, will be subjects on today's program. Mrs. A. F. Campbell's topic will be "Contemporary American Painters." In addition, there will be special music.

With Amazing Speed It Stops That Tough Hang On Cough That Racks Your Whole Body

For simple coughs any simple sweet sugary cough syrup will probably do.

But when you want to throw out of your system one of those old timers, that simply won't be conquered, but lingers on and on causing sleepless nights and days of torment then you've just got to have a real cough medicine.

Then you must ask your druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion for the harder and tougher and tighter they come the more joy Bronchuline gets in knocking them out.

Bronchuline isn't a cheap cough conqueror, mind you, for first raters are never cheap. But if you are one of the unlucky ones that a persistent, health destroying cough is pushing towards the grave, get a bottle today and notice how the first dose takes right hold and soothes the terrible soreness.

Often three or four doses brings blessed relief and half a bottle forces the most stubborn cough into submission.

"A bottle of magic," one old man calls Bronchuline Emulsion. He was all worn out and ready to give up when a friend brought him the good news about Bronchuline.

Don't let a cough hang on—it's dangerous company—Get rid of it quick. Ask Jesse D. Holloway and Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and Newell, W. Va., or any up to the times druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion. It's a good medicine to have around the house because it contains no chloroform or dope and often two or three doses will stop any ordinary cough.

VICTIM APPEARS AS JUDGE SENTENCES "SLAYER" TO DIE

MILAN—A sensational incident reminiscent of the Michael Arlen stories occurred during a murder trial here recently.

A young peasant named Sabatini was charged with murdering the local butcher, and, although he vigorously denied that he had killed the butcher, he admitted that he had struck him during a quarrel, but had not seriously injured him. Testimony was submitted that the butcher had completely disappeared, and that it was apparent that Sabatini had disposed of his body.

The judge was in the midst of passing the death sentence upon Sabatini when a man rushed into court and announced that he was the supposedly dead butcher. "Sabatini knocked me unconscious," he said "and for weeks afterward I was unable to remember what happened. I heard of this case today for the first time."

The trial was abruptly suspended for evidence of identification.

NATHAN REICH STORE IS SOLD

Meyer Reich, proprietor of the Reich clothing store, East Liverpool, today announced completion of negotiations by which he will take over the drygoods business operated by Nathan Reich, at 423 Main street.

Nathan Reich, it was announced, will leave for New York City, where he will establish a jobbing and importing business.

The new store here will be known as the Reich Brothers' Clothing store.

A full line of drygoods as well as a ladies', men's and children's wearing apparel, will be carried.

Reich is now holding a clean-up sale to dispose of present stock. In the near future the business will be restocked and the interior of the store will be remodeled and redecorated.

The complete line will be installed within the next month. M. H. Reich, brother of Meyer Reich, will manage the business here.

DINNER PARTY AT KING HOME

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. King entertained a number of their friends last evening at their home in Main street, the affair honoring their wedding anniversary.

A two course buffet dinner was served at 7:30. Sweet pears were used in the decorations. Following dinner seven tables of bridge were in play.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cronin and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DeMunn, of East Liverpool.

Silverweb Club Meeting.

Members of the Silverweb club will hold their semi-monthly meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Mary Wilson, in East Liverpool.

One of Five Has Poor Eyes.

Investigations carried on in the schools show that one child out of five on an average, has defective eyes or weak eyes. Of a million children observed, more than 200,000 had defective vision. This but proves the trend that has been noticed over a period of time, and indicates the situation is not improving.

Come on Boys
OF COURSE, no boy will really test his shoes with a saw, an auger or a chisel, but it does seem so, especially when mother just finished lecturing about the care of new shoes and father just paid the bill. And to make boys take care of their shoes all the time would be to take half of the joy out of their lives.
The solution of the problem is to buy WEYENBERG SHOES at the start
They "Stand the Gaff"
Weyenberg Boys' Shoes are made "All Solid Leather"—cut from the best part of the hide. They are not made like so many boys' shoes, from the culls or left-overs of leathers used for men's shoes. That's the reason Weyenberg Boys' Shoes wear so much longer and better than other shoes. The boys like them because they "stand the gaff."

F. J. BORING QUITS PENNSY DUTIES

Thomas J. Boring, who, 38 years ago, left the coal mines of Salineville to go to work on the C. & P. division of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been retired to the honor roll within the past month.

He is a twin brother of E. E. Boring of Irondale section, M. of W. department.

After working several years in the Farmer and Anderson coal mine at Salineville, Mr. Boring was given a position as work train laborer on the C. & P. Three years later he was promoted to car builder and worked in the Wellsville yards for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Boring had five children. One is dead. Cloid E. is an oil salesman; Roy is a switchman for the P. R. R. in Wellsville; Mrs. Andrew Coutts lives in Louisville, O., and Mr. Boring has been residing with his other daughter, Mrs. G. C. McCown, since the death of his wife.

Boring, in his younger days, possessed unusual talent as a baseball player. He was a star southpaw in his teens, and was tendered an offer when 19 years of age by Frank Skates, a baseball scout, to enter the ranks of the professionals. He turned down the offer, however.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors, Knights of Golden Eagle, Castle No. 108, Pennsylvania Railroad Co., M. of W. bridge department, storeroom employes, Rev. Shearer and choir, for the kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Pearl Campbell. Especially do we thank them for their beautiful flowers.

Many Diplomatic Changes Will Transform Capital Social Lite

Washington Hostesses Will be Compelled to Throw Away Old Guest Lists Next March 4.

By George R. Holmes.

WASHINGTON.—Social and official life in the national capital is undergoing a transformation, the like of which, for completeness, has seldom been seen.

Along with the Cabinet changes, Supreme court shifts, a new congress elected, a new administration coming into power, and new faces in many lesser places, the diplomatic colony in Washington is now about to experience an unusual renovation. By the 4th of March next capital hostesses will be compelled to throw away their old social lists, like last year's bills, and prepare new ones.

The diplomatic colony here usually is immune to the changes dictated by American politics, but this year seems to be an exception. With the advent of the new administration six weeks hence, there will be new Ambassadors representing four of the major world powers—an unprecedented shifting in the usually stable colony.

Four New Envoys.

France is sending Emile Deschanel to replace the veteran Jules Presserand, who has served his country here with distinction through the terms of five presidents, beginning with Roosevelt.

Japan is sending Tsueno Matsuldara, scion of an old and distingusihed Japanse family, to take the place of the popular but impolitic Masano Hanihara, who was recalled because he was undiplomatic enough to tell the State department that "grave consequences would follow the passage of the Japanese restriction act in congress.

Germany is sending Baron Ago von Maltzan to succeed Dr. Otto von Wiedfeldt, who has been here since the resumption of German-American relations following the war.

A new Ambassador from Italy also is expected during February. Prince Gelaeso Caetani, the present Ambassador, having resigned some weeks ago.

Before March 4.

It is probable that all of the newcomers will arrive in Washington in time for the inauguration ceremonies on March 4.

The exigencies of politics at home and the personal desires of the incumbents, rather than dissatisfaction with their work here, are responsible for most of the changes. But whatever the reasons, Washington has never seen anything like it for a complete shake-up. The changes will emphasize the "new deal" all around in Washington after the 4th of March.

Jusserand's going creates a new Dean of the Corps, this honor falling to Don Juan Rianoy Gayangos, veteran Frenchman in length of service here. The deanship is an important institution, socially at any rate. All new diplomats call and pay their respects to the dean as soon as they arrive, and they consult the dean about precedent, procedure, and their problems frequently. The dean ranks everyone else in the corps at receptions, official functions, etc., which means he enters first, leaves first, heads the line, and sits on the right hand of the host or hostess.

Washington is genuinely sorry to lose most of the outgoing diplomats. In Juseerand's case, he has been here for nearly a quarter of a century, enjoyed intimate relations with officials of five administrations, and has been regarded almost as an institution. But for his old friendships and his social contacts, it is probable that many of the Franco-American problems of the last ten years would not have yielded so readily to adjustment.

Wiedfeldt Friendly.

Dr. Wiedfeldt has made many friends. His was an unusually difficult diplomatic assignment—the first German Ambassador, after Count von Bernstorff. He came when war wounds were still a bit fresh. Yet he managed his affairs so ably and with such niceties of taste that he made himself very popular, and there is real regret at his going.

One thing which Wiedfeldt did was to set an example in diplomatic economy. The German embassy of the old days used to be one of the most luxurious and extravagant in Washington. On the theory, apparently, that it ill-behooved him to make any display of wealth at a time when his country was in such depths of despair and financial morass, Dr. Wiedfeldt has lived here with extreme simplicity, entertained but very little, and accepted only the most formal of courtesies elsewhere.

Dr. Wiedfeldt is an example of the business man in diplomacy. Upon his return to Germany he will resume directorship of the great Krupp iron works at Essen. He is known as the "Schwab of Germany."

Hanihara Popular.

There is, also, a good deal of regret over the fact that Hanihara will not return, for Japan has never had a more popular ambassador, in a personal sense, than the diminutive, jolly "Hanny." There is, too, a good deal of sympathy for him in official and social circles, for it is felt that in making his "grave consequences" threat he was simply being made "the goat" for his foreign office in an awkward diplomatic predicament.

Prince Caetani, the Italian ambassador, also has been popular. Despite his rather awesome title, he is a civil engineer by profession, and has roamed over much of the United States in pursuit of his studies. He is a bachelor—which may account for his popularity in certain circles.

The Washington dipomatic colony has been so increased since the war that it now numbers nearly half a hundred embassies and legations. Al' of the little countries created out of the breaking up of the old Central Powers now have representatives here. Late additions have been representatives of Egypt and the Irish Free State.

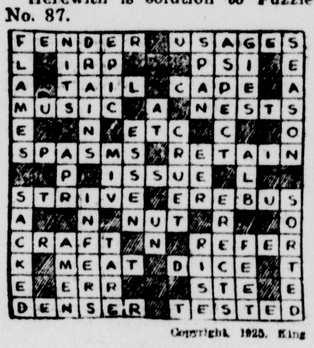
Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 87.



How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Canada Not Worried Over Tenant-Farmer Problem, Says Low

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada is not worried over its tenant farmer problem. Only one out of every 12.5 farmers in the Dominion is a renter, while in the United States one out of every 2.7 is a tenant, according to the Hon. Thomas Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address here.

"There are 711,090 farms in Canada at present," said Mr. Low. "Of this number only 56,887, or 8 per cent, are operated by tenant farmers. In the United States, according to the agricultural census, the are 6,4448,343 farms, of which 2,456,370, or 38 per cent, are held by renters. The average size of a farm in the United States is 148 acres. In Canada it is 198 acres. The average value of a United States farm holding is $12,084 and that of a Canadian farm is $2,963."

Buffalo Herds Cut Down.

It is frequently stated that the buffalo is almost an extinct animal in America, but the fact remains that the famous Philip Buffalo farm north of Pierre, S. D., which occupies 20,000 acres, has recently held a buffalo hunt for the express purpose of cutting down the surplus. The farm produces so many buffalo annually, that the supply exceeds the demand at this time. There were 1,000 or more buffalo in the pastures before the hunt, which was engaged in by 50 armed hunters, many of whom were Indians.

Thousands Dangerously Weak After Flu and Grippe

Tells How to Quickly Get Back Needed Strength, Appetite and Vitality.

Reports tell us that in one state, tens of thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of ever being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of the best health building vitamines, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

That's why millions of people are turning to cod liver oil in tablet form. That's why physicians and pharmacists in all parts of the country and even in Canada are advising sick, weak, run-down folks to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

They helped millions of ill, weak, despairing folks last year—they will do the same for millions more this year.

To people who are exhausted or weary—who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy of the endurance needed to work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used, get your money back from Anderson, Larkin, Carnahan or Mathews' Medicine Store, or the druggist from whom you bought them.

60 tablets—60 cents—but be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine.

POVERTY KEEPS FEDERAL GUARD AT LOW MARK

Lack of Funds Bans Recognition of 79 New Units.

IDAHO SUFFERS

Other States are Handicapped by Economy Program.

WASHINGTON, January — Insufficient appropriations for 1925 made it impossible to grant Federal recognition to seventy-nine National Guard units last year, and there is no possibility of their being granted Federal recognition unless the appropriations are materially increased, according to statements made before the House Appropriations committee by Brigadier-General Dennis E. Nolan, Deputy Chief of Staff of the War Department.

Idaho has been the chief sufferer, according to the figures submitted by General Nolan, as there are eight field artillery units, thirteen infantry units, four cavalry units and one Medical Department unit in that state which cannot receive Federal assistance.

Other states and organizations seriously handicapped by the economy program are:

Field Artillery—Minnesota, 1; South Carolina, 2; Tennessee, 2; Utah, 6.

Coast Artillery—District of Columbia, 3; Connecticut, 2.

Medical Department—New York, 3; Massachusetts, District of Columbia, Ohio and Tennessee, 1 each.

Engineers—Rhode Island, 4; Tennessee, 5.

Trains—Alabama, 1; New Jersey, 3.

Special Troops—Alabama and Ohio, 1 each; New Jersey, 3.

State Staff—California.

In September, 1924, when recruiting for the National Guard was stopped, according to General Nolan, the total strength was 189,605 officers and men, while the present appropriations will provide only funds sufficient for the equipment and maintenance of 177,000 during the present year.

In order to meet the cut necessary, men whose attendance at drills has been regular will be dropped from the National Guard rolls; but no organization at present recognized will be disbanded, nor will Federal recognition be withdrawn.

Need 250,000 Men.

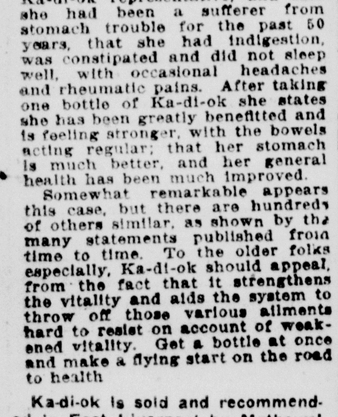
Major-General George C. Rickards, Chief of the Militia Bureau in his statement before the committee, explained that, under the authority of Congress, plans were drawn for the maintenance of the National Guard at 250,000 men, comprising eighteen infantry divisions, four cavalry divisions, 130 companies of coast artillery, and certain other units.

It has been impossible to carry out that program within the appropriations made by Congress, General Rickards said, because of the increased per capita cost resulting from longevity pay, rental allowances, split drills, and the unexpected removal of certain equipment from the free issue list.

National Guard costs, also, have been increased, according to the information given at the hearings, because of the maintenance of air squadrons. The National Guard now has 130 planes, and as there is a higher proportion of officers than in other branches and the maintenance cost is higher, funds appropriated cannot be stretched as far as they could be if disbursed for infantry, cavalry and other units.

HALF A CENTURY STOMACH FIGHT ENDS IN SUCCESS

But Ka-di-ok Had to Come in on the Forlorn Hope to Win Out This Long-Fought Battle.



MRS. MARTHA A. MOORE

The Balkan "thirty year war" had nothing on Mrs. Martha A. Moore, a 75-year-old resident of Warren, O., living at 710 West avenue. For half a century Mrs. Moore has been waging battle against a disordered stomach, and now gloriously declares that, with the aid of Ka-di-ok, the great herbal remedy and system toner, she has come out on top with winning honors, and what is more precious, improved health and vitality.

And what appears to be more miraculous, is that at the time Mrs. Moore made the statements upon which the above paragraph is based, she had taken but one bottle of Ka-di-ok. Mrs. Moore has resided in Warren for the past 36 years, and is well known and honored among the older generation in that city.

Mrs. Moore was interviewed by a Ka-di-ok representative, and said she had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for the past 50 years, that she had indigestion, was constipated and did not sleep well, with occasional headaches and rheumatic pains. After taking one bottle of Ka-di-ok she states she has been greatly benefitted and is feeling stronger, with the bowels acting regular; that her stomach is much better, and her general health has been much improved.

Somewhat remarkable appears this case, but there are hundreds of others similar, as shown by the many statements published from time to time. To the older folks especially, Ka-di-ok should appeal, from the fact that it strengthens the vitality and aids the system to throw off those various ailments hard to resist on account of weakened vitality. Get a bottle at once and make a flying start on the road to health

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

PIMPLES

How to get rid of them.

WHY ENVY a clear, lovable complexion? Why wish and hope? It is within your reach! There is always one quick and sure way to make your complexion free from all eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and that impossible muddiness. That is by building up your red-blood-cells. S.S.S. will do it for you! Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it cleanses the system and makes those so-called skin disorders impossible to exist. S.S.S. contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. It is also a remarkable builder of firm flesh, which is also important to beauty. It will fill out your hollow cheeks, put the "ruby" of health in your cheeks and the sparkle in your eyes. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been beautifying complexions and giving women physical charm. This is why S.S.S. is accepted as the greatest of all blood cleansers and body builders. Begin taking S.S.S. today and give yourself what you have been looking for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

S.S.S. The World's Best Blood Medicine

From Girlhood to Motherhood

Through all these periods of their existence thousands of women toil on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness, all telltale symptoms of some local derangement. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one great remedy that will overcome such ailments. All over America women are telling other women how this wonderful medicine has restored them to health and the joy of living. This accounts for the tremendous demand for this popular medicine for women.

England Is Feartul ot U. S. Control ot World's Gold

Believe They are Under American Domination, and Suspect Gold Standard.

LONDON, Jan. — England is in a hub-dub, aroused lest the United States has already become the money master of the world.

Reports that Great Britain is about to return to a gold standard have caused a sudden commotion, with outcries and warnings from many sources that Great Britain will soon be under the heel of American financiers, if she is not already so.

The United States controls the world's gold supply, and when Great Britain returns to a gold standard she will be under the control of those who hold the strings of the world's gold bags, it is argued. The pro and con of this question is being bitterly fought out in the columns of the English newspapers.

Losing an Empire.

An amazingly frank article, printed in The Referee, a Sunday newspaper, has attracted some attention.

"British Finance a Back Number," is the Referee headline, with a subheading reading "Our oboslete methods are losing an empire."

"Mr. Bruce, prime minister of Australia, protested to the imperial conference over a year ago against the submission of Britain to what he called the dependence upon the United States," said The Referee.

"And a pitiful dependence it is! Dependence brought about by our inept and perilous finance—brought about and persisted in to our decline, and perhaps our fall.

"The policy of the Bank of England, and of government after government—during and since the war—is to make an old system work unmodified, in conditions which imperatively demand its modification.

Do Not Need Gold.

"The old device of raising the bank rate will not work now, either to stop exports, or to attract imports, of gold. It will not now affect gold, but it will industry, fill the Gazette, create unemployment, and add to the dole tax.

"We do not need the gold! We can get back to the gold standard of value, and to legal tender fully backed by gold, by a modification of our system of finance!

"The steps to be taken in unison that are necessary to restore our money are the steps necessary to restore our independence of America. These steps are:

"The limitation of legal tender to paper fully covered by gold; the limitation of the issue of such paper to the equivalent of the gold we have got; the establishment of an elastic banking credit currency; the intensive cultivation of the check system, and the issue of credit, practically interest free, under proper safeguards, for productive purposes alone."

This article is but one of many, which seem to indicate that if Great Britain hasn't already surrendered to the United States as the money controller of the world, that there are grave fears that such a surrender is on the way.

Constipation makes pimply skins—get permanent relief with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Do not allow this frightful disease to linger in your system.

Rid yourself of constipation at once! The longer it lingers, the greater the poisons it sends through your body—poisons which can wreck your health and lead to over forty serious diseases.

The destructive work of constipation shows in the face—pimples, hollow cheeks, circles under eyes. It brings gray hair. Causes spots before the eyes—and unpleasant breath. Get permanent relief. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN!

After all else has failed, thousands have regained their health with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Because it is ALL BRAN, it is 100 per cent effective. Only ALL BRAN brings sure results.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves the most chronic cases, if eaten regularly. It is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ready-to-eat with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Michigan, and served by leading hotels and restaurants. At grocers.

Pen Filler Used To Feed World's Smallest Baby

LONDON—Mary Waghorn, of Hastings, is one of the world's smallest babies.

She weighed only three and a half pounds at birth, instead of the usual nine, and measured exactly twelve inches from head to toe.

A perfectly normal child, she is thriving under special treatment, which includes being fed with a fountain pen filler every two hours

Doctors state that there is no reason why she should not grow up a normal, healthy child.

CHILDRENS CROSS WORD PUZZLE

How to Solve Puzzle.

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across.

Word 1. A girl grown up.

Word 4. What you feel like doing when you hear lively music playing.

Word 5. A famous American general in the Revolutionary war, affectionately know as "Mad Anthony."

Running Down.

Word 1. A woman whose husband is dead.

Word 2. You cannot get anything at a store without it.

Word 3. What relation to your father is the daughter of his brother?

A new plant of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway at Wolverton, England, is turning out a twelve-ton covered goods wagon every hour and three-quarters.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during the sickness and death of my husband, also all those who contributed flowers, Rev. Fowler and singers.

MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKSON.

Hiding a rash wont heal it

Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects.

Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

Ask your druggist for Resinol.

VERSE AND WORSE

By Larry Flint

Out of the Fryin' Pan.

We thought this thing o' settin' up
At night an' hearin' squalks an' cries
Wuz over when th' babies grew
Frum diaper t' trouser size.
Nocturnal wails we long endured;
Then babes were babes no more; an' so
We settled down in peace, an' then—
An' then we bought a radio!

Once Baby Ann wuz pron to' wake
At midnight, an' in tearful mood,
Shriek loudly to th' moon an' skies
An' rouse th' hull darned neighborhood;
An' ther wuz Jasper, John an' Jill,
Each with his midnight wail o' woe;
Then came a peaceful speel until—
Well, now we've got a radio!

"Well, Nell," I said, "th' kids are grown;
Now shall our nights o' walkin' cease;
No croupy coughs; no colic screams;
We'll settle down t' rest an' peace!"
Then ghastly irony o' Fate!
Then cruel stroke an' wicked blow!—
Oh death where is thine awful sting?—
We went an' bought a radio!

Canada is Educating Her People Rapidly; Figures Released

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada believes in giving its children education. Census bulletins released here show that 89.10 per cent of all children between the ages of seven and fourteen years in the Dominion, or 1,344,371 out of a possible 1,508,846 youngsters attended school last year.

A growing tendency toward lengthening the period of attendance at school, the bulletin points out, is shown by figures which set forth that 61.7 per cent of all persons in Canada between the ages of five and nineteen years, or a total of 1,683,917 young people, were registered in educational institutions during the year.

Gamblers Forced to Check Knives in Den; Place is Raided

PITTSBURGH—"Check your knives here," was the businesslike sign which greeted Lieutenant James McCormick and a squad of patrolmen when they raided the home of Luther Zimmerman, colored.

The sign was over a box in which the raiders found eleven knives, each carefully labeled with the owner's name. Gambling devices were found in the house.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

The genial author, novelist, playwright, screen writer, and director of his own screen stories, who had exclaimed over Clarice's beauty, said, "Dascome! John Dascome! I remember now. There's subject matter for a Balzac! And she is his little girl grown up——"

Karesia was looking at Nadine Navarre, who was speaking to Rossiter. "Most certainly I would come, my friend—upon even an hour's notice. Our little Clarice brought me safely here." There were touches of mischief, daring, and defiance in her tip-tilted oval face. "On one point we always disagree, you and I; nevertheless, we are good friends. I do not believe in extending prejudice into the second generation—let us not quarrel over that," and with her graceful French shrug she turned away, a side-long glance bestowed on the meeting between Rossiter and Clarice.

"How do you do, Clarice?" he said, politely cordial.

Clarise said nothing at all, perhaps because she could not. She simply put her small hand in his and looked up at him.

No matter how much enthralled by one woman a man may be, he cannot see without a thrill the sort of thing that looked at Rossiter out of Clarice's great gray eyes; complete love and the pain visited upon love. Clarice was thinner; to Rossiter, who had studied her face so carefully, she looked older, graver, more like Dascome.

It struck Rossiter that there was no remark he could make, also that it was not best for Karesia to see that look in Clarice's eyes. He touched the shoulder of one of the famous producers and, when he turned, Rossiter put Clarice's had in his. "Nadine says she has discovered a new star in the firmament—what do you think about it?" he asked, and turned away.

He introduced Nadine Navarre to Karesia. "Madame Nadine Navarre, Kara. You two should have plenty to talk about. Madame Navarre is an admirer of the Orient."

Rossiter was near enough to hear and observe. They shook hands, Nadine Navarre enveloped Karesia with a brilliant, comprehensive, and keen scrutiny, and Karesia's expression grew sleepy, eyelids drooped so much that only a mere gleam of eye showed.

"John Dascome lives in your home, he tells me?" Nadine said in a softly accented way.

"He is my tenant—I have a double house," Karesia returned composedly.

"He is an interesting man—do you not think?"

Rossiter could make nothing of Nadine's expression, whether she was antagonistic or intensely interested, or both. "He would be, I should think—to any one who knew him well." Karesia turned so as to include Mrs. Whitsey. "I suppose I am introducing old friends?—everyone here seems to know everyone else."

Sarah Whitsey laughed. "Madame Navarre and I are old enemies. She told me once that I wrote 'without any substlety whatever.'"

"I said also that you would be very successful upon the screen," Nadine Navarre retorted, "and so you are."

Karesia drew away, which had been her object. Rossiter did not know just what to make of either Karesia or Nadine. Two Japanese were distributing cocktails now, and, in a moment, quiet talk hvened into chatter, remarks and witticisms on the great dinner topic of today; it was possible to produce pictures, but to produce pre-war nectar such as this was far more difficult. An eminent author told a famous producer that she had glanced into the banquet room and had seen champagne glasses, and the whisper spread.

"No! You won't! Not even a cocktail?" the young playwright who had attached himself to Clarice exclaimed when she shook her head. The other young man at her side asked, "Where in the world did you learn your wisdom? You ought to marry Rand, Miss Dascome, he's unique, too—look at him over there! Never touches a drop. Thanks he, he laid in a supply for his friends!"

The young man who had asked where she had learned her wisdom was amused, for he had heard of Clarice's career. Clarice flashed; all these people knew who she was and what she had done; well, she would show them! Whatever Clarice did, she did thoroughly; good or bad, she would never stop halfway. She glanced at Karesia; she had not spoken to her and she was not going to.

When Takimoto had given Clarice Rossiter's invitation, a purpose had sprung into Clarice's being which had lifted her from her bed where she had lain for days like a dumb, suffering animal.

Rossiter would marry Karesia, she could not help that, but Karesia was ten years older than she. She would work day and night to make something wonderful of herself, and the time would come when she would take Rossiter away from Karesia Kaime. He had been nearly hers, until her father's history had frightened him away. He had told her that he wanted to marry—he was going to marry Karesia because he wanted to marry. She, Clarice Dascome, would win Randsome Rossiter's love if it took her twenty years to do it! And when she had won him she would keep him!

Clarice had invaded the studios with sublime determination. She had run the gaunt of usual disappointments—not even "extras" were wanted. Finally, with complete hardihood, she had waylaid Oscar Behrens, because she had heard Rossiter say that he was one of the best directors in Hollywood. He lived at the Hollywood Hotel and she had spent two days sitting in the lobby lying in wait for him. She was prepared for all sorts of rebuffs, prepared to go on her knees.

"What did you say your name was?" Behrens had demanded.

"Clarice Dascome. I'll do anything, even black shoes for the extras," she had pleaded.

He had frowned. Then he had fumbled in his pocket for a note, then had looked her up and down and around with a degree of interest that had brightened. He wrote something on a piece of paper. "Come over early to the studio tomorrow. Show that at the office," he had said.

Pep, Humor, Speed Characterize Hines Picture at Ceramic

The epitome of action, the personification of pep, the incarnation of humor and the dynamo of thrilldom—that in toto is as exact a description of the volcanic Johnny Hines as is possible to obtain. And in "The Speed Spook," the latest feature thriller featuring this inimitable comedian, he steps right out and gives the screen one of the outstanding performances of a decade. This Hines person is an individual to conjure with, for his ebullience and his rip, tear and fight attitude, coupled with the sound philosophy of fun which he characterizes to a nicety, makes him one of the outstanding types of the screen. Johnny Hines has more than native intelligence, for the simple reason that he is able to probe just a bit farther in the realm of human sensitiveness than the average comics of the screen. He seems to know what the public wants, and in this respect he has been sensible enough to give the public that sort of screen fare that only Douglas Fairbanks has had the wisdom previously to follow. Hines is by all means a character—an individual sort of screen star who takes all sorts of dare-devil chances to furnish movie patrons with a thrill, a laugh and perhaps a tear. That is an unbeatable combination, and Hines commandeers these elements beautifully in "The Speed Spook."

Whether the plot be impossible does not make a particle of difference. The public wants to be pleased—the public wants to laugh—the public wants to be thrilled—and, most paramount, the public wants to be lifted out of itself and its daily monotony. It wants to forget the problems of life for the hour that it gets its entertainment, and if Hines has done nothing else in "The Speed Spook," he has accomplished this important object. The audience at the Ceramic last night howled with delight, they cried immediately after, then they were consistently thrilled, and towards the final close-up they laughed again. What bill of fare could have been more enjoyable than this; what greater comment can the reviewer make than that Johnny Hines in "The Speed Speek" came as near being an example of the true mission of the motion picture as it is humanly possible to be? By all means see "The Speed Spook." Life won't appear so dull after you've spent an hour watching this streak of the screen.

$40,000,000 Spent By U. S. Tourists In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B. C.—More than $40,000,000 was left in British Columbia by tourists in 1924, according to a report of the Vancouver Tourist Bureau. Of this total about $10,000,000 was brought in by motorists during the summer.

Nearly 90 per cent of the tourists came from the United States, many of them in automobiles, from California, Washington, Oregon and other Western states, the report shows.

General tourist traffic from the United States to Canada broke all records last year, according to John B. Harkin, Dominion Commissioner of National Parks.

Runyon Says

Jack Curley Objects.
His Game Is No Laugh.
The Cost of Wrestling.
A Tale of Jess Willard.
How He Tried to Train.

BY DAMON RUNYON.
Copyright, 1925, by the International Features Service.

THE writer recently, speaking of wrestling in New York, said the sports writers of the big town laugh at the game.

This remark has brought a long letter from Jack Curley, who promotes the wrestling shows in the big town. Jack is gently remonstrative.

He wishes the writer to understand that if any sports writers are laughing at wrestling, he, Jack Curley, is furnishing them with the most expensive humor on record.

He gives in detail figures which show that it costs him $5,100 to open his doors. The main events take 50 per cent of the gross after the State tax is deducted.

Thus he must have $12,000 receipts before he can break even.

That, Jack Curley says, is no laughing matter.

If you have never seen Jack Curley, he is a big, healthy-looking man, with a bland countenance, usually covered by a smile. Of late years he has been getting bald.

He is an optimistic man, of tremendous energy. He has been promoting wrestling and boxing shows for many years. If he had devoted the same effort to some commercial enterprise, Jack Curley would now be rich.

The writer is convinced that the excitement and the GAMBLE of promotion keep men like Jack Curley and Tex Rickard at it. It involves work and worry to a greater extent than any other business.

The public hears only of the PROFITS of promotions of this kind.

It rarely hears of the LOSSES.

Nurmi to Try for Sixteenth Record In Tonight's Race

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Having nothing better to do, Paavo Nurmi tonight will attempt the now prosaic business of breaking another world's record, which if carried through to a successful conclusion, will be his sixteenth consecutive record since beginning competition on American tracks some five weeks ago. Paavo will go after his own record at 1 1-8 miles in the feature event of the Morningside A. C., games and is justifiably confident of success. The mark, 4:58 was made last Saturday when Nurmi was beaten by a handicap runner in a 2,000-yard race.

The handicap runner, Gunnard Nilsen, will be one of his opponents tonight. He will try to repeat but those close to Nurmi have stated that the great Finn will make certain of winning this time. Ilmar Prim and Gus Fager will comprise the rest of the field. All will be granted liberal handicaps, which will be announced shortly before the race.

Another meeting between Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, and Willie Plant, American title holder, is scheduled in the 4,000 meter walk. Plant won the first race easily.

No Movie Rights

The shooting of "Four Gun" Glenn Young at Herrin, Ill., was sort of an impromptu affair. No one had the movie rights. Tex Rickard didn't have a chance to sign up the winner.

Sandy Fess and Nate Allen to be Brought Here for Contest, Announces Manager Perry; Boone's Team at Salem Tonight.

General admission tickets have already been placed on sale by high school students for the contest Saturday night on the local gym floor which will see Coach O. V. Boone's 1925 passers in action against the veterans of 1916, the crew that won the basketball championship of northern Ohio and came within an ace of taking the Ohio title.

The Saturday night fray will be the second engagement on a two-game week-end card. Tonight the Blue and White five will tackle the Salem scholastic quintet on the Salem floor and the result should send the locals further along in the county championship race, which they have already practically clinched by their victory over Columbiana.

Columbiana defeated Salem, 36 to 35, and both Salem and East Liverpool have won from Lisbon. The figures, as a result, forecast an East Liverpool victory, but the game will have to be played, and on the Quaker City court, at that, and Boone will take no chances of a defeat, which, at this time, would mix things up pretty well.

Manager Bruce Perry today announced that arrangements had been completed to bring Nate Allen and Sandy Fess, two of the stars of the championship 1916 team, to the city for tomorrow night's engagement. The entire roster includes Irvin Vorndran, Ronald Smith, Howard Smith, Sandy Fess, Nate Allen, Bill Vodrey and Ernie Bucher.

The High School Reserves and the Glenmore A. C. will meet in the preliminary to the Saturday game. The prelim will start at 7:45 and the main clash at 9.

Basketball Score Board In High Gym

School Plans Purchase of New Recording Device.

Why did the whistle blow?
Who made that foul?
Why is that man put out of the game?
What is the score now?
Who made the points?
How long have they still to play?

These and other similar questions no longer will be on the lips of countless high school basketball fans here with the installation of an up-to-date court-record-graph, or a basketball score board, in the local school gymnasium.

According to Manager Bruce Perry the board will be installed in the near future for operation during high school games.

The board is operated by one man behind who is in direct telephone communication with the man on the playing floor. Thus each event is marked up as fast as it occurs.

The board contains slots for holding the names of the players on each side. A sixth slot is for the extra center on girls' teams. It has colums for showing the number of fouls, field goals and free throws to each man. The total score and the time are shown at the top. The board is finished in dark green enamel with white lettering.

Red Grange, Illini Gridiron Star, to Appear in Movies

URBANA, Ills, Jan. 30.—"Red" Grange, star football player of the University of Illinois, is going into the movies. His contract calls for four weeks work at $2,000 a week. University officials will grant him a leave of absence. This much became known today from sources close to the big ten officials.

The prestige Grange has brought to Illini by his stellar gridiron performance is said to have influenced the concession from university officials He is well advanced with his studies and his leave of absence will not affect his scholastic standing, it was said.

The date of Grange's departure for the studio has not been announced.

Ousted Star Won't Appear In New York

O'Connell Refuses Part in Scandal Probe.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—If, as the young man himself has been at some pains to imply, Jimmy O'Connell will not appear in New York for the official investigation of the baseball scandal, the local district attorney's probe will die a painful death of malnutrition. There can be little done without O'Connell, the only man mentioned in the expose from whom a confession was obtained.

Local officials made no attempt to conceal this state of affairs today as they prepared to make the best of Jimmy's sudden refusal to do business with them.

Barring extradition proceedings the district attorney's office has no alternative beyond proceeding with the hearing of minor witnesses from whom there is no hope of getting to the bottom of the affair.

Without actually saying as much, local officials have intimated they will not attempt to extradite O'Connell. He would have to be indicted by the grand jury in the first place, and in the second, they have no assurance that an attempt at extradition would be successful.

They believe that the governor of California would not consent to O'Connell's extradition.

In coming here to testify, O'Connell would lay himself open to possible imprisonment, if convicted in the eyes of the law.

He has asked for immunity. The district attorney will not grant it. Therefore O'Connell will stay where he is.

Whether the fact that Cozy Dolan, barred from baseball with O'Connell, saw fit to waive immunity in testifying yesterday will have no effect on Jimmy's present attitude, local officials would not say. They pointed out, however, that Dolan has little to worry about as long as O'Connell, his sole accuser, remains in California.

In fact, they made no attempt to evade the fact that neither Dolan nor any of the men accused could be convicted even with O'Connell present. According to the New York statute, no man can be convicted on the unsupported testimony of a self-confessed conspirator.

It was therefore their original plan to attempt to force a confession from other witnesses, provided they had anything to confess, and thus to reach an open clearing through the undergrowth by placing such a confession side by side with O'Connell's and letting the law do its worst.

Dolan has steadfastly maintained his innocence since the day Judge Landis adjudged him guilty solely on the indefinite character of his answers before the baseball commissioner. It is believed that he continued to deny all knowledge of the plot when questioned by Assistant District Attorney Brothers yesterday, although just what transpired behind these closed doors will not be divulged until some later date.

It is the general idea, however, that whatever happened is of slight consequences as long as O'Connell turns up missing. Without him the local probe falls as flat as a letter carrier's foot.

Liverpool Motors Vanquish Ramblers At New Cumberland

On the New Cumberland floor Wednesday night the Liverpool Motors basketball passers sent the New Cumberland Ramblers down to defeat by the score of 37 to 23.

The Fords outclassed their opponents in all departments of the game, though the Ramblers played good basketball against their more experienced foes.

McCandless' Bisons Expect to Wallop Waynesburg Squad

BETHANY, W. Va., Jan. 30.—Coach McCandless now has a combination of Bison passers with which Katy Easterday's passers will not be able to play so easily as they did in the opening game of the Bison season, and if this combination is working at their best the Bison followers are confident that they will be able to take the Waynesburg scalp tomorrow night.

The two Bison forwards, Herman and Beckwith, are both good shots from almost any place on the floor and have led the attack in each of the last five games that swept such teams as W. & J., Duquesne and Marietta off their feet. Coupled with these fast offensive players Coach McCandless has two defensive players in Captain Shoemake and Hanna who are hard to equal. For the center he will probably use Carey, who has been making a splendid showing in both offensive and defensive. These five men have been working well together and will no doubt prove quite a stumbling block in the path of the Yellow Jackets when they meet Saturday night.

Pirate Bosses Would Like to Know What Morrison Will do

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30.—Right now the Pirate bosses, players and fans would like to know what Johnny Morrison can be counted on to do for the jolly Buccaneers in their coming drive for the elusive National League pennant.

Morrison, experts agree, has one of the greatest, if not the greatest curve ball, in the big show today. When he and it are working right he is unbeatable. Last year, however, he was of little use—relatively speaking—to the Pittsburgh team. Did win 11 games but lost 16. That's a punk average for a good pitcher with a winning ball club. He finished only 12 games. He allowed 114 runs in 238 innings.

In 1923 he won 25 and lost but 13 games for his team.

Morrison was ill part of last season. Couldn't hit his stride at other times. If he fails to get to going this year the Pirate's hopes will sink. If he goes at his 1923 pace the Pittsburgh stock will be considerably above par.

Wooster Athletes Facing Busy Week End in Cleveland

WOOSTER, Jan. 30.—Wooster college athletics will have a busy week-end in Cleveland. Both the basketball and the swimming teams will meet Case at Cleveland. Both squads are being pushed as hard as a stiff mid-year exam schedule will permit. This week ends the first semester at Wooster college and it is expected that a large number of Wooster students will trek to Cleveland for the week-end and see the Wooster teams play.

The Wooster basketball team has already taken one fall out of Case. The Scientists were defeated here at Wooster 30 to 17 two weeks ago. Wooster is expecting a harder game at Cleveland and is prepared to play it. Since the Case game "Dutch" Pfeiffer has returned to the Wooster lineup and strengthened the Wooster offense.

The swimming team has one victory in as many starts so far. Last week the Ohio Wesleyan tank stars were swamped at Wooster 39 to 20. Wooster won the relay and five of the seven firsts. Wooster expects much harder opposition from the Case swimmers.

Runyon Says:

Dempsey-Carpentier fight, and said: "Pretty soft for Rickard!"

Probably Rickard's profit on that fight, proportionately to the investment and the risk, also proportionately to the receipts, was LESS than any other enterprise ever launched.

The writer didn't intend making Jack Curley unhappy when he made that remark about wrestling in New York.

It would have been pleasanter to say that SOME New York sports writers SOMETIMES make light of wrestling.

That is not the fault of wrestling, nor of Jack Curley.

At one time he had the game established in New York as a major sport, drawing big gates. Then it passed under the control of the New York State Athletic Commission, which instituted what the experts said were devitalizing rules.

Anyway, the game fell off in the big town. Jack Curley, always optimistic, is just getting it back on something like the old scale.

But the writer is very glad he said something to send Jack Curley to his typewriter, as he adds to his comment on wrestling an interesting story.

It is about Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world. Jack Curley promoted the Willard-Jack Johnson fight at Havana that made Willard champion. Afterward Jack Curley had a financial interest in Willard.

The day before the Willard-Dempsey fight Curley was in Toledo, and he made a prediction to the writer to this effect:

"Willard will sulk when he finds out he can't beat Dempsey. He'll quit in his corner after three rounds."

He was so sure of what would occur he wouldn't remain over in Toledo a day to see his prediction fulfilled.

"You do me an injustice," Jack Curley says, "in saying that in picking Dempsey to win the wish was father to the thought. That is not correct.

"Three months before the date of the match, when Jess Willard settled with me in full at the Stratford hotel in Chicago, he asked me in the most friendly spirit my opinion of the proposed match between himself and Dempsey.

"Here is what I said to him: 'Jess, you are talking of fighting Dempsey three months from now. What you need is six months' time for preliminary training before you can think of starting three months of active training work.

"'If you go out to reduce yourself to fighting weight in three months' time (Jack Curley is still telling of his talk with Willard) you will get the most terrible beating a champion ever got in the ring. Dempsey is fast, hits hard, and you will never have a chance.'

"The day that you speak of in Toledo you were very near when Willard and I met in the lobby of the Secor and you sat on a sofa for probably half an hour," Jack Curley continues.

"The first thing Willard did was to open his vest, saying: 'Well, I'm down to weight—the fat is all gone, as you can see.'

"'You're right, Jess,' I answered, 'the fat is all gone, and you're down to weight, but you didn't do it by proper training. To me you look the hungriest man I ever saw in my life, my prediction made to you three months ago holds good today.'

"After a few minutes more of friendly conversation, during which Willard assured me he was certain to win, these were my parting words:

"'Jess, a lot of newspaper men in the lobby are watching us. They know we are friendly, because we have proved it by chatting here for half an hour. Now, I'm going to leave you, and if I should meet you in the street don't stop to talk to me, because the more I hear you talk the more I look at you, and the more I remember what a fighter you were at Havana the more scared I get you convince me I'm wrong.

"'And I don't want to be convinced. I have a few bets stringing on Dempsey, and I have a lot of money to further back him, and I don't want you to scare me into switching.'

"His parting words, with a smile and a handshake, were: 'Well, you won't cash.'

"Now, Mr. Runyon, you have the whole story, and my memory is good, and I am positive I have here repeated verbatim our conversation that day."

Jack Curley quit the boxing game some years ago.

He had something to do with making the last two champions.

He promoted the fight between Jack Dempsey and Fred Fulton which got Dempsey the chance at Willard's title.

And, a long time ago, Jack Curley had a heavyweight champion of his own in Marvin Hart of Kentucky. Hart won the title that Jim Jeffries donated as the stake of the battle between the Kentuckian and Jack Root.

Thereafter Hart lost to Tommy Burns, and Tommy Burns to Johnson, if you are interested in tracing the matter back that far.

Shift Billiard Match Date.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The date of the Hoppe-Cannefax three-cushion billiard match has been shifted from February 14 to 19, it was announced today, in order to give Hoppe a chance to practice for the international balkline championship tourney in which he will defend his title, beginning February 23. The three-cushion match will be at 600 points.

Berlenbach Favorite.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Ruling a 2 to 1 favorite, Paul Berlenbach, local knockout king, was expected to score a victory over Tony (Young) Marrullo of New Orleans, before the end of their scheduled 12 round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Marrullo gained decisions over Billy Britton and Battling Siki in former appearances here but Berlenbach's punch is regarded with such esteem that the great majority of fans look for him to win inside the limit.

SPEED CENSUS OF FARMLANDS

Work of taking the Hancock county farm census is progressing rapidly and probably will be completed within the next few weeks. Statistics are being gathered under the direction of the federal agricultural department.

Secretary of Agriculture Gore, has sent out a statement from Washington urging farmers to co-operate with the enumerators.

He pledges that information secured will be held in strict confidence by his department.

School Inspector Is Visitor

L. O. Taylor, state high school supervisor, with offices at Charleston, yesterday inspected the Newell high school. He plans to visit several other schools in the county before returning to the capital.

Odd Fellows' Meeting.

Clark lodge, No. 447, Odd Fellows, will meet tonight in the Aaron building. Routine business will be transacted. Local members attended the installation of officers last evening in the rooms of Pennova lodge, East Liverpool.

No Action On Charter Bills.

Short session of the state legislature which adjourned Wednesday failed to take action on the proposed charters for Holliday's Cove and Follansbee. Both bills will be placed on the calendar for consideration at the long session which under the constitution cannot exceed 45 days. The initial session covered a period of 15 days.

High Cagers Face Glenmoor.

Coach George Kidder plans to use his strongest lineup in the game tonight with the Glenmoor five on the home floor of the latter on the Lincoln Highway, East Liverpool. The local passers have been played throughout the season under a disadvantage in that all contests have been on hostile floors.

Sheriff Denies Friction.

Sheriff Robert M. Love of Brooke county, has issued a statement in which he vigorously denies friction exists between his office force and members of the Follansbee police department. Wide publicity was given the alleged breach.

Town Supplies Hot Water.

Owing to the proximity of a hot water spring near Windhoek in Southwest Africa, all residents of that town get hot water free of charge. The spring merely is connected by pipes to the regular water system of the town, and hot water is on tap at every faucet.

Dr. Hill Invites Frank Campbell to Lincoln Day Dinner

Frank Campbell, of Lincoln avenue has been invited to attend a luncheon, celebrating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, to be given at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C., on February 12 by the trustees of the Lincoln Memorial University, of Cumberland Gap, Md.

The invitation was extended by Dr. John Wesley Hill, chancellor of the university, who was the speaker at the Elks' memorial services held at the Ceramic theatre, in December. Among the guests of honor who have accepted the invitation to attend are Secretary of War John W. Weeks, Secretary of the Interior Huber Work, Secretary of the Navy Curtis W. Wilbur, ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; Judge Elbert Gary, John Kirby and William C. Proctor, of Cincinnati.

Mr. Campbell plans to attend the affair.

Health Nurse Named.

BUCYRUS—Miss Bernice Chloe Bowers, Galion, has been appointed public health nurse here at a salary of $150 per month. Miss Bowers is a graduate of the Glenville hospital training school, Cleveland.

Men Turn to Cold Creams.

Although women are turning to bobbed hair and thus enriching the barbers, men are likewise turning to cold creams and thus enriching in proportion the makers of these lotions for the skin. Middle aged men especially are increasing the trade in these complexion aids.

Dogs smile when pleased, says Sir Charles Bell, the scientist.

Clever Buffalo Chemist Says New Treatment for Piles Never Fails

Buffalo, N. Y.—For years the generally accepted treatment for Hemorrhoids or Piles has been by the insertion of many so-called antiseptics and astringents into the rectum. Such treatments, while they in many cases gave relief, never reached or acted on the cause of the trouble and this was often true of surgical operations.

You've got to attack the real cause of the Piles and not the piles themselves and you've got to do it from a constitutional standpoint and this is just what the Hamadala treatment does. It attacks the cause and not the formation and the cause once removed, all those painful, congested, knotted and strangulated blood vessels are restored to their normal function and blind, bleeding or protruding piles become a thing of the past.

So sure and certain of results are the manufacturers that the Hamadala treatment is only sold under a rigid guarantee of satisfaction or money back. C. G. Anderson, Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway are selling lots of this truly wonderful remedy. The price is $1.00. Mail orders filled.

Alarms are Sent to Wellsville and Steubenville Fire Departments and Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Forces as Fire Cuts Wide Path in One Section of Village Thursday Evening—Heavy

With only primitive defenses at their command, and hampered by near-zero weather, residents of Irondale last night saw one of the most disastrous fires in the history of the village cut through the main section of the business district, sweeping in its path eight business houses and causing a total loss estimated at approximately $40,000.

The fire razed the structures, all of frame construction, to the ground, and with the buildings went practically everything within them.

The list includes:
THE HUTCHINSON HART RESTAURANT.
CHARLES FERGUSON MEAT MARKET.
ROBERT NICHOLSON GENERAL STORE.
THE IRONDALE PHARMACY.
OFFICE OF DR. G. F. RICE.
THE JAMES RIDGLEY BARBER SHOP.
PAISLEY BROTHERS GENERAL STORE.
THE IRONDALE MOTOR SUPPLY CO.

The flames are thought to have originated in the rear of the Nicholson general store shortly before 8 o'clock.

Carry Water Through Snow Drifts.

Smoke, pouring out of the store, was seen by citizens who were attending a home talent play under way in the opera building.

A general alarm was sent out. Hundreds of men responded and bucket brigades were formed. But the fire had gained sufficient headway to make the efforts of the fire fighters practically useless and the lines of water carriers, who were forced to work through deep drifts of snow, slowly gave way before the sheet of flame.

Alarms were sent to Wellsville and Steubenville fire departments and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad fire forces. But snow drifts made it impossible to get either the Wellsville or the Steubenville trucks to the village. The fire was too far advanced when the C. & P. engine arrived.

Save Three Buildings.

But the efforts of the volunteer fire fighters were not entirely unrewarded. Three buildings, in imminent danger as the flames were at their height, were saved from destruction.

JAPAN COVERED BY SNOWFALL

Communication Blocked, Train Service is Hit.

TOKIO, Jan. 30.—All of Japan was covered by a record snowfall, one of the heaviest in many years.

All communication was temporarily crippled by the storm. Telegraph and telephone lines were put out of commission and train service into Tokio was blocked.

Syracuse Suffers.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Eighteen hours of continuous snowfall yesterday and today buried Syracuse under its heaviest blanket in 26 years. Thousands walked to work through three feet drifts this morning. Train, trolley and taxicab service was suspended.

More than sixty trolleys were stalled. Early estimates placed the number of abandoned automobiles at 1,500.

Three hundred and fifty persons narrowly escaped death when the roof of the Elmwood theatre caved in two minutes after the close of the last performance.

Blanketed under a foot of snow and with a wind blowing at times fifty and sixty miles an hour, all traffic in Albany, including trolley, rail and automobile, was completely demoralized. Streets were blocked by huge drifts in some places eight and ten feet deep.

Other Cities Snowbound.

100 ARE GUESTS

Monologues, Impersonations, etc., Feature Night Meeting.

An hour and a half program of humorous monologues, impersonations, musical numbers and other diversions, was featured by Jules Brazil, noted Toronto, Canada, entertainer, at a dinner-dance given by members of the Kiwanis club for their wives and friends at the East Liverpool Country club last evening.

The affair was attended by approximately 100 guests, many of whom were forced to make the trip to the club house under hazardous conditions owing to the deep snow. The program was a novel one.

The banquet tables were attractively decorated with flowers. A four-course dinner was served. Dr. G. E. Lewis, club president, presided. The chorus singing was led by Prof. H. F. Laughlin, with Clair Chambers as pianist.

Memorizes Guests' Names.

Few entertainers who have appeared in East Liverpool can measure up to Jules Brazil, who kept the crowd in a paroxysm of laughter from the moment he took charge until he sat down. Before he opened him program Mr. Brazil memorized the names and faces of every person in the banquet room. Throughout the evening he referred to the guests by their names, often calling them by their first name and even going so far in some cases as to mention their professions, business connections or occupations.

With the assistance of a piano, Mr. Brazil gave musical numbers, in which impersonations were featured. His monologues were numerous and his jokes were original. Mr. Brazil has been on the entertaining platform for nearly a score of years and during that time has appeared before many large conventions. He was introduced by President Lewis.

Souvenirs for Ladies.

Attendance prizes were given many ladies. Those drawing the souvenirs were: Mrs. Frank Huff, who secured a bottle of perfume, donated by C. T. Larkins; Mrs. L. C. Difford, box of chocolates, donated by F. S. Huff; Mrs. John Golden, bottle of perfume, donated by Dr. Clyde Larkins; Mrs. Chris Metsch, box of chocolates, given by Harry Fleming; Mrs. Richard Thompson, bottle of perfume, donated by Thomas Anderson; Mrs. W. A. Hobbs, bottle of perfume, also donated by Thomas Anderson; Mrs. Olen Dawson, box of chocolates, donated by Joshua Poole.

Dancing was featured between 10 and 12 o'clock. Music was furnished by Bill Moore's West Virginians, a five-piece orchestra, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Life-giving Serum is Rushed Over Ice-covered Trails.

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 30. — This diphtheria-stricken city appealed to the world for aid today. Conditions are serious and anti-toxin rushed here by airplane is essential to save hundreds of lives, Mayor George Mayfard declared.

Many children are among the victims. All schools have been closed and the city is under teh strictest quarantine, but the disease is spreading rapidly.

Without anti-toxin, primitive methods are being used in a fruitless attempt to check the ravages of the dread disease.

The conditions in Nome were regarded as critical by Maynard and dispatching of serum by airplane was regarded by him as the only course to be taken to save the sufferers.

"We are advocating that action be taken immediately, declared Maynard, "and want anti-toxin from Menana sent by airplane. Conditions here are very serious."

Mayor Maynard declared that all had been said that could be said concerning conditions in Nome at present and indicated that Nome felt re-

Senator Copeland Attacks Coolidge Influence on Bills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—President Coolidge's influence on legislation was condemned from the floor of the senate this afternoon by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, in an attack on the Moses compromise postal rate bill.

Copeland declared the postal measure was "unfair" and "outrageous" he urged his colleagues to shake off the White House influence in voting for the bill and declared he hoped the President's yacht Mayflower would soon be used exclusively for pleasure.

McLain Yellow Cab Co. Signs Contract With Pennsylvania

The McLain Yellow Cab company today signed a contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad company, whereby they obtain the passenger and baggage concession at the Cleveland & Pittsburgh station, East Second street.

Under the provisions of the agreement, it was announced, the taxicab company is given the exclusive right to parking in front of the station and to have solicitors on the railroad company's platform. The company will establish an office at the station, in addition to the headquarters uptown. The fleet of cabs willl be increased from four to six.

SLAYER OF GIRL ELECTROCUTED

Last 20 Aboard Taken Off S-48 as Big Submersible Begins to Fill With Chlorine Gas.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 30—All of the 45 officers and men from stranded U. S. submarine S-48 were rescued today by coast guard men from the Wood Island life saving station.

Twenty-five members of the crew were taken from the undersea boat after being imprisoned aboard all night in a howling northeast gale. Later the skeleton crew of 20 men was removed.

Mountainous Seas Lash Schooner, But Men Stay Aboard

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Jan. 30.—Mountainous seas today lashed the disabled four masted schooner Commack, aground on a sand bar at the eastern end of Sandy Hook.

All through the night the ship was driven farther upon the bar. A shift in the wind early today, however, restored hopes of coast guards that Captain Joseph Barnes and four members of his crew on board the schooner may be saved.

The captain and his men refused to leave the vessel. Although coast guards dropped a breeches buoy line over its decks and offered to take them off.

The last 20 men were taken off by the coast guardsmen after the big submersible began to fill with chlorine gas, seeping out of the storage batteries, as water from a hole in the submarine's bow penetrated the interior of the craft.

Lifesavers on Job.

The rescued crew were taken in power boats from the Woods island life saving station to Fort Stark. None of them was injured, but they were worn out from their all-night battle in the sea and went to bed.

The S-48 lies hard and fast on the mud flats off the Little Head breakwater. At high tide she drifted off the rocky reef on which she first stranded, floated around a bit and then brought up on the mud flats.

Great waves were breaking over her as the three coast guard lifeboats came alongside and rescued the submersible's crew.

Until the gas from the S-48's storage batteries leaves the interior of the undersea craft, it was impossible for any person to go aboard to learn the full extent of the damage.

Mayor Brown Metes Out $185.60 Fines to Alleged Gamblers

Fines aggregating $185.60 were assessed by Mayor Brown, last evening, against seven men, arrested yesterday afternoon when Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley raided an alleged gambling house in Center alley.

A. M. Wilson, alleged proprietor, was fined $75 and costs, amounting to $80.60. His son, Francis Wilson, charged with interfering with an officer, was assessed $25 and costs. Five players, alleged to have been participants in the game, Verne Boston, Arnold Nolan, George Conroy, B. Lambright and Frank Hudson, were fined $10 and costs each.

Police say that young Wilson was acting as a lookout for the game and sounded the alarm when he saw the two officers approaching. All the offenders paid their fines or made arrangements to settle.

U. S. DEBT NOTE GOES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 30—Diplomatic circles heard today that the American government was sending a note to France on the subject of the Franco-American debt.

The French government disclaimed knowledge of such a note. Both Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel said they not only had not received a note regarding the debt, but they had no official information that a note had been sent.

MEANS, FELDER FOUND GUILTY OF BRIBE PLOT

Jury Recommends Extreme Clemency for Convicted Lawyer.

SEALED VERDICT

Detective Gets Prison Sentence; Counsel Fined $10,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Gaston B. Means, detective, and Thomas B. Felder, his lawyer, were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe government officials in a sealed verdict returned today in U. S. district court. The jury recommended extreme clemency for Felder.

Judge Lindley sentenced Means to serve two years in the Atlanta, Ga., pentitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000. It was the mamimum penalty.

Felder was fined $10,000 but given no prison sentence.

Detective Smiles.

The jury's verdict was reached at 8:50 p. m. yesterday, but sealed and kept until court opened this morning. The jury had been out five hours and 45 minutes.

Means received the verdict with his familiar dimpled smile.

Felder turned pale, licked his dry lips and gulped, while he sat solemnly in his chair.

Takes Verdict as Joke.

Means seemed to take the jury's finding as a joke. He had bet a newspaper reporter five cents, at even money, that he would be convicted.

"We", he said with a grin, "I guess I win five cents".

The governor, in bringing the conspiracy charge complained that Felder, Means and the latter's confidential man, Elmer Jarnecke, who pleaded guilty and testified against them, conspired to bribe former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, one of Felder's law partners, United States district Attorney Hayward, his assistant, John Holloy Clark, and William

I. H. Aaronson, Pawnbroker, and Chester Becker Summoned.

ZIMERMAN ACTS

Brown Instructed to Bring Search Warrant and Affidavit.

Mayor Charles Brown today was called as a state witness against City Jail Turnkey W. A. Cline, charged with the theft of a revolver, valued at $40 in connection with the liquor raid made upon the farm home of Daum Appell, Campground road, Jan. 3.

Other State Witnesses.

The subpoena, issued by Justice M. K. Zimerman, in whose court at Lisbon Cline's preliminary hearing opened shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon, instructed the mayor to bring the search warrant and affidavit on which the raid of the home and the arrest of Appell was based.

I. H. Aaronson, Diamond pawnbroker, in whose store, it is alleged, the revolver was pawned for $10, and Chester Becker, of East End, were also summoned as witnesses for the state.

No subpoenaes for defense witnesses were requested up to noon, Justice Zimerman said. Cline, however, is expected to take the stand to testify in his own behalf.

Hearing In Mayor's Office.

The accused was released on $1,000 bond, signed by W. A. Calhoun, of East Liverpool, at noon Wednesday after he spent 24 hours in a cell in the county jail at Lisbon. He surrendered to the court at noon Tuesday after a constable failed to find him here on Monday evening.

The information against Cline was preferred by Appell, who was committed to the county jail when he was unable to pay a $2,000 fine assessed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the large crowd expected to attend the hearing, the session was transferred to the mayor's office in Lisbon.

A. & P. Tea Store Employes are Guests At Dinner-dance

Managers of the A. & P. tea stores of the East Liverpool-Alliance district and their employes, to the number of about 100, attended a dinner-dance held at the Larkins annex, Market street, last evening. Guests were in attendance from Chester, Wellsville, Salem, Sebring, Alliance, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Among the speakers were James Fitsimmons, Pittsburgh, general district superintendent; F. Schenkle, Pittsburgh, district purchasing agent; H. O. Hare, Youngstown, general superintendent Youngstown district; M. P. Ney, Youngstown, superintendent; J. R. Houck, Youngstown, also superintendent; W. R. Marchand, Wheeling, superintendent; L. M. Wallheim, Salem, assistant superintendent.

Musical numbers were furnished by the Troubador quartet and solos given by William Stevenson and William Wood. Dorsey Mann's Swanee Serenaders furnished music for the dance.

The meeting is an annual event among the store managers of the local district being held in the community where the largest sales are reported for the previous year. This is the second successive season that the five East Liverpool stores have topped the list.

New French Envoy Presents Credentials To Nation's Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Emile Daeschner, the new French ambassador, presented his credentials to President Coolidge today.

This routine bit of formality attracted unusual interest in Washington because of the understanding prevailing in administration circles that M. Daeschner will speedily follow it up by undertaking some serious negotiations with this government for the funding of the $4,000,000,000 French war debt.

'JAZZMANIAC,' FACING MOTHER-MURDER CHARGE, FIGHTS FOR HER WOMANHOOD

Dorothy Ellingston, 16-year-old "Tiger Girl," Ready to Battle Against Life Term in Prison.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Again the "Tiger Girl," 16-year-old Dorothy Ellingson, prepared today to fight for the sweet years of her womanhood.

The "Jazz struck" flapper who calmly confessed she killed her mother and then went out to dance and drink gin with "sheiks," the viking blood of her forebears asserting itself, flashed her eyes as she got ready to meet her attorneys who will battle to keep the girl out of San Quentin prison for life.

Juvenile Judge Frank Murasky ruled late yesterday the mother slayer must stand trial for murder in Superior court. With the tranquility and sangfroid that has marked her bearing most of the time since her arrest two weeks ago, Dorothy showed the same fortitude when her hopes for a short term in a girls' reformatory were dashed. A few tears, turned a-glowing beneath her red hair, filled her eyes. Then she clenched her hands and quietly walked to prison.

Leaves City Prison.

The "jazzmaniac" will probably be taken at once to Ingleside jail to be placed behind cell bars while waiting the month or two elapsing before her trial.

Under instructions of Policewoman Kathryn Sullivan, the child murderess packed her belongings ready for transfer from the comfortable city prison.

Unmoved, she crammed into a suitcase the copper-colored dress she

Qualify With Grades for Enrollment in Three Groups, With Credit for Good Conduct.

Two hundred and twenty high school students have been placed on the recognition lists as result of their qualifying grades during the last six weeks of school, Miss Florence Updegraff, principal, announced today.

The students have been enrolled in three groups. The first, which contain 46 names, includes those who have grades of 90 or above in four subjects. The second group, 65 students, are those whose grades in three subjects are 90 or above, with the fourth grade not below 80. The third group includes students who have four grades of 80 or above. This classification is the largest, with 109 listed.

Each student placed upon the recognition list is also graded under the citizenship head. This includes regular attendance and good conduct about the building. The vote of the entire faculty confers good citizenship.

Post Recognition Lists

New Recognition lists will be posted at the close of each six weeks of school when report cards are distributed. Special exercises honoring students who have been included in the lists will be conducted at the close of the term. Special recognition will also be given those who complete their courses under special difficulty. Many children are among the victims. All schools have been closed and the city is under teh strictest quarantine, but the disease is spreading rapidly.

Without anti-toxin, primitive methods are being used in a fruitless attempt to check the ravages of the dread disease.

The conditions in Nome were regarded as critical by Maynard and dispatching of serum by airplane was regarded by him as the only course to be taken to save the sufferers.

"We are advocating that action be taken immediately, declared Maynard, "and want anti-toxin from Menana sent by airplane. Conditions here are very serious."

Mayor Maynard declared that all had been said that could be said concerning conditions in Nome at present and indicated that Nome felt re-

Senator Copeland Attacks Coolidge Influence on Bills

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—President Coolidge's influence on legislation was condemned from the floor of the senate this afternoon by Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, in an attack on the Moses compromise postal rate bill.

Copeland declared the postal measure was "unfair" and "outrageous" he urged his colleagues to shake off the White House influence in voting for the bill and declared he hoped the President's yacht Mayflower would soon be used exclusively for pleasure.

McLain Yellow Cab Co. Signs Contract With Pennsylvania

The McLain Yellow Cab company today signed a contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad company, whereby they obtain the passenger and baggage concession at the Cleveland & Pittsburgh station, East Second street.

Under the provisions of the agreement, it was announced, the taxicab company is given the exclusive right to parking in front of the station and to have solicitors on the railroad company's platform. The company will establish an office at the station, in addition to the headquarters uptown. The fleet of cabs willl be increased from four to six.

SLAYER OF GIRL ELECTROCUTED

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Jan. 30—Peter Virgolini was electrocuted early today for the fiendish murder of last September of nine-year-old Anna Tomsich. He walked with a steady pace to the death chamber, apparently unconcerned as to his fate.

Last 20 Aboard Taken Off S-48 as Big Submersible Begins to Fill With Chlorine Gas.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 30—All of the 45 officers and men from stranded U. S. submarine S-48 were rescued today by coast guard men from the Wood Island life saving station.

Twenty-five members of the crew were taken from the undersea boat after being imprisoned aboard all night in a howling northeast gale. Later the skeleton crew of 20 men was removed.

Mountainous Seas Lash Schooner, But Men Stay Aboard

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Jan. 30.—Mountainous seas today lashed the disabled four masted schooner Commack, aground on a sand bar at the eastern end of Sandy Hook.

All through the night the ship was driven farther upon the bar. A shift in the wind early today, however, restored hopes of coast guards that Captain Joseph Barnes and four members of his crew on board the schooner may be saved.

The captain and his men refused to leave the vessel. Although coast guards dropped a breeches buoy line over its decks and offered to take them off.

The last 20 men were taken off by the coast guardsmen after the big submersible began to fill with chlorine gas, seeping out of the storage batteries, as water from a hole in the submarine's bow penetrated the interior of the craft.

Lifesavers on Job.

The rescued crew were taken in power boats from the Woods Island life saving station to Fort Stark. None of them was injured, but they were worn out from their all-night battle in the sea and went to bed.

The S-48 lies hard and fast on the mud flats off the Little Head breakwater. At high tide she drifted off the rocky reef on which she first stranded, floated around a bit and then brought up on the mud flats.

Great waves were breaking over her as the three coast guard lifeboats came alongside and rescued the submersible's crew.

Until the gas from the S-48's storage batteries leaves the interior of the undersea craft, it was impossible for any person to go aboard to learn the full extent of the damage.

Mayor Brown Metes Out $185.60 Fines to Alleged Gamblers

Fines aggregating $185.60 were assessed by Mayor Brown, last evening, against seven men, arrested yesterday afternoon when Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley raided an alleged gambling house in Center alley.

A. M. Wilson, alleged proprietor, was fined $75 and costs, amounting to $80.60. His son, Francis Wilson, charged with interfering with an officer, was assessed $15 and costs. Five players, alleged to have been participants in the game, Verne Boston, Arnold Nolan, George Conroy, B. Lambright and Frank Hudson, were fined $10 and costs each.

Police say that young Wilson was acting as a lookout for the game and sounded the alarm when he saw the two officers approaching. All the offenders paid their fines or made arrangements to settle.

U. S. DEBT NOTE GOES TO FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 30—Diplomatic circles heard today that the American government was sending a note to France on the subject of the Franco-American debt.

The French government disclaimed knowledge of such a note. Both Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel said they not only had not received a note regarding the debt, but they had no official information that a note had been sent.

MEANS, FELDER FOUND GUILTY OF BRIBE PLOT

Jury Recommends Extreme Clemency for Convicted Lawyer.

SEALED VERDICT

Detective Gets Prison Sentence; Counsel Fined $10,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Gaston B. Means, detective, and Thomas B. Felder, his lawyer, were found guilty of conspiracy to bribe government officials in a sealed verdict returned today in U. S. district court. The jury recommended extreme clemency for Felder.

Judge Lindley sentenced Means to serve two years in the Atlanta, Ga., pentitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000. It was the mamimum penalty.

Felder was fined $10,000 but given no prison sentence.

Detective Smiles.

The jury's verdict was reached at 8:50 p. m. yesterday, but sealed and kept until court opened this morning. The jury had been out five hours and 45 minutes.

Means received the verdict with his familiar dimpled smile.

Felder turned pale, licked his dry lips and gulped, while he sat solemnly in his chair.

Takes Verdict as Joke.

Means seemed to take the jury's finding as a joke. He had bet a newspaper reporter five cents, at even money, that he would be convicted.

"We", he said with a grin, "I guess I win five cents".

The governor, in bringing the conspiracy charge complained that Felder, Means and the latter's confidential man, Elmer Jarnecke, who pleaded guilty and testified against them, conspired to bribe former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, one of Felder's law partners, United States district Attorney Hayward, his assistant, John Holloy Clark, and William

BELLAIRE, O., Jan. 30—Ice in the Ohio river so badly damaged the Ferry, Charon, that it had to suspend operations today. Hundreds of workers were forced to travel by trolley to Wheeling and thence back to Benwood in order to reach the big steel mills just opposite this city.

TURNKEY FACES HEARING FOR ALLEGED THEFT OF $40 PISTOL

I. H. Aaronson, Pawnbroker, and Chester Becker Summoned.

ZIMERMAN ACTS

Brown Instructed to Bring Search Warrant and Affidavit.

Mayor Charles Brown today was called as a state witness against City Jail Turnkey W. A. Cline, charged with the theft of a revolver, valued at $40 in connection with the liquor raid made upon the farm home of Daum Appell, Campground road, Jan. 3.

Other State Witnesses.

The subpoena, issued by Justice M. K. Zimerman, in whose court at Lisbon Cline's preliminary hearing opened shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon, instructed the mayor to bring the search warrant and affidavit on which the raid of the home and the arrest of Appell was based.

I. H. Aaronson, Diamond pawnbroker, in whose store, it is alleged, the revolver was pawned for $10, and Chester Becker, of East End, were also summoned as witnesses for the state.

No subpoenaes for defense witnesses were requested up to noon, Justice Zimerman said. Cline, however, is expected to take the stand to testify in his own behalf.

Hearing In Mayor's Office.

The accused was released on $1,000 bond, signed by W. A. Calhoun, of East Liverpool, at noon Wednesday after he spent 24 hours in a cell in the county jail at Lisbon. He surrendered to the court at noon Tuesday after a constable failed to find him here on Monday evening.

The information against Cline was preferred by Appell, who was committed to the county jail when he was unable to pay a $2,000 fine assessed by Mayor Brown.

Because of the large crowd expected to attend the hearing, the session was transferred to the mayor's office in Lisbon.

A. & P. Tea Store Employes are Guests At Dinner-dance

Managers of the A. & P. tea stores of the East Liverpool-Alliance district and their employes, to the number of about 100, attended a dinner dance held at the Larkins annex, Market street, last evening. Guests were in attendance from Chester, Wellsville, Salem, Sebring, Alliance, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Among the speakers were James Fitsimmons, Pittsburgh, general district superintendent; F. Schenkle, Pittsburgh, district purchasing agent; H. O. Hare, Youngstown, general superintendent Youngstown district; M. P. Ney, Youngstown, superintendent; J. R. Houck, Youngstown, also superintendent; W. R. Marchand, Wheeling, superintendent; L. M. Wallheim, Salem, assistant superintendent.

Musical numbers were furnished by the Troubador quartet and solos given by William Stevenson and William Wood. Dorsey Mann's Swanee Serenaders furnished music for the dance.

The meeting is an annual event among the store managers of the local district being held in the community where the largest sales are reported for the previous year. This is the second successive season that the five East Liverpool stores have topped the list.

New French Envoy Presents Credentials To Nation's Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—Emile Daeschner, the new French ambassador, presented his credentials to President Coolidge today.

This routine bit of formality attracted unusual interest in Washington because of the understanding prevailing in administration circles that M. Daeschner will speedily follow it up by undertaking some serious negotiations with this government for the funding of the $4,000,000,000 French war debt.

'JAZZMANIAC,' FACING MOTHER-MURDER CHARGE, FIGHTS FOR HER WOMANHOOD

Dorothy Ellingston, 16-year-old "Tiger Girl," Ready to Battle Against Life Term in Prison.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Again the "Tiger Girl," 16-year-old Dorothy Ellingson, prepared today to fight for the sweet years of her womanhood.

The "Jazz struck" flapper who calmly confessed she killed her mother and then went out to dance and drink gin with "sheiks," the viking blood of her forebears asserting itself, flashed her eyes as she got ready to meet her attorneys who will battle to keep the girl out of San Quentin prison for life.

Juvenile Judge Frank Murasky ruled late yesterday the mother slayer must stand trial for murder in Superior court. With the tranquility and sangfroid that has marked her bearing most of the time since her arrest two weeks ago, Dorothy showed the same fortitude when her hopes for a short term in a girls' reformatory were dashed. A few tears, turned a-glowing beneath her red hair, filled her eyes. Then she clenched her hands and quietly walked to prison.

Leaves City Prison.

The "jazzmaniac" will probably be taken at once to Ingleside jail to be placed behind cell bars while waiting the month or two elapsing before her trial.

Under instructions of Policewoman Kathryn Sullivan, the child murderess packed her belongings ready for transfer from the comfortable city prison.

Unmoved, she crammed into a suitcase the copper-colored dress she

Qualify With Grades for Enrollment in Three Groups, With Credit for Good Conduct.

Two hundred and twenty high school students have been placed on the recognition lists as result of their qualifying grades during the last six weeks of school, Miss Florence Updegraff, principal, announced today.

The students have been enrolled in three groups. The first, which contain 46 names, includes those who have grades of 90 or above in four subjects. The second group, 65 students, are those whose grades in three subjects are 90 or above, with the fourth grade not below 80. The third group includes students who have four grades of 80 or above. This classification is the largest, with 109 listed.

Each student placed upon the recognition list is also graded under the citizenship head. This includes regular attendance and good conduct about the building. The vote of the entire faculty confers good citizenship.

Post Recognition Lists

New Recognition lists will be posted at the close of each six weeks of school when report cards are distributed. Special exercises honoring students who have been included in the lists will be conducted at the close of the term. Special recognition will also be given those who complete their courses under special difficulty. There will be special honor to students who qualify for their work on the Keramos, theh igh school maga-

EAST END REVIVAL MEET DRAWS LARGELY

Evangelist Kaye Talks to Large Audience Here.

A large crowd was present last night in the Pennsylvania avenue Church of Christ when the Rev. Harry Kaye, of New Castle, Pa., preached on the "Credentials of Jesus," he took his text from the book of John 17:21. This evening his sermon subject will be "Lord To Whom Shall We Go."

Announcement was made that there would be no services on Saturday evening. Sunday morning Rev. Kaye's sermon subject will be "The Highest Service." In the afternoon all young people under the age of fifteen are requested to be present. In the evening his subject will be "Something in East Liverpool that God Won't Forgive."

In his sermon last night he spoke in part as follows:

"Credentials is a letter that tells what the individuals are. Jesus came into the city and said, "I am the son of God" but they demanded his credentials. Jesus has the credentials. He can read men and women's hearts, he knows your heart, I don't. God knows whether you are right or wrong, he is the one that you will have to settle with.

Jesus has power over disease, he went to Peter's wife's mother and Jesus rebuked the fever and she immediately arose and administered to those present. Even the very devil trembles at the name of God. Jesus has power over teh spirit and demons. Since Jesus came into this old world, the idols have disappeared, and we are living in greater harmony than ever before.

Jesus Christ produces another credential, when he overcomes the power of death. A large amount of the people are trying to eliminate these credentials, and how foolish they are. There are some people that do no live five minutes from the gospel and then they are not accepting that joy. Twenty-five per cent of the people go to church and the other seventy-five per cent, go to a ball game, pay to get in and then they think they are having a good time. There are a lot of people that think they are saved mechanically.

Mircales were necessary in the early days of the church but they are not necessary in this day and age. Heaven is a place that we all have to prepare for, if we go to heaven unprepared it would be hell for us. God wants you and I for his service. This is our preparation and if we prepare here we will be able to go with Jesus Christ to the place where he has gone to prepare for you and for me.

Tonight is the time to prepare for that day, now is the very minute that you should accept that blessed Christ that is waiting to take you into his fold, the same as the shepherd takes the little ones into the fold, where they will be protected, well from all the herm that is always near.

Won't you come this night and find that perfect peace?

Scouts Meet Tonight.

Members of the Boy and Girl Scouts of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will meet this evening in the church. Routine business will be transacted.

Food Sale Arranged.

Women of the Second United Presbyterian church will hold a food sale tomorrow afternoon in the Bradmon store, Mulberry street.

Cottage Prayer Meeting.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 this evening in the home of W. L. Mautz, 1833 Michigan avenue. These meetings are under the auspices of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church.

Bear Hunters Loaded For Big Game Find Sleeping Porcupine

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—A cattle buyer recently came into the hamlet of Mountain View with teeth chattering and a tale of a big bear he had seen in the barn of an abandoned farm.

The local Daniel Boones immediately unlimbered their artillery and hastened to the barn, with high hopes of bear skin rugs and bear steak. All they found was an extra large porcupine asleep on a rafter.

First—Stop Pain Don't suffer for an hour

When pain comes, stop it. Be ever ready to stop it quickly, night or day. Don't suffer any pain which a moment of rubbing can stop.

These include pains allied to rheumatism, to soreness, to lameness, to chest colds. They can be stopped at once. For 65 years they have been stopped by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

As for curing the cause of the trouble. Nature usually does that. But don't suffer while you wait. St. Jacobs Oil causes counter irritation. Then it draws the blood to the surface to relieve congestion. In a minute or two you feel that the pain has ebbed. You rejoice in relief.

Perhaps there are other ways. But this is the one way that millions have used—have proved it for 65 years. You can rely on it. Your druggist guarantees it. Why take chances when you know that nothing can be better?

Don't wait for an emergency. It may mean a night of pain. Have St. Jacobs Oil ever ready. Apply it as soon as you feel a pain, or a chest cold. Be ready to soothe it, to check it at once. There will never be a better way. Go get it now to be prepared when pain comes. It may save to you and yours many unhappy hours.

TOKIO — It will cost about $55,000,000 to run the city of Tokio during 1925. The annual budget estimate of Mayor Nakamura amounts to 110,300,000 yen, which is a decrease of 13,200,000 yen as compared with 1924.

How Goiter Affects School Children
MOTHERS SHOULD WATCH FOR THESE SYMPTOMS

A goiter usually develops during the age of puberty or a little earlier. Some cases are noticeable at 10 years of age, but most of the cases occur in the fourteenth and fifteenth years.

Even simple goiter is accompanied by some derangement of the nervous system, manifested in restlessness, nervousness, irritation and more or less insomnia, together with lack of attentiveness and concentration. These things hamper a child or youth in its school work and in its full development mentally and physically. Then in girls the disfigurement of simple goiter is no trifling matter. This has a tendency to make a girl very sensitive, embarrassed and retiring. Although the goiter itself oftentimes subsides, the nervous manifestations may leave a lasting impression upon the person afflicted. Occasionally the enlargement is permanent and sometimes there is a fatal termination.

Since one out of every four or five young girls develops a goiter, it should be welcome news to parents that medical research has found its real cause and that it is within the power of any parent to prevent its occurrence. It has been demonstrated that goiter is due to a deficiency of iodine in food. Table salt is now obtainable at grocery stores which contains a definite amount of iodine, and if this is used in all food, instead of ordinary salt, health authorities state it will prove to be a positive preventive of simple goiter.

AT GROCERS

MULKEY'S IODINE SALT for Goiter prevention comes in 2-lb. round cartons with pouring spout. It is to be used for all household purposes—both in cooking and on the table. The iodine does not change the taste or color. In these respects it is just like any other high grade free running table salt.

Begin using it today—ask your grocer for MULKEY'S IODINE SALT, and be sure the name MULKEY'S is on the label.

"Yes, We Have New Togos Today"

—A free translation of one of the advertisements which may have greeted the public of Pompeii. According to archaeologosts, the art of advertising was highly developed in the ancient city. Every available wall, pillar and business front was gay with all sorts of announcements to attract the patronage of the noble Romans. Then, as today, advertising was the art of importing useful information—a recognized essential not only of business, but of civilization itself.

Coats For Misses' and Women At New Reduced Prices

For the Coat you wanted but waited until after Christmas to buy—here's the sale. With lots of service ahead of any Coat you may buy in this sale the ones offered have the additional advantage of being much lower in price.

Simplicity of the smartest sort distinguishes these Coats. Taken from our regular stocks they are of fine quality fabric and fur and this, together with simplicity of design, makes them unusually attractive, especially when one considers their modest prices. Dull surfaced fabrics that are so good this winter are fashioned into engaging modes, in the straight unbroken silhouette or varied with circular flares, stitching or bands of trimming. Collared, cuffed and often bordered with fur—and silk lined of course. Sizes 14 to 50.

A good selection of Stylish Stout Coats. The following prices will prevail during the January Sales:

Evangelist Kaye Talks to Large Audience Here.

A large crowd was present last night in the Pennsylvania avenue Church of Christ when the Rev. Harry Kaye, of New Castle, Pa., preached on the "Credentials of Jesus," he took his text from the book of John 17:21. This evening his sermon subject will be "Lord To Whom Shall We Go."

Announcement was made that there would be no services on Saturday evening. Sunday morning Rev. Kaye's sermon subject will be "The Highest Service." In the afternoon all young people under the age of fifteen are requested to be present. In the evening his subject will be "Something in East Liverpool that God Won't Forgive."

In his sermon last night he spoke in part as follows:

"Credentials is a letter that tells what the individuals are. Jesus came into the city and said, "I am the son of God" but they demanded his credentials. Jesus has the credentials. He can read men and women's hearts, he knows your heart, I don't. God knows whether you are right or wrong, he is the one that you will have to settle with.

Jesus has power over disease, he went to Peter's wife's mother and Jesus rebuked the fever and she immediately arose and administered to those present. Even the very devil trembles at the name of God. Jesus has power over teh spirit and demons. Since Jesus came into this old world, the idols have disappeared, and we are living in greater harmony than ever before.

Jesus Christ produces another credential, when he overcomes the power of death. A large amount of the people are trying to eliminate these credentials, and how foolish they are. There are some people that do no live five minutes from the gospel and then they are not accepting that joy. Twenty-five per cent of the people go to church and the other seventy-five per cent, go to a ball game, pay to get in and then they think they are having a good time. There are a lot of people that think they are saved mechanically.

Mircales were necessary in the early days of the church but they are not necessary in this day and age. Heaven is a place that we all have to prepare for, if we go to heaven unprepared it would be hell for us. God wants you and I for his service. This is our preparation and if we prepare here we will be able to go with Jesus Christ to the place where he has gone to prepare for you and for me.

Tonight is the time to prepare for that day, now is the very minute that you should accept that blessed Christ that is waiting to take you into his fold, the same as the shepherd takes the little ones into the fold, where they will be protected, well from all the herm that is always near.

Won't you come this night and find that perfect peace?

Scouts Meet Tonight.

Members of the Boy and Girl Scouts of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will meet this evening in the church. Routine business will be transacted.

Food Sale Arranged.

Women of the Second United Presbyterian church will hold a food sale tomorrow afternoon in the Bradmon store, Mulberry street.

Cottage Prayer Meeting.

Cottage prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 this evening in the home of W. L. Mantz, 1833 Michigan avenue. These meetings are under the auspices of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church.

Bear Hunters Loaded For Big Game Find Sleeping Porcupine

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—A cattle buyer recently came into the hamlet of Mountain View with teeth chattering and a tale of a big bear he had seen in the barn of an abandoned farm.

The local Daniel Boones immediately unlimbered their artillery and hastened to the barn, with high hopes of bear skin rugs and bear steak. All they found was an extra large porcupine asleep on a rafter.

First—Stop Pain Don't suffer for an hour

When pain comes, stop it. Be ever ready to stop it quickly, night or day. Don't suffer any pain which a moment of rubbing can stop.

These include pains allied to rheumatism, to soreness, to lameness, to chest colds. They can be stopped at once. For 65 years they have been stopped by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

As for curing the cause of the trouble. Nature usually does that. But don't suffer while you wait. St. Jacobs Oil causes counter irritation. Then it draws the blood to the surface to relieve congestion. In a minute or two you feel that the pain has ebbed. You rejoice in relief.

Perhaps there are other ways. But this is the one way that millions have used—have proved it for 65 years. You can rely on it. Your druggist guarantees it. Why take chances when you know that nothing can be better?

Don't wait for an emergency. It may mean a night of pain. Have St. Jacobs Oil ever ready. Apply it as soon as you feel a pain, or a chest cold. Be ready to soothe it, to check it at once. There will never be a better way. Go get it now to be prepared when pain comes. It may save to you and yours many unhappy hours.

Government Comes High.

TOKIO — It will cost about $55,000,000 to run the city of Tokio during 1925. The annual budget estimate of Mayor Nakamura amounts to 110,360,000 yen, which is a decrease of 13,200,000 yen as compared with 1924.

How Goiter Affects School Children
MOTHERS SHOULD WATCH FOR THESE SYMPTOMS

A goiter usually develops during the age of puberty or a little earlier. Some cases are noticeable at 10 years of age, but most of the cases occur in the fourteenth and fifteenth years.

Even simple goiter is accompanied by some derangement of the nervous system, manifested in restlessness, nervousness, irritation and more or less insomnia, together with lack of attentiveness and concentration. These things hamper a child or youth in its school work and in its full development mentally and physically. Then in girls the disfigurement of simple goiter is no trifling matter. This has a tendency to make a girl very sensitive, embarrassed and retiring. Although the goiter itself oftentimes subsides, the nervous manifestations may leave a lasting impression upon the person afflicted. Occasionally the enlargement is permanent and sometimes there is a fatal termination.

Since one out of every four or five young girls develops a goiter, it should be welcome news to parents that medical research has found its real cause and that it is within the power of any parent to prevent its occurrence. It has been demonstrated that goiter is due to a deficiency of iodine in food. Table salt is now obtainable at grocery stores which contains a definite amount of iodine, and if this is used in all food, instead of ordinary salt, health authorities state it will prove to be a positive preventive of simple goiter.

AT GROCERS

MULKEY'S IODINE SALT for Goiter prevention comes in 2-lb. round cartons with pouring spout. It is to be used for all household purposes—both in cooking and on the table. The iodine does not change the taste or color. In these respects it is just like any other high grade free running table salt.

Begin using it today—ask your grocer for MULKEY'S IODINE SALT, and be sure the name MULKEY'S is on the label.

Tomorrow We Open Our New Washington Street Annex With a Special Sale of Domestics

"Yes, We Have New Togos Today"

—A free translation of one of the advertisements which may have greeted the public of Pompeii. According to archaeologosts, the art of advertising was highly developed in the ancient city. Every available wall, pillar and business front was gay with all sorts of announcements to attract the patronage of the noble Romans. Then, as today, advertising was the art of importing useful information—a recognized essential not only of business, but of civilization itself.

Coats For Misses' and Women At New Reduced Prices

For the Coat you wanted but waited until after Christmas to buy—here's the sale. With lots of service ahead of any Coat you may buy in this sale the ones offered have the additional advantage of being much lower in price.

Simplicity of the smartest sort distinguishes these Coats. Taken from our regular stocks they are of fine quality fabric and fur and this, together with simplicity of design, makes them unusually attractive, especially when one considers their modest prices. Dull surfaced fabrics that are so good this winter are fashioned into engaging modes, in the straight unbroken silhouette or varied with circular flares, stitching or bands of trimming. Collared, cuffed and often bordered with fur—and silk lined of course. Sizes 14 to 50.

A good selection of Stylish Stout Coats. The following prices will prevail during the January Sales:

MIDLAND

SMITH'S FERRY STATION ENTERED

Railroad officials are making an investigation into the robbery of the Pennsylvania station at Smith's Ferry, Wednesday night, it was announced today.

The lock on the door was jimmeyed, and it is believed that the robbers gained entrance in this way. A trunk was broken into and a suit of clothes; two pairs of trousers, three silk shirts, one 38-calibre-colt revolver, underwear, and some other small articles—were stolen.

The theft was discovered by the station agent yesterday morning, when he came on duty.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE MAKING RECORD

Midland high school basketball team is holding their own with county teams even though they have had no practice or available place to play. The girls defeated the Darlington team 31-16 and the boys 30-12 in the municipal building here Tuesday evening. Coach C. R. Freeble is planning several other games for the team during the next few weeks. Several will be played away from home. The boys team will play against the alumni in the municipal building Saturday evening.

MIDLAND POLICE FORCE IS BUSY

Tom Haley, Midland avenue, was arrested last evening by local police on a charge of drunkenness. John Danny of Midland avenue was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Bert Botts, colored, was taken into custody on a charge of drunkenness. They will be given hearings this evening before Burgess H. H. Bream. Leo Williams of Midland avenue was arrested on a charge of being a suspicious person. He is being held here for further investigation.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE TEACHER NAMED

Miss Virgil Boyle of Ohio avenue, who has been teaching in the third grades of the local schools, has been appointed domestic science teacher for the remainder of the term owing to the marriage and resignation of Miss Kathryn Dunn. Miss Boyle has taken special courses at Margaret Morrison college, Pittsburgh, and also Pennsylvania State College. She is also a graduate of California State Normal school. Substitute Teacher Miss Hazel Hykes is filling Miss Boyle's place in the grades until further plans can be made.

Dance Arranged.

Hebrew Ladies' Aid society will hold a dance in the municipal building Wednesday evening, February 4. Music will be furnished by a city orchestra.

Cake Sale Arranged.

A cake and candy sale was held in the Gamble drug store Thursday afternoon by the pupils of the Domestic Science class of the local high school under the direction of Miss Kathryn Dunn, for the benefit of the High School Athletic association.

LOCAL MAN FACES LIQUOR CHARGE

Constable Kidd, State Trooper Davis and County Detective Baker arrested Joseph Sladovitch of Midland avenue yesterday charged with violating the liquor laws. He was released on $2,000 bail and will be given a hearing before Justice Addison Courtney of Bridgewater, Pa., Friday evening.

High School Play Tonight.

The playlet, "Seventeen," will be put on by the students of the high school under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Slater, English teacher, in the local high school this evening in the State theatre at 8 p. m.

Euchre Tonight.

The C. D. of A. will hold a euchre and five hundred party in the lyceum of the Presentation church this evening. A $2.50 gold piece will be given as door prize and various other prizes have been donated for the winners. A luncheon will be served by the ladies of the C. D. of A.

Midland Personals.

Mrs. George Wick of Penn avenue is confined to her home suffering serious illness. Her condition is reported critical.

Alex Zigas of Penn avenue, who was injured in a coasting accident several weeks ago and underwent several operations, is convalescing rapidly.

Mrs. Thomas King of Penn avenue, who was injured in a fall on the ice several days ago, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Fred Parks of Seventh street was an East Liverpool business visitor yesterday.

F. C. Ketler of Seventh street was a business visitor in Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon.

George Barnum of Carnegie, Pa., a former resident of this place, visited with friends in town several days recently.

Frank Bahm of Farrell, Pa., former merchant of this place, visited with the Sigal family recently.

Mrs. John Scarcella of Midland avenue, who has been ill, is little improved. Mr. Scarcella, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia, is able to be about.

Fred Dover of Ohio avenue, who was injured in a coasting accident several weeks ago and had his collar bone broken, is able to be out.

This Sincere Letter For Surgeons, Physicians, Dentists

We are calling the attention of the good people of East Liverpool and vicinity to the most powerful, non-poisonous, non-alcoholic, non-irritating Antiseptic known Kojene.

In this newspaper we will tell the people, and especially the ailing people to whom it will prove a blessing, just exactly what physical ills it will help, and in spite of our enthusiasm for this wonderful antiseptic will stick to the truth in every statement we make.

We will not exaggerate—although some of the things we write may seem exaggerated.

Nothing equals Kojene for irrigation of the antrum; for Pyorrhea and Gingivitus; for Stomatitis, Trench Mouth, pus pockets and all cases of infection.

Kojene, so we will tell more people who need it, is four times as powerful as an antiseptic than Carbolic Acid. It is much more powerful than poisonous bi-chloride of mercury, and will not burn or even irritate the tenderest membrane.

We will tell the readers of this paper of its wonderful and quickly effective action in Tonsilitis and sore throat; of how completely it drives out the offensive mucous of catarrh and thoroughly cleans the entire nasal tract.

We will tell them of its remarkable success in the treatment of cankers in the mouth and how quickly it succeeds when used for Eczema, itching skin, ulcers, boils and skin eruptions.

And last but by no means least, we will tell them that as a germ destroying mouth wash it is as far ahead of the highly flavored and bubbling kind as daylight is to candlelight.

It is seventy-five times as powerful as the weak kinds whose popularity seems to lie in their weakness and the ignorance of those who use them.

A sixty cent bottle (6 ounces) of Kojene, will make one-half gallon of a stronger, better and more efficient mouth wash than the high priced doubtful ones you buy ready made.

Medical men like to join in any effort to drive menacing poisons from the home and give their support to any great and worthy preparation that destroys pernicious germs and helps humanity—that is just what Kojene does.

In six ounce bottles at Carnahan's Drug Store, Jesse D. Holloway, Mathews' Cut Rate Store and every progressive druggist in America, 60c with the understanding that money will be returned if any purchaser is dissatisfied.

This Sincere Letter For Surgeons, Physicians, Dentists

We are calling the attention of the good people of East Liverpool and vicinity to the most powerful, non-poisonous, non-alcoholic, non-irritating Antiseptic known Kojene.

In this newspaper we will tell the people, and especially the ailing people to whom it will prove a blessing, just exactly what physical ills it will help, and in spite of our enthusiasm for this wonderful antiseptic will stick to the truth in every statement we make.

We will not exaggerate—although some of the things we write may seem exaggerated.

Nothing equals Kojene for irrigation of the antrum; for Pyorrhea and Gingivitus; for Stomatitis, Trench Mouth, pus pockets and all cases of infection.

Kojene, so we will tell more people who need it, is four times as powerful as an antiseptic than Carbolic Acid. It is much more powerful than poisonous bi-chloride of mercury, and will not burn or even irritate the tenderest membrane.

We will tell the readers of this paper of its wonderful and quickly effective action in Tonsilitis and sore throat; of how completely it drives out the offensive mucous of catarrh and thoroughly cleans the entire nasal tract.

We will tell them of its remarkable success in the treatment of cankers in the mouth and how quickly it succeeds when used for Eczema, itching skin, ulcers, boils and skin eruptions.

And last but by no means least, we will tell them that as a germ destroying mouth wash it is as far ahead of the highly flavored and bubbling kind as daylight is to candlelight.

It is seventy-five times as powerful as the weak kinds whose popularity seems to lie in their weakness and the ignorance of those who use them.

A sixty cent bottle (6 ounces) of Kojene, will make one-half gallon of a stronger, better and more efficient mouth wash than the high priced doubtful ones you buy ready made.

Medical men like to join in any effort to drive menacing poisons from the home and give their support to any great and worthy preparation that destroys pernicious germs and helps humanity—that is just what Kojene does.

In six ounce bottles at Carnahan's Drug Store, Jesse D. Holloway, Mathews' Cut Rate Store and every progressive druggist in America, 60c with the understanding that money will be returned if any purchaser is dissatisfied.

Play and Crime Reduction

The chief of police of Memphis, Tenn., is quoted as saying: "There are three departments of our municipal government that can reduce crime. First, our playground and recreation department as an educational and preventive force. The police department comes second, and our courts third."

Apparently the police chief is not the only Memphis citizen who has such belief in the usefulness of parks and playgrounds. Memphis is a city of about 165,000. It spends $337,500 a year on playgrounds and recreation. It has invested $15,000,000 in recreational facilities, which include the setting apart of 1,165 acres of land, 25 neighboring parks, the third largest zoo in the country and an art gallery. There are swimming pools, baseball grounds, golf courses, tennis courts, bridlepaths and beautiful flower gardens in the park system.

Many people regard these things as foolishness and consider the city that pays for them extravagant. Memphis can point to an unusually good record in regard to juvenile delinquency, to physical and moral health for rich and poor citizens and to a decreasing crime record.

Viewed in this light, community playgrounds are worth considerably more than their cost.

Health Examinations

Sarnia, Ont., has just been observing its annual public health week. The special feature of the program, more important than conferences of medical workers and public lectures on health subjects, has been the giving of physical examinations by physicians and dentists.

Hundreds of citizens from the city and the surrounding country districts registered for physical examinations. Eye, ear, nose and throat, and chest specialists, from Sarnia and other Canadian cities, have been working overtime to take care of the people appearing at the clinics. Particularly hopeful is the fact that great numbers of these patients have been children. That means that a good many minor defects, which might become serious ailments if not cared for in childhood, will be discovered and the proper treatment recommended.

Persons interested in public health work in any way have long been urging regular physical examinations for everybody. An annual examination need not always be detailed. It should be sufficiently thorough, however, to disclose the general physical condition. If that is good, then it is likely that there are no hidden diseases at work. If the general condition is not good, then the examination should be made more detailed until the disturbing cause is found. Many ills formerly regarded as inevitable and uncurable can be entirely prevented or completely cured if a regular, annual physical examination is had.

Lives, White and Yellow

The United States has always prided itself on its fair dealing with China, and thereby has often earned the gratitude of that country. Helpless China is not used to being treated fairly. But here is a little matter that invites thought:

Compensation has been recommended to congress for the death of a Chinese boy 11 years old, killed accidentally by a bullet in his garden at Hankow, while an American warship crew were shooting at a target.

A naval inquiry, absolving the crew of blame, concluded that, inasmuch as China had frequently paid $25,000 for the death of an American, the United States should compensate the family of the dead boy "in the sum of $100 gold."

It may be that these contrasting sums represent the relative value of life in China and America—that an American's life is worth 250 times as much as that of a Chinaman's. Yet one wonders what the lad's parents will think about it, and what the Chinese government will think, and what our Asiatic friends in general will think. It doesn't look like anything for the richest nation on earth to brag about.

Haskin Letter

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF GREECE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—One of the organizations undertaking the care of the destitute among the million and a half refugees who sought sanctuary in Greece following the destruction of Smyrna is the American Friends of Greece, which has placed its philanthropic work on the practical basis of helping the unfortunates to help themselves.

This society has its headquarters in Washington. Professor Edward Capps, of Princeton, former American minister to Greece, and former commissioner of the American Red Cross in that country, is the president. The vice presidents are Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, and John Finley, of New York city. Milton E. Ailes, the well known Washington banker, is treasurer, and Henry B. Dewing, of Bowdoin college, secretary. The field representative in Greece is W. Stuart Thompson, supervising architect of the Gennadius library now being erected in Athens by the Carnegie corporation.

The story of the Asia Minor refugees, driven from their homes by the Turks, is a familiar one. They fled into Greece, the only country that would take them in, and most of them arrived there naked, hungry and destitute. Of the total number, thousands have died, and other thousands have become self-supporting.

But it is stated that at least half a million, mostly women and children, are still in dire need of assistance, and that their plight this winter is even worse than it was last winter. Their vitality has been lowered greatly by hardships already endured and by the ravages of malaria and other diseases, and a great majority of the refugees are undernourished, almost to the point of starvation, and are without proper clothing or shelter.

When it is considered that the arrival of the refugees increased the population of Greece by fully 30 per cent, and that prior to their arrival the density of population of the country was about three times greater than that of the United States, it is readily apparent that the problem and burden of caring for them cannot be met by the Greeks themselves, although the Greeks have expended $20,000,000 in that work.

REFUGEE SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The refugee settlement commission was organized in 1923 under an agreement between the Greek government and the league of nations. One of the provisions of the protocol under which the commission was established is that its chairman shall be an American, and the position was filled by Henry Morgenthau, former minister to Turkey, until December last. He was succeeded by Charles P. Howland, a New York attorney.

A loan of 10,000,000 pounds has been floated for the commission, and the fact that such a sum was being raised and that the loan was over-subscribed the first day it was offered to the public has led to a somewhat general impression that ample provision had been made for all that was needed in the way of relief work in Greece.

As a matter of fact this money can only be used for the purpose of permanent installation of the refugees upon land donated by the Greek government. It can be used to erect houses, reclaim land and purchasing farm implements, animals and seed. It cannot be used for food, clothing nor medicine. Thus it affords no aid to women and children who cannot be placed upon farms and made self-supporting in that way. Other relief organizations must carry on in that field.

At the present time the one said to be doing the most for the refugees is the British Save the Children fund, which also has a branch in Canada. This organization is feeding about 50,000 people, mostly children, one meal a day. The Near East relief is now doing nothing for the refugees, its work being confined to the care of the children in its orphanages who were brought over from Asia Minor in 1922. About two-thirds of these children are Armenians, and there are among them no children of Greek refugees.

The American women's hospitals are operating a hospital service at many of the refugee camps, but they do not feed the refugees except such as are in their hospitals. The relief for fatherless children of Greece is caring for children under the same adoption plan which was used for the benefit of the children of the French and Belgian refugees during the World war. This organization is closely affiliated with the American Friends of Greece.

The Catholic Near East Relief Welfare association, which derives its support exclusively from the Catholic church, is raising funds for the erection and maintenance of orphanages in Greece.

THE REFUGEE WORKSHOPS

The Friends of Greece society was created in 1923 for the purpose of informing the American people regarding the condition of the refugees and to assist the regular relief organizations in their work.

"It was not our original intention to raise a relief fund ourselves," says B. P. Salmon, the managing director, "but the withdrawal of the American Red Cross from Greece on July 1, 1923, and the failure of the Near East relief to cope with the situation in Greece made it necessary for us to change our plans and take up the question of relief directly.

"What I have said is not intended in any way as a critisim of either organization mentioned. The Red Cross felt they had done their share when they had met the first shock of the emergency, while the Near East relief have had their hands full taking care of the Armenian orphans already in their institutions.

"Our hopes are now largely centered in our workshops. These have been started on a small scale, but for several months the products of the shops have been arriving in the United States and we find them readily salable. Every cent received goes back into the fund and we are trying to raise a much larger amount so as to take on several thousand more women and girls, saving them from the utter destitution and hopelessness of the bread lines of the refugee camps, and making them again self-supporting, self-respecting members of the communities in which they live.

"Our organization is working one a very small expense account. None of the officers draws any money either in the way of salaries or expense allowances, and on the contrary all of them are contributing a great deal of the clerical work through their own offices. So far it has been possible to dispose of the products of the workshops through volunteers, so we have no expenses for salesmen or paid promoters."

Practically all the refugee women and girls, many of whom are of gentle birth, are skilled in native embroidery and needlework, it is said, and they require only raw materials and a place in which to work. Hence, the organization has found that a comparatively little money goes a long ways and accomplishes much in helping them to help themselves.

DINNER STORIES

It was after dinner and the talk had turned to psychology. This disturbing question had just been put: "When does old age really begin?"

To establish a formula was proving rather difficult, when one lady, who did not look her years, found the following:

"To me, old age is always 15 years older than I am."

A schoolmaster had been giving his class a lesson in physical geography, and had explained that the world is made up of land and water.

Then, in order to see if they had been paying attention, he asked: "Now, boys, can you tell me what it is land and water make?"

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Score another one for George Bernard Shaw!

"Why did you write St. Joan?" Shaw was asked, just as he was starting for Madeira to take a sunbath cure.

"To save her for John Drinkwater," came back Shaw's quick reply, accompanied by a twinkle of the Shavian eyes.

There is a legend that the English have no sense of humor. Some of them have, but it's a different sort of sense of humor.

Ask Sinclair Lewis. He knows.

Lewis has an English friend who is a bookseller. On his recent visit to London Lewis went to call on his friend in h's shop, advising him by telephone that he was coming.

When Lewis started to browse around the shop he suddenly stopped and opened his eyes in wide amazement. There he saw before him a shelf stocked with "first editions" of "Babbitt" and "Main Street," marked with price marks that would take the breath away from almost anyone.

"Good heavens!" Lewis exclaimed, at least that is the parlor version of his ejaculation. "What rot! People nowadays will collect anything and pay for it."

Now Lewis won't admit that the English haven't a sense of humor.

James Cox Brady, the American millionaire, is the owner of a famous ghost. Brady married Lady Victoria Perry, daughter of Lady Limerick. He has recently taken over the historic 600-year-old mansion of Lady Limerick near Bexley eath, and with the mansion goes the ghost of the Black Prince. Lady Limerick's friends claim that she is authority for the statement that on three recent occasions the ghost of the Black Prince has been seen about the manse, where he wooed and won the Fair Maid of Kent and then set out for the battlefield of Crecy.

Man seems to be the sinner in England, if divorce records are any criterion. During 1919, 1920 and 1921 husbands were in the majority in filing suits for divorce. Now conditions have changed, and with a change in the laws which makes it possible for a wife to divorce a husband for misconduct, the majority of divorce petitions are being filed by wives.

Mrs. J. M. McVittie, of New York, has started a new vogue. She recently had her diamond necklace unstrung and used some of the largest stones to adorn the corsage of her frock. The stones were attached in no set fashion, but were scattered here and there over the front of the gown, which caused a sensation in the Savoy ballroom.

The hunt season is nearly over and the Prince of Wales up to now hasn't had a spill. Maybe Will Rogers gave him the secret when they met on Long Island.

A double royal wedding is predicted for 1925 by the society gossips of Britain.

The two prospective bridegrooms are Prince Henry and Prince George, the king's two youngest sons, and their brides will be Lady May Cambridge and Lady Betty Thynne, daughter of the Marquis of Bath.

Both are lovely and vivacious girls, but while Lady Betty prefers a quiet country life, Lady May is a great dancer and a favorite partner of the royal family.

Prince George is a fine upstanding figure and the best looking of the royal house; he is a keen soldier and works just as hard as any other regimental officer. His brother is a sub-lieutenant in the navy and worked his way up from the bottom like the rest of the service.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Chinatown at dusk. "Two Gun" Murphy of the narcotic squad. Small, wiry and a scrapper. Slip-slopping ancients with arms in their sleeves. Printers in the morning newspaper shops.

The balcony of the Port Arthur. Hung with lanterns. "Old Horse and Wagon," the only Chinese beggar in the quarter. The nightly trail to the joss house. And the far away beat of a tom-tom. Musty shops displaying dried fruit and lechee nuts.

Children in flowered kimonos. Playing hopscotch. Yap wagon guides leading the faithful. Policemen strolling in pairs. Shuttered upstairs windows where white wives live. The old Chinese theater—now an all night mission.

Chatham Square with its clatter and bang. Dope vendors. Fortune tellers. Flower sellers. Bootblacks and sailors. The curious blowziness of the down-and-outers. Mumbling lips. Unshaven chins. And the hang-dog look of the thoroughly beaten.

Lurid movie posters. Men warming their hands over charcoal in areaways. Shawled women. Whatever became of the russet apple? Beefsteak John's. Shadowy and sawdusty. Dead wires—crossed and crossed and crossed. What a frightful thing poverty is.

Park Row's fanfaronade. Brisk merchants. Endless carts. Baxter street clothing shops. The wail of an accordion. The cobbled stone street that leads to the river. Why does a man always want to spit off the end of a dock?

The rumle roar under Brooklyn bridge. Old women selling newspapers. The white haired blind fiddler who is ever smiling. Scattered paper over City Hall park. The mayor's car. An Englishman steps in a taxi and tells the driver to "Flip along!"

This is a dog story. The people who own him carry him about wherever they go. He is paralyzed and cannot walk. And how his legs came to be paralyzed is that one day when a child of the family was sitting in a garden a centipede fell on her shoulder. The dog, sensing danger, with a quick stroke of his paw knocked the centipede off. But the centipede got the dog. He can never walk again. And writes a man who loves dogs: "And when the folks all go away from here to set their feet in the fields of asphodel don't you think they will want to take the dog along? And don't you think that God will let him in?" The answer is easy. Of course He will.

Old Bart, who has presided at the stage door of the New Amsterdam for many years, is going to retire. For many years he has sat in his cane bottomed chair, smoking his pipe—a rather odd figure in the tinseled world. Old Bart was a sort of father confessor for the gay creatures who passed him night after night. He sent many stage door Johns away and encouraged young girls to read, offering them good books from his little library.

There is always something gay and refreshing about a sudden rain to me. I like the blunder of thunder and the splashing and sluicing of the downpour. There is sense to the saying "Right as rain." I was caught in a shower on Forty-second street and groups clotted in doorways to wait for it to pass. There was something comfortable in our isolation and all began to talk—something unusual for New Yorkers suddenly cast together. I think the rain brightened their spirits. It made an otherwise diffident group very human.

Charles Hohman, of Jackson street, has returned from Detroit, Mich., where he has been taking a course in electric mechanical engineering.

Charles Cunningham, of Greasley street, is ill with an attack of tonsilitis.

Mrs. N. A. Frederick is confined to her home on East Fourth street by illness.

Miss Clara Rebman is ill at the East Liverpool City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saotel, who have been spending their honeymoon with relatives in Alabama, have returned, and are now visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McFadden, of Walnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. John McFadden, of Railroad street, are the parents of a baby boy.

True, America justly claims supremacy in the murder rate, but some of the murders lately have been very crude and amateurish.

Public oratory isn't all bad. Some of the speeches made in Washington lately would have been worth real money on the chautauqua circuit.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

"TAKE HEED?" WHY SHOULD WE?

The proposed constitutional amendment that would enable congress to regulate child labor is evidently defeated. That is an interesting test of United States civilization, and answers the red-blooded 100 per cent Americans who deny that money is the main power here.

Very interesting is the objection to any interference with child labor for fear it might interfere with the usefulness of children in religious and other institutions. The founder of Christianity would be interested to find his professional followers fighting an amendment that would save children from shameful exploitation in mills, mines and factories.

The warning against hurting one of these little ones because "their angels do always behold the face of my Father, which is in Heaven," must not be taken too seriously where cash profits are concerned.

SELF DETERMINATION BOSH

"Danger of setting all Croatia in flames and smashing the Jugo-Slavian kingdom," says the newspaper headline. Many of the artificially created "self-determining" governments, established after the war, will be smashed, or absorbed by stronger powers before long.

Self determination is a pleasing expression, but does not mean much as the story told and the strength shown, through centuries, not any burst of sentiment, following war, determines a people's fate. Those that could not govern themselves before the war do not become suddenly capable merely because the allies beat Germany. Foolish is the power that sets up a nation, or an individual in business for himself, unless nation or individual has proved his fitness. Merely wishing for self-government does not constitute capacity for self-government.

Ask Egypt or the Philippines.

NEITHER RATS NOR HUMANS

Mrs. Rosella Pyne has still to learn that sad experience is the only teacher.

To frighten away rats she kept on her bureau a loaded pistol with a piece of cheese just in front of the muzzle. Said she:

"They'll go to the cheese, see that my pistol is loaded, then run away from my apartment, for fear I'll shoot them."

Foolish hope.

Not even human beings are as intelligent as that. A little while ago they looked into the barrel of a gun labeled war. It went off and killed 20,000,000 of them. But even that won't make them keep away from war. They used to hang murderers in public and other criminals gathered to see. But that did not stop murders.

Congress, having decided to turn over the people's property at Muscle Shoals to a private concern, shows that it cares little for public opinion. But it does not show complete lack of intelligence. It objects to having Senator Norris on the committee chosen to adjust matters between house and senate. That's intelligent. A man like Norris, honest, able, belligerent and not afraid to call a senator a grafter when he happens to be a grafter, can be a great nuisance on an important committee.

REAL REMEDIES

When there is real sickness you need a real remedy. At Nome, in Alaska, there is an epidemic of diphtheria and none of the antitoxin that cures diphtheria.

The epidemic will proceed and many will die until the antitoxin can be provided. Then the danger will pass. It takes real science to combat a real disease.

Those that deny the value and power of scientific vaccination belong in the lower kindergarten grades. Such a statement annoys many well meaning souls, but that can't be helped. Others of the same type are annoyed if you say that Shakespeare wrote his own plays, and a few still resent it if you insist that the earth is round.

Jacksonville proposes to regulate "jay walking" by law. Sanders was one of nine children, four of whom are living. His father farmed six days and preached no Sunday in the Baptist mission church in Lewis township, Clay county. Everett Sanders is a member of this congregation. One of his brothers is the minister, although he mines coal six days a week.

Everett Sanders worked on his father's farm as a boy, attended the country schools and worked his way through the state normal school at Terre Haute, and in spare time clerked in a shoe store.

At normal he met Miss Ella Neal, of Jasonville, Ind. They were married soon after they started teaching. Sanders first taught a country school, the one in the city of Brazil.

A year after marriage the Everett Sanders, as they will be termed in the Washington society columns, enrolled as students in Indian university at Bloomington, where he was a "barb"—a non-fraternity man—captain of the basketball team, president of the law class and manager of a boarding club.

Mrs. Sanders was one of the club members and paid for her meals. To occupy his time—and add to his funds—Sanders clerked in Ed Whetsell's shoe store.

Sanders successfully practiced law in Terre Haute until he came to congress March 4, 1917. His first important vote was on the declaration of war. He and Slemp were good friends. Sanders is on the house steering committee and the interstate and foreign commerce committees. He attarcted considerable attention at the last session by a remarkably strong speech against the Howell-Barkley bill.

President Coolidge's attention was attracted to Sanders' service in the house. In the recent national campaign, William M. Butler, Republican national chairman, appointed Sanders chairman of the speakers' bureau.

The principal reason for the president's choice of Sanders as secretary was the congressman's knowledge of the house and its members. The well for the comfort of several over whom he used president knows the senate as well as anyone, too to preside, but without Slemp he might be a little shy of "dope" on the doings at the other end of the capitol. With Sanders at his side he'll get all the information he'll need about the representatives.

Play and Crime Reduction

The chief of police of Memphis, Tenn., is quoted as saying: "There are three departments of our municipal government that can reduce crime. First, our playground and recreation department as an educational and preventive force. The police department comes second, and our courts third."

Apparently the police chief is not the only Memphis citizen who has such belief in the usefulness of parks and playgrounds. Memphis is a city of about 165,000. It spends $337,500 a year on playgrounds and recreation. It has invested $15,000,000 in recreational facilities, which include the setting apart of 1,165 acres of land, 25 neighboring parks, the third largest zoo in the country and an art gallery. There are swimming pools, baseball grounds, golf courses, tennis courts, bridlepaths and beautiful flower gardens in the park system.

Many people regard these things as foolishness and consider the city that pays for them extravagant. Memphis can point to an unusually good record in regard to juvenile delinquency, to physical and moral health for rich and poor citizens and to a decreasing crime record.

Viewed in this light, community playgrounds are worth considerably more than their cost.

Health Examinations

Sarnia, Ont., has just been observing its annual public health week. The special feature of the program, more important than conferences of medical workers and public lectures on health subjects, has been the giving of physical examinations by physicians and dentists.

Hundreds of citizens from the city and the surrounding country districts registered for physical examinations. Eye, ear, nose and throat, and chest specialists, from Sarnia and other Canadian cities, have been working overtime to take care of the people appearing at the clinics. Particularly hopeful is the fact that great numbers of these patients have been children. That means that a good many minor defects, which might become serious ailments if not cared for in childhood, will be discovered and the proper treatment recommended.

Persons interested in public health work in any way have long been urging regular physical examinations for everybody. An annual examination need not always be detailed. It should be sufficiently thorough, however, to disclose the general physical condition. If that is good, then it is likely that there are no hidden diseases at work. If the general condition is not good, then the examination should be made more detailed until the disturbing cause is found. Many ills formerly regarded as inevitable and uncurable can be entirely prevented or completely cured if a regular, annual physical examination is had.

Lives, White and Yellow

The United States has always prided itself on its fair dealing with China, and thereby has often earned the gratitude of that country. Helpless China is not used to being treated fairly. But here is a little matter that invites thought:

Compensation has been recommended to congress for the death of a Chinese boy 11 years old, killed accidentally by a bullet in his garden at Hankow, while an American warship crew were shooting at a target.

A naval inquiry, absolving the crew of blame, concluded that, inasmuch as China had frequently paid $25,000 for the death of an American, the United States should compensate the family of the dead boy "in the sum of $100 gold."

It may be that these contrasting sums represent the relative value of life in China and America—that an American's life is worth 250 times as much as that of a Chinaman's. Yet one wonders what the lad's parents will think about it, and what the Chinese government will think, and what our Asiatic friends in general will think. It doesn't look like anything for the richest nation on earth to brag about.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

AMERICAN FRIENDS OF GREECE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—One of the organizations undertaking the care of the destitute among the million and a half refugees who sought sanctuary in Greece following the destruction of Smyrna is the American Friends of Greece, which has placed its philanthropic work on the practical basis of helping the unfortunates to help themselves.

This society has its headquarters in Washington. Professor Edward Capps, of Princeton, former American minister to Greece, and former commissioner of the American Red Cross in that country, is the president. The vice presidents are Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, and John Finley, of New York city. Milton E. Ailes, the well known Washington banker, is treasurer, and Henry B. Dewing, of Bowdoin college, secretary. The field representative in Greece is W. Stuart Thompson, supervising architect of the Gennadius library now being erected in Athens by the Carnegie corporation.

The story of the Asia Minor refugees, driven from their homes by the Turks, is a familiar one. They fled into Greece, the only country that would take them in, and most of them arrived there naked, hungry and destitute. Of the total number, thousands have died, and other thousands have become self-supporting.

But it is stated that at least half a million, mostly women and children, are still in dire need of assistance, and that their plight this winter is even worse than it was last winter. Their vitality has been lowered greatly by hardships already endured and by the ravages of malaria and other diseases, and a great majority of the refugees are undernourished, almost to the point of starvation, and are without proper clothing or shelter.

When it is considered that the arrival of the refugees increased the population of Greece by fully 30 per cent, and that prior to their arrival the density of population of the country was about three times greater than that of the United States, it is readily apparent that the problem and burden of caring for them cannot be met by the Greeks themselves, although the Greeks have expended $20,000,000 in that work.

REFUGEE SETTLEMENT COMMISSION

The refugee settlement commission was organized in 1923 under an agreement between the Greek government and the league of nations. One of the provisions of the protocol under which the commission was established is that its chairman shall be an American, and the position was filled by Henry Morgenthau, former minister to Turkey, until December last. He was succeeded by Charles P. Howland, a New York attorney.

A loan of 10,000,000 pounds has been floated for the commission, and the fact that such a sum was being raised and that the loan was over-subscribed the first day it was offered to the public has led to a somewhat general impression that ample provision had been made for all that was needed in the way of relief work in Greece.

As a matter of fact this money can only be used for the purpose of permanent installation of the refugees upon land donated by the Greek government. It can be used to erect houses, reclaim land and purchasing farm implements, animals and seed. It cannot be used for food, clothing nor medicine. Thus it affords no aid to women and children who cannot be placed upon farms and made self-supporting in that way. Other relief organizations must carry on in that field.

At the present time the one said to be doing the most for the refugees is the British Save the Children fund, which also has a branch in Canada. This organization is feeding about 50,000 people, mostly children, one meal a day. The Near East relief is now doing nothing for the refugees, its work being confined to the care of the children in its orphanages who were brought over from Asia Minor in 1922. About two-thirds of these children are Armenians, and there are among them no children of Greek refugees.

The American women's hospitals are operating a hospital service at many of the refugee camps, but they do not feed the refugees except such as are in their hospitals. The relief for fatherless children of Greece is caring for children under the same adoption plan which was used for the benefit of the children of the French and Belgian refugees during the World war. This organization is closely affiliated with the American Friends of Greece.

The Catholic Near East Relief Welfare association, which derives its support exclusively from the Catholic church, is raising funds for the erection and maintenance of orphanages in Greece.

THE REFUGEE WORKSHOPS

The Friends of Greece society was created in 1923 for the purpose of informing the American people regarding the condition of the refugees and to assist the regular relief organizations in their work.

"It was not our original intention to raise a relief fund ourselves," says B. P. Salmon, the managing director, "but the withdrawal of the American Red Cross from Greece on July 1, 1923, and the failure of the Near East relief to cope with the situation in Greece made it necessary for us to change our plans and take up the question of relief directly.

"What I have said is not intended in any way as a critisim of either organization mentioned. The Red Cross felt they had done their share when they had met the first shock of the emergency, while the Near East relief have had their hands full taking care of the Armenian orphans already in their institutions.

"Our hopes are now largely centered in our workshops. These have been started on a small scale, but for several months the products of the shops have been arriving in the United States and we find them readily salable. Every cent received goes back into the fund and we are trying to raise a much larger amount so as to take on several thousand more women and girls, saving them from the utter destitution and hopelessness of the bread lines of the refugee camps, and making them again self-supporting, self-respecting members of the communities in which they live.

"Our organization is working one a very small expense account. None of the officers draws any money either in the way of salaries or expense allowances, and on the contrary all of them are contributing a great deal of the clerical work through their own offices. So far it has been possible to dispose of the products of the workshops through volunteers, so we have no expenses for salesmen or paid promoters."

Practically all the refugee women and girls, many of whom are of gentle birth, are skilled in native embroidery and needlework, it is said, and they require only raw materials and a place in which to work. Hence, the organization has found that a comparatively little money goes a long ways and accomplishes much in helping them to help themselves.

DINNER STORIES

It was after dinner and the talk had turned to psychology. This disturbing question had just been put: "When does old age really begin?"

To establish a formula was proving rather difficult, when one lady, who did not look her years, found the following:

"To me, old age is always 15 years older than I am."

A schoolmaster had been giving his class a lesson in physical geography, and had explained that the world is made up of land and water.

Then, in order to see if they had been paying attention, he asked: "Now, boys, can you tell me what it is land and water make?"

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Score another one for George Bernard Shaw!

"Why did you write St. Joan?" Shaw was asked, just as he was starting for Madeira to take a sunbath cure.

"To save her for John Drinkwater," came back Shaw's quick reply, accompanied by a twinkle of the Shavian eyes.

There is a legend that the English have no sense of humor. Some of them have, but it's a different sort of sense of humor.

Ask Sinclair Lewis. He knows.

Lewis has an English friend who is a bookseller. On his recent visit to London Lewis went to call on his friend in h's shop, advising him by telephone that he was coming.

When Lewis started to browse around the shop he suddenly stopped and opened his eyes in wide amazement. There he saw before him a shelf stocked with "first editions" of "Babbitt" and "Main Street," marked with price marks that would take the breath away from almost anyone.

"Good heavens!" Lewis exclaimed, at least that is the parlor version of his ejaculation. "What rot! People nowadays will collect anything and pay for it."

Now Lewis won't admit that the English haven't a sense of humor.

James Cox Brady, the American millionaire, is the owner of a famous ghost. Brady married Lady Victoria Perry, daughter of Lady Limerick. He has recently taken over the historic 600-year-old mansion of Lady Limerick near Bexley eath, and with the mansion goes the ghost of the Black Prince. Lady Limerick's friends claim that she is authority for the statement that on three recent occasions the ghost of the Black Prince has been seen about the manse, where he wooed and won the Fair Maid of Kent and then set out for the battlefield of Crecy.

Man seems to be the sinner in England, if divorce records are any criterion. During 1919, 1920 and 1921 husbands were in the majority in filing suits for divorce. Now conditions have changed, and with a change in the laws which makes it possible for a wife to divorce a husband for misconduct, the majority of divorce petitions are being filed by wives.

Mrs. J. M. McVittie, of New York, has started a new vogue. She recently had her diamond necklace unstrung and used some of the largest stones to adorn the corsage of her frock. The stones were attached in no set fashion, but were scattered here and there over the front of the gown, which caused a sensation in the Savoy ballroom.

The hunt season is nearly over and the Prince of Wales up to now hasn't had a spill. Maybe Will Rogers gave him the secret when they met on Long Island.

A double royal wedding is predicted for 1925 by the society gossips of Britain.

The two prospective bridegrooms are Prince Henry and Prince George, the king's two youngest sons, and their brides will be Lady May Cambridge and Lady Betty Thynne, daughter of the Marquis of Bath.

Both are lovely and vivacious girls, but while Lady Betty prefers a quiet country life, Lady May is a great dancer and a favorite partner of the royal family.

Prince George is a fine upstanding figure and the best looking of the royal house; he is a keen soldier and works just as hard as any other regimental officer. His brother is a sub-lieutenant in the navy and worked his way up from the bottom like the rest of the service.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Chinatown at dusk. "Two Gun" Murphy of the narcotic squad. Small, wiry and a scrapper. Slip-slopping ancients with arms in their sleeves. Printers in the morning newspaper shops.

The balcony of the Port Arthur. Hung with lanters. "Old Horse and Wagon," the only Chinese beggar in the quarter. The nightly trail to the joss house. And the far away beat of a tom-tom. Musty shops displaying dried fruit and lechee nuts.

Children in flowered kimonos. Playing hopscotch. Yap wagon guides leading the faithful. Policemen strolling in pairs. Shuttered upstairs windows where white wives live. The old Chinese theater—now an all night mission.

Chatham Square with its clatter and bang. Dope vendors. Fortune tellers. Flower sellers. Bootblacks and sailors. The curious blowziness of the down-and-outers. Mumbling lips. Unshaven chins. And the hang-dog look of the thoroughly beaten.

Lurid movie posters. Men warming their hands over charcoal in areaways. Shawled women. Whatever became of the russet apple? Beefsteak John's. Shadowy and sawdusty. Dead wires—crossed and crossed and crossed. What a frightful thing poverty is.

Park Row's fanfaronade. Brisk merchants. Endless carts. Baxter street clothing shops. The wail of an accordion. The cobbled stone street that leads to the river. Why does a man always want to spit off the end of a dock?

The rumble roar under Brooklyn bridge. Old women selling newspapers. The white haired blind fiddler who is ever smiling. Scattered paper over City Hall park. The mayor's car. An Englishman steps in a taxi and tells the driver to "Flip along!"

This is a dog story. The people who own him carry him about wherever they go. He is paralyzed and cannot walk. And how his legs came to be paralyzed is that one day when a child of the family was sitting in a garden a centipede fell on her shoulder. The dog, sensing danger, with a quick stroke of his paw knocked the centipede off. But the centipede got the dog. He can never walk again. And writes a man who loves dogs: "And when the folks all go away from here to set their feet in the fields of asphodel don't you think they will want to take the dog along? And don't you think that God will let him in?" The answer is easy. Of course He will.

Old Bart, who has presided at the stage door of the New Amsterdam for many years, is going to retire. For many years he has sat in his cane bottomed chair, smoking his pipe—a rather odd figure in the tinseled world. Old Bart was a sort of father confessor for the gay creatures who passed him night after night. He sent many stage door Johns away and encouraged young girls to read, offering them good books from his little library.

There is always something gay and refreshing about a sudden rain to me. I like the blunder of thunder and the splashing and sluicing of the downpour. There is sense to the saying "Right as rain." I was caught in a shower on Forty-second street and groups clotted in doorways to wait for it to pass. There was something comfortable in our isolation and all began to talk—something unusual for New Yorkers suddenly cast together. I think the rain brightened their spirits. It made an otherwise diffident group very human.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

"TAKE HEED?" WHY SHOULD WE?

The proposed constitutional amendment that would enable congress to regulate child labor is evidently defeated. That is an interesting test of United States civilization, and answers the red-blooded 100 per cent Americans who deny that money is the main power here.

Very interesting is the objection to any interference with child labor for fear it might interfere with the usefulness of children in religious and other institutions. The founder of Christianity would be interested to find his professional followers fighting an amendment that would save children from shameful exploitation in mills, mines and factories.

The warning against hurting one of these little ones because "their angels do always behold the face of my Father, which is in Heaven," must not be taken too seriously where cash profits are concerned.

SELF DETERMINATION BOSH

"Danger of setting all Croatia in flames and smashing the Jugo-Slavian kingdom," says the newspaper headline. Many of the artificially created "self-determining" governments, established after the war, will be smashed, or absorbed by stronger powers before long.

Self determination is a pleasing expression, but does not mean much as the story told and the strength shown, through centuries, not any burst of sentiment, following war, determines a people's fate. Those that could not govern themselves before the war do not become suddenly capable merely because the allies beat Germany. Foolish is the power that sets up a nation, or an individual in business for himself, unless nation or individual has proved his fitness. Merely wishing for self-government does not constitute capacity for self-government.

Ask Egypt or the Philippines.

NEITHER RATS NOR HUMANS

Mrs. Roscilla Pyne has still to learn that sad experience is the only teacher.

To frighten away rats she kept on her bureau a loaded pistol with a piece of cheese just in front of the muzzle. Said she:

"They'll go to the cheese, see that my pistol is loaded, then run away from my apartment, for fear I'll shoot them."

Foolish hope.

Not even human beings are as intelligent as that. A little while ago they looked into the barrel of a gun labeled war. It went off and killed 20,000,000 of them. But even that won't make them keep away from war. They used to hang murderers in public and other criminals gathered to see. But that did not stop murders.

Congress, having decided to turn over the people's property at Muscle Shoals to a private concern, shows that it cares little for public opinion. But it does not show complete lack of intelligence. It objects to having Senator Norris on the committee chosen to adjust matters between house and senate. That's intelligent. A man like Norris, honest, able, belligerent and not afraid to call a senator a grafter when he happens to be a grafter, can be a great nuisance on an important committee.

REAL REMEDIES

When there is real sickness you need a real remedy. At Nome, in Alaska, there is an epidemic of diphtheria and none of the antitoxin that cures diphtheria.

The epidemic will proceed and many will die until the antitoxin can be provided. Then the danger will pass. It takes real science to combat a real disease.

Those that deny the value and power of scientific vaccination belong in the lower kindergarten grades. Such a statement annoys many well meaning souls, but that can't be helped. Others of the same type are annoyed if you say that Shakespeare wrote his own plays, and a few still resent it if you insist that the earth is round.

Jacksonville proposes to regulate "jay walking" by law. The pedestrian who often acts as if his life were of little consequence, will be compelled to walk the streets as though he knew that automobiles exist. POTTERY NIGHT SERVICE HELD

'Earthen Vessels" Topic of Sermon by Dr. Lockhart.

Table ware, the product of East Liverpool pottery plants, was, figuratively speaking, showered upon Evangelist W. J. Lockhart and his song assistants, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Harbinson, at the revival service at the First Church of Christ, Fourth and College streets, last night.

It was "Pottery Night" in the revival campaign and a large delegation of pottery workers attended the service in a body. Dr. Lockhart spoke on the subject "Earthen Vessels" during his discourse. His sermon was a tribute to the "men and women who toil". In this connection he recited a poem, "The Glory of Toil", in which a high tribute was paid the laboring classes.

"I want to express my appreciation here tonight for having had the opportunity of knowing the people of East Liverpool and your industry," the evangelist said." You will always have a place in my life and you will not lose anything for my having been here, for as you may have noticed I preach very much out of my own life. And as I travel throughout the country you may be sure East Liverpool and her ceramic industry will frequently come out.'

"Heaven," Topic Tonight.

"I was to say to you and assure you that it is not idle talk when I say that I have been in many industrial centers and seen all kinds of workers, but I have never seen as clean-appearing, not as apparently healthy, wholesome, genial courteous and as Christian a bunch of workmen in any industry before."

Alaska's Dog Teams

lief should have been sent to the disease menaced city long ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Nome, Alaska, the city stricken by an epidemic of diphtheria, today appealed for aid in a radiogram received by International News Service, San Francisco.

The mayor's message said:

"Advocate rushing anti-toxin to Nome from Nenana. Conditions very serious."

Mayor Maynard's radiogram here contradicted a statement made by public health officials in Seattle who declared late yesterday that conditions in Nome were "markedly improved."

Mayor Maynard's message did not state how many persons had died in Nome. The latest reports gave the number of epidemic deaths as five.

Crack Driver Nears Goal.

ON THE TRAIL TO TANANA, Alaska, Jan. 30 — Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning Dan Green, third relay man in the dash with diphtheria serum to Nome, was 42 miles below Tanana.

He passed Tanana at 12:30 o'clock after driving all through the night. The weather was 45 degrees below zero.

ACHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 30.—With strained muscles and harness in an effort to bring life-giving anti-toxin into diphtheria stricken Nome, the strongest, fleetest dogs in Alaska sped relief today in their "death race" northward.

Over snow and ice-covered trails in the bitter cold of the Arctic raced Dan Green, the third champion dog racer of the North relaying serum to the disease ravaged city.

Protect Anti-Toxin.

Green left Hot Springs late yesterday afternoon and last night was reported not far from Tanana.

In the light sled which Green's dogs are pulling rested a 20-pound package of the 1,000,000 anti-toxin units, which will save hundreds of lives in Nome providing the race against disease is won.

The package was heavily wrapped in blankets to prevent freezing and breaking of the containers.

Green, who is one of the best known of Alaska's weather-hardened men famous for their fast traveling dog teams, expected to reach Ruby tonight, where Leonard Seppala, three times champion of the Yukon dog derby, is speeding southward from Nome.

Seppala, his dog team led by the famous derby winners, "Scotty" and "Togo", will receive the serum from Green at Ruby and turning tail, make the final dash of 200 miles back to Nome, traveling across the snow-coated ice of Norton bay.

Cross Ice-Coated Bay

Wireless reports here today said the madly racing mushers would not make a detour around Norton bay on land but would speed across the ice from Fonanza to Elim, a distance of 100 miles.

$40,000 Fire at Irondale

village lies directly wast of the railroad tracks and opposite the northern part, which was practically wiped out by flames only a year or so ago, and which, in the interim, has been rebuilt.

As a result of the other disastrous fire which visited the village, business houses in general are carrying full fire insurance, it was reported. It is believed that the majority of the buildings burned last night were covered.

A number of families, living in second story rooms in the destroyed buildings, were taken into the homes of friends.

Dr. Paul Kammerer Warns Cigaret-smoking, Gin-drinking and Thin-hosed Flapper in Chicago Lecture.

By SARAH BROWN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. — Papa may think that his young daughter has no business to come in at 3 a. m. from a night of jazz and joy.

Mama may be sorrowful at her cigarets and slang words, at her gin capacity and her thin hose, and at her favorite topics of conversation.

And daughter may say to her scandalized parents: "Just wait until I'm grown up and have children and I won't be shocked at everything they do."

But even the hardest boiled young "Sheba" of today may get a shriek or two in the future from her offsprings, if she has any.

For Dr. Paul Kammerer, famous scientist from the University of Vienna, who is lecturing in Chicago, has a statement to make about the characters which the children of tomorrow will, in all probability, possess.

Pickup New Ideas.

"It is now being proved," Dr. Krammerer said, "almost beyond doubt that the characteristics acquired by an individual in his own lifetime may be passed in some measure onto his offspring.

"In other words, it is very possible that the daughters of tomorrow will possess many or most of the characteristics of their mothers—our girls of today.

"In addition they will pick up enough new ideas of their own to be just a step or two ahead of the most modern youngsters of the present time.

"They'il be the same thing, only more so."

Inherit Characteristics.

He had several other remarks to make regarding the behavior of the present generation and its effect on future ones.

"It is left in our hands to use our inherited acquired characteristics to regenerate or to degenerate the race" he said.

"For instance, in all probability, if Americans would obey their prohibition law, in a very few generations there would be no need for it. Their descendants would lose their taste for alcohol.

"As matters now stand, that taste may be developed in the future.

"Furthermore, if girls and women persist in smoking their descendants are going to be born with a desire to smoke.

"Gradually this will materially affect the birth rate. The more a woman is addicted to tobacco the fewer children she will have.

"Of course, these statements are made only as a result of experiments on animals and on observation of human statistics. We cannot look into the future and predict exactly."

45 Men of Crew

standing by the stricken naval craft, indicated that she was in danger of going down and that she had a hole stove in her bottom.

Attempt to Tow Craft.

As the tide slackened, however, efforts were to be made, radiograms to shore from the rescue ships said, to tow the S-48 to the Portsmouth navy yard.

In a blinding snow storm obscuring vision and in the teeth of a biting northeast gale, the big naval submarine was tossed up last night on the rocks at the mouth of Little harbor.

Through the spuming foam and the swirling snow, coast guardsmen on short first saw her red rockets of distress and the naval operator at the wireless station at the local navy yard picked up her calls of "S. O. S."

Coast Guardsmen R sk Lives.

Coast guardsmen risked their lives in the 50-mile an hour gale to launch a lifeboat to go to the rescue of the stranded submarine.

As dawn began to break a breeches buoy apparatus was set up at Fort Stark, New Castle, but high seas prevented its use.

Fear for the brave naval men aboard the submarine were expressed on all sides among the watchers on shore.

Tractors had smashed their way through the snow drifts on the beach roads to Fort Stark. In their wake came motor ambulances carrying blankets and medical supplies.

Lights went out on the submarine and this gave the shore watchers more concern.

Crack In One of Seams.

This morning, however, when the tide came in, the big underseas boat began to ease off the rocks at Little harbor. Later she started to float seaward.

By this time rescue ships had come up. It was deemed wise to take off part of the crew. The 20 men left aboard were manning the pumps. It was thought that the S-48 had a crack in one of her seams and was leaking slightly.

Giant seas were breaking over the submersible as she lay riding out the gale a mile and a half off shore.

No Injuries Reported.

First S-48 Was Sunk.

The S-48 was enroute from New London, Conn., to the local navy yard when she crashed onto the rocks.

The submarine tender Chewink and the submarine S 51 accompanied the S-48 here. The other two craft are safe.

Lieut. Commander Stewart E. Bray of New London, Conn., was in command of the S-48. The submarine's displacement is 1,100 tons. She has a cruising radius of 8,000 miles.

The first S-48 of the United States navy sank in Long Island sound off Fairfield, Conn., in December, 1921, while undergoing a trial trip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The navy submarine S-48, which went aground near the entrance of the harbor at Portsmouth, N. H., last night, drifted off the rocks early today and entered the inner harbor, according to a dispatch to the navy department.

Advices to the chief of naval operations from the commandant of the Porthmouth navy yards indicated that the submarine had freed itself without assistance and without material damage to the hull.

No injuries were reported among the crew of 36 men aboard.

Reports to the United States coast guard said that two cutters went to the assistance of the submarine early last evening, but that heavy seas prevented the crews from getting a line aboard the stranded vessel.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A sharp rebound in prices of the oil, motor and industrial stocks took place immediately after the opening of the market today. Most of the stocks which had been thrown overboard in Thursday's final scramble for profits were again under accumulation, and a number of the railroad stocks, under the leadership of Southern Railway displayed conspicuous strength.

The old stocks were the most active in this period and practically all of the leading independent and Standard oil shares showed a decided reversal of form from the last hour of Thursday. The Humble Oil company announced another advance in gasoline prices and the Gulf Oil company marked prices one cent higher to correspond with the latest revision of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. New high price records for the move, which in many cases were the highest prices since 1923, were made by Sinclair at 24, Shell Union at 27⅞; Maracabo at 32¼; Independent Oil and Gas at 20⅞; Royal Dutch above 56; Cosden at 33⅜.

Southern Railway sold up three points at 84½, the highest in its history at the head of a modest rally in the railway shares, in which New York Central, Atchison and Union Pacific participated.

Mack trucks sold above 139 for a gain of five points as rumors persisted that this company was to be taken over by General Motors. Studebaker gained 1½ points in anticipation of a favorable annual report to be issued in about one week. Commercial solvents gained another 10 points each. American Can, ex-dividend, 3½ points, sold at the equivalent of 169½. American Woolen and American Sugar were not able to stage much of a comeback and United States Steel sold fractionally lower in most of its transactions.

Grain markets were reactionary at the opening, cotton firm, foreign exchange steady. Call money renewed at 3½ per cent.

morning has piled the snow into six foot drifts in many places here.

Heavy falls of snow in the Rochester, Syracuse and Utica sections caused delay in the arrival of westbound trains in Buffalo this morning. Central and Lackawanna trains were delayed from one to three hours. Erie trains came in on time. About four inches of snow fell here last night.

BINGHAMTON, Jan. 30.—Binghamton was practically snowbound today as more than 20 inches of snow lay over the city. Eighteen inches had fallen in the last 24 hours and the skies were still shedding a light fall. Traffic was moving but badly disrupted.

Electric cars between Binghamton and Endicott were snowbound over night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—New York skidded and sloshed to work today. Following an inch and a half snow fall late yesterday, heavy rain last night turned streets and sidewalks into treacherous paths of slush and ice.

Although 10,000 men were reported at work clearing the streets, the continued fall and freezing has made the work difficult.

were when she shot down her mother from behind. With the same hands that killed, she rather tenderly brushed a rust colored hat, given her as a birthday gift by the dead mother. On top of her clothes she packed in a copy of Oscar Wilde's poems and a package of letters written to her from all parts of the country.

Investigate Police Tactics.

In the re-telling of Dorothy's crime nothing new was brought out by the testimony before Judge Murasky except that police officers who obtained the girl's confession shortly after her arrest, made admissions which may result in an investigation of their tactics.

The officers testified they had not cautioned the 16-year-old child that anything she might say would be used against her.

Instead, it was testified the girl was rushed before two policemen and in the hours of dawn, alone and unguided, she dictated the mother-slaying confession.

Attorneys for the girl fought bitterly to prevent introduction of the confession at Dorothy's hearing yesterday.

Means Found Guilty

J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice under Daugherty.

Charged They Obtained $65,000.

The defendants, it was charged, obtained $65,000 from certain defendants in the mail fraud case growing out of the Crager company's sale of stock in the glass casket company.

Means, Felder and Jarnecke, the government alleged, told these defendants that they could obtain dismissal of the indictments against them.

Felder's and Means' defense was that Jarnecke, Isaac Padorr of Chicago and the latter's financial backer, Samuel Schmidt, conspired to swindle the casket defendants, using Means' name for that purpose without the detective's knowledge.

POTTERY NIGHT SERVICE HELD

"Earthen Vessels" Topic of Sermon by Dr. Lockhart.

Table ware, the product of East Liverpool pottery plants, was, figuratively speaking, showered upon Evangelist W. J. Lockhart and his song assistants, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Harbinson, at the revival service at the First Church of Christ, Fourth and College streets, last night.

It was "Pottery Night" in the revival campaign and a large delegation of pottery workers attended the service in a body. Dr. Lockhart spoke on the subject "Earthen Vessels" during his discourse. His sermon was a tribute to the "men and women who toil". In this connection he recited a poem, "The Glory of Toil", in which a high tribute was paid the laboring classes.

"I want to express my appreciation here tonight for having had the opportunity of knowing the people of East Liverpool and your industry," the evangelist said." You will always have a place in my life and you will not lose anything for my having been here, for as you may have noticed I preach very much out of my own life. And as I travel throughout the country you may be sure East Liverpool and her ceramic industry will frequently come out.'

"Heaven," Topic Tonight.

"I was to say to you and assure you that it is not idle talk when I say that I have been in many industrial centers and seen all kinds of workers, but I have never seen as clean-appearing, not as apparently healthy, wholesome, genial courteous and as Christian a bunch of workmen in any industry before."

Alaska's Dog Teams

lief should have been sent to the disease menaced city long ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30—Nome, Alaska, the city stricken by an epidemic of diphtheria, today appealed for aid in a radiogram received by International News Service, San Francisco.

The mayor's message said:

"Advocate rushing anti-toxin to Nome from Nenana. Conditions very serious."

Mayor Maynard's radiogram here contradicted a statement made by public health officials in Seattle who declared late yesterday that conditions in Nome were "markedly improved."

Mayor Maynard's message did not state how many persons had died in Nome. The latest reports gave the number of epidemic deaths as five.

Crack Driver Nears Goal.

ON THE TRAIL TO TANANA, Alaska, Jan. 30 — Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning Dan Green, third relay man in the dash with diphtheria serum to Nome, was 42 miles below Tanana.

He passed Tanana at 12:30 o'clock after driving all through the night. The weather was 45 degrees below zero.

ACHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 30.—With strained muscles and harness in an effort to bring life-giving anti-toxin into diphtheria-stricken Nome, the strongest, fleetest dogs in Alaska sped relief today in their "death race" northward.

Over snow and ice-covered trails in the bitter cold of the Arctic raced Dan Green, the third champion dog racer of the North relaying serum to the disease ravaged city.

Protect Anti-Toxin.

Green left Hot Springs late yesterday afternoon and last night was reported not far from Tanana.

In the light sled which Green's dogs are pulling rested a 20-pound package of the 1,000,000 anti-toxin units, which will save hundreds of lives in Nome providing the race against disease is won.

The package was heavily wrapped in blankets to prevent freezing and breaking of the containers.

Green, who is one of the best known of Alaska's weather-hardened men famous for their fast traveling dog teams, expected to reach Ruby tonight, where Leonard Seppala, three times champion of the Yukon dog derby, is speeding southward from Nome.

Seppala, his dog team led by the famous derby winners, "Scotty" and "Togo", will receive the serum from Green at Ruby and turning tail, make the final dash of 200 miles back to Nome, traveling across the snow-coated ice of Norton bay.

Cross Ice-Coated Bay

Wireless reports here today said the madly racing mushers would not make a detour around Norton bay on land but would speed across the ice from Bonanza to Elim, a distance of 100 miles.

village lies directly wast of the railroad tracks and opposite the northern part, which was practically wiped out by flames only a year or so ago, and which, in the interim, has been rebuilt.

As a result of the other disastrous fire which visited the village, business houses in general are carrying full fire insurance, it was reported. It is believed that the majority of the buildings burned last night were covered.

A number of families, living in second story rooms in the destroyed buildings, were taken into the homes of friends.

Dr. Paul Kammerer Warns Cigaret-smoking, Gin-drinking and Thin-hosed Flapper in Chicago Lecture.

By SARAH BROWN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. — Papa may think that his young daughter has no business to come in at 3 a. m. from a night of jazz and joy.

Mama may be sorrowful at her cigarets and slang words, at her gin capacity and her thin hose, and at her favorite topics of conversation.

And daughter may say to her scandalized parents: "Just wait until I'm grown up and have children and I won't be shocked at everything they do."

But even the hardest boiled young "Sheba" of today may get a shriek or two in the future from her offsprings, if she has any.

For Dr. Paul Kammerer, famous scientist from the University of Vienna, who is lecturing in Chicago, has a statement to make about the characters which the children of tomorrow will, in all probability, possess.

Pickup New Ideas.

"It is now being proved," Dr. Krammerer said, "almost beyond doubt that the characteristics acquired by an individual in his own lifetime may be passed in some measure onto his offspring.

"In other words, it is very possible that the daughters of tomorrow will possess many or most of the characteristics of their mothers—our girls of today.

"In addition they will pick up enough new ideas of their own to be just a step or two ahead of the most modern youngsters of the present time.

"They'll be the same thing, only more so."

Inherit Characteristics.

He had several other remarks to make regarding the behavior of the present generation and its effect on future ones.

"It is left in our hands to use our inherited acquired characteristics to regenerate or to degenerate the race" he said.

"For instance, in all probability, if Americans would obey their prohibition law, in a very few generations there would be no need for it. Their descendants would lose their taste for alcohol.

"As matters now stand, that taste may be developed in the future.

"Furthermore, if girls and women persist in smoking their descendants are going to be born with a desire to smoke.

"Gradually this will materially affect the birth rate. The more a woman is addicted to tobacco the fewer children she will have.

"Of course, these statements are made only as a result of experiments on annimals and on observation of human statistics. We cannot look into the future and predict exactly."

standing by the stricken naval craft, indicated that she was in danger of going down and that she had a hole stove in her bottom.

Attempt to Tow Craft.

As the tide slackened, however, efforts were to be made, radiograms to shore from the rescue ships said, to tow the S-48 to the Portsmouth navy yard.

In a blinding snow storm obscuring vision and in the teeth of a biting northeast gale, the big naval submarine was tossed up last night on the rocks at the mouth of Little harbor.

Through the spunning foam and the swirling snow, coast guardsmen on short first saw her red rockets of distress and the naval operator at the wireless station at the local navy yard picked up her calls of "S. O. S."

Coast Guardsmen R sk Lives.

Coast guardsmen risked their lives in the 50-mile an hour gale to launch a lifeboat to go to the rescue of the stranded submarine.

As dawn began to break a breeches buoy apparatus was set up at Fort Stark, New Castle, but high seas prevented its use.

Fear for the brave naval men aboard the submarine were expressed on all sides among the watchers on shore.

Tractors had smashed their way through the snow drifts on the beach roads to Fort Stark. In their wake came motor ambulances carrying blankets and medical supplies.

Lights went out on the submarine and this gave the shore watchers more concern.

Crack in One of Seams.

This morning, however, when the tide came in, the big underseas boat began to ease off the rocks at Little harbor. Later she started to float seaward.

By this time rescue ships had come up. It was deemed wise to take off part of the crew. The 20 men left aboard were manning the pumps. It was thought that the S-48 had a crack in one of her seams and was leaking slightly.

Giant seas were breaking over the sumbersible as she lay riding out the gale a mile and a half off shore.

No Injuries Reported.

First S-48 Was Sunk.

The S-48 was enroute from New London, Conn., to the local navy yard when she crashed onto the rocks.

The submarine tender Chewink and the submarine S-51 accompanied the S-48 here. The other two craft are safe.

Lieut. Commander Stewart E. Bray of New London, Conn., was in command of the S-48. The submarine's displacement is 1,100 tons. She has a cruising radius of 8,000 miles.

The first S-48 of the United States navy sank in Long Island sound off Fairfield, Conn., in December, 1921, while undergoing a trial trip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The navy submarine S-48, which went aground near the entrance of the harbor at Portsmouth, N. H., last night, drifted off the rocks early today and entered the inner harbor, according to a dispatch to the navy department.

Advices to the chief of naval operations from the commandant of the Porthmouth navy yards indicated that the submarine had freed itself without assistance and without material damage to the hull.

No injuries were reported among the crew of 36 men aboard.

Reports to the United States coast guard said that two cutters went to the assistance of the submarine early last evening, but that heavy seas prevented the crews from getting a line aboard the stranded vessel.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A sharp rebound in prices of the oil, motor and industrial stocks took place immediately after the opening of the market today. Most of the stocks which had been thrown overboard in Thursday's final scramble for profits were again under accumulation, and a number of the railroad stocks, under the leadership of Southern Railway displayed conspicuous strength.

The old stocks were the most active in this period and practically all of the leading independent and Standard oil shares showed a decided reversal of form from the last hour of Thursday. The Humble Oil company announced another advance in gasoline prices and the Gulf Oil company marked prices one cent higher to correspond with the latest revision of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. New high price records for the move, which in many cases were the highest prices since 1923, were made by Sinclair at 24, Shell Union at 27⅞; Maracabo at 32¼; Independent Oil and Gas at 20⅞; Royal Dutch above 56; Cosden at 33⅜.

Southern Railway sold up three points at 84½, the highest in its history at the head of a modest rally in the railway shares, in which New York Central, Atchison and Union Pacific participated.

Mack trucks sold above 139 for a gain of five points as rumors persisted that this company was to be taken over by General Motors. Studebaker gained 1½ points in anticipation of a favorable annual report to be issued in about one week. Commercial solvents gained another 10 points each. American Can, ex-dividend, 3½ points, sold at the equivalent of 169⅜. American Woolen and American Sugar were not able to stage much of a comeback and United States Steel sold fractionally lower in most of its transactions.

Grain markets were reactionary at the opening, cotton firm, foreign exchange steady. Call money renewed at 3½ per cent.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Emma Densmore.

Mrs. Emma M. Densmore, 65 years old, died last evening in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bert Russell, 1418 Dresden avenue.

Deceased, who was a lifelong resident here, is survived besides her daughter by a son, W. T. Densmore, La Croft; two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Brandon, Tiffin, and Mrs. Mary Russell, this city, and one brother, J. S. Hill, Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Russell home, Rev. J. F. Dimit, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, officiating.

Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

Friends can view the body this evening.

Edmund Starr.

Funeral services for Edmund Starr, 59 years old, former resident, who died Monday in St. Elizabeth's hospital at Youngstown, were held Wednesday afternoon at the Hambel funeral home in that city. During his residence here he lived with his niece, Mrs. George Bradfield, Bradshaw avenue.

Rayl Funeral.

Funeral services for Elizabeth Rayl, 60 years old, who died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Conkle, near Clarkson, were held at noon today in the United Presbyterian church at Calcutta, Rev. Cheeks officiating.

Mrs. Lola M. McCoy.

Mrs. Lola M. McCoy, 33 years old, wife of Austin McCoy, died this morning at the home 106 West Drury lane, following an extended illness.

She is survived, in addition to her husband, by the following brothers and sisters: Clyde Edgell, Bellaire; Clem and Charles Edgell and one sister, Mrs. Louis Zellers, all of this city.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. J. F. Dimit, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, officiating. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

Friends can view the body Sunday afternoon between 2 and 4 and in the evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

McNutt Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Clarence E. McNutt, 28 years old, who died in the City hospital following an operation, will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the home of his mother, Mrs. Sara McNutt, Orchard Grove avenue. Rev. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate.

Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

morning has piled the snow into six foot drifts in many places here.

Heavy falls of snow in the Rochester, Syracuse and Utica sections caused delay in the arrival of westbound trains in Buffalo this morning. Central and Lackawanna trains were delayed from one to three hours. Erie trains came in on time. About four inches of snow fell here last night.

BINGHAMTON, Jan. 30.—Binghamton was practically snowbound today as more than 20 inches of snow lay over the city. Eighteen inches had fallen in the last 24 hours and the skies were still shedding a light fall. Traffic was moving but badly disrupted.

Electric cars between Binghamton and Endicott were snowbound over night.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—New York skidded and sloshed to work today. Following an inch and a half snow fall late yesterday, heavy rain last night turned streets and sidewalks into treacherous paths of slush and ice.

Although 10,000 men were reported at work clearing the streets, the continued fall and freezing has made the work difficult.

were when she shot down her mother from behind. With the same hands that killed, she rather tenderly brushed a rust colored hat, given her as a birthday gift by the dead mother. On top of her clothes she packed in a copy of Oscar Wilde's poems and a package of letters written to her from all parts of the country.

Investigate Police Tactics.

In the re-telling of Dorothy's crime nothing new was brought out by the testimony before Judge Murasky except that police officers who obtained the girl's confession shortly after her arrest, made admissions which may result in an investigation of their tactics.

The officers testified they had not cautioned the 16-year-old child that anything she might say would be used against her.

Instead, it was testified the girl was rushed before two policemen and in the hours of dawn, alone and unguided, she dictated the mother-slaying confession.

Attorneys for the girl fought bitterly to prevent introduction of the confession at Dorothy's hearing yesterday.

J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice under Daugherty.

Charged They Obtained $65,000.

The defendants, it was charged, obtained $65,000 from certain defendants in the mail fraud case growing out of the Crager company's sale of stock in the glass casket company.

Means, Felder and Jarnecke, the government alleged, told these defendants that they could obtain dismissal of the indictments against them.

Felder's and Means' defense was that Jarnecke, Isaac Padorr of Chicago and the latter's financial backer, Samuel Schmidt, conspired to swindle the casket defendants, using Means' name for that purpose without the detective's knowledge.

SOCIETY

Organize Mothers' Club at Meet in Church of Christ

A Mother's club was organized yesterday afternoon, in the First Church of Christ, with Mrs. C. R. Reese presiding. The meeting opened with devotionals, in which Mrs. Reese outlined the Bible story of Hannah and her son, Samuel. H. J. Harbinson, the evangelistic singer, sang "Mother." Rev. B. R. Johnson gave a short address on the work of Mothers' clubs.

During the business session, the following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Ben Galloway; vice president, Mrs. Phyllis Glynn; recording secretary, Mrs. Lottie Tracey; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. O'Hara; program committe, Mrs. C. R. Reese, Mrs. John Green and Mrs. Addie Jones; refreshment committee for the next meeting, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Leigh Moffett, Mrs. Elmer Crawford, Mrs. Howard Woodburn and Mrs. C. H. O'Hara.

These meetings will be held the third Thursday in each month.

Amity Bible Class Party.

The Amity Bible class of the First Methodist Protestant church entertained last evening in the social room. A short business session was held, with Mrs. Harvey Nelson, president of the class, in charge. The following program, arranged by Mrs. Newton Lane, was presented:

Vocal duet—Mrs. Pansy McDonald and Miss Sara Hargreaves.
Reading—Mrs. Emmett Wilson.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Charles H. Risinger.
Reading—Mrs. Bert Kaufmann.
Piano duet—Miss Mary Eva Karl and Miss Hannah Wilson.

A dainty luncheon was served during the social hours by the social committee, which was composed of Mrs. Florence Fowler, Mrs. Carl Kennedy, Mrs. Lucy Smith, Mrs. John Porter and Mrs. Kirby Stottlemire.

Birthday Anniversary Observed.

The twelfth birthday anniversary of Margaret Jean Shaw was celebrated recently in her home in Minerva street. Juvenile games were enjoyed during the social hours, a guessing contest being featured. Trophies were awarded Virginia Wingrove, Mary Harding and Mary Edith Wildblood. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Chester Dornan, and grandmother, Mrs. John Gilmore, assisted by Mrs. Forrest Bennett. Covers were arranged for Misses Ruth Orr, Dorothy Shultz, Virginia Louise Bennett, Mary Harding, Margaret VanVlack, Opal Brown, Jean Dornan, Margaret Jean Shaw, Virginia Wingrove, Elizabeth Peppin, Virginia Skidmore, Mary Edith Wildblood, Mabel Smith and Daisy Gilmore.

ROAD PROGRAM IS DISCUSSED

Commissioners Meet With Officials in Joint Session.

A general discussion of the road improvement program as has been so far outlined was featured during a joint conference between the County Commissioners, Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes and County Auditor C. E. Hamilton Thursday.

The commissioners will go to Columbus next week to discuss the county road program with the state highway department, leaving Monday afternoon, following their usual Monday session.

There has been set aside for road purposes on the general duplicate a levy of $2.20 per thousand of valuation, but this money is for county road purposes only.

In addition to the county road fund, various taxing districts of the county have made their individual road levies, nad these levies range from 86c to $3 per thousand of valuation.

It has been indicated by the commissioners frequently that it is the purpose of the board to improve roads that will result in the most good to the greatest number of people.

It is reasonable to believe that the Wellsville-Salineville road will be surfaced in Yellow Creek township this year if it is at all possible to reach this phase of the improvement.

Contracts have been awarded for the surfacing of the only open section of this road in Washington township, and the grading on the Yellow Creek section has been in progress for some months. This work will continue throughout the winter, and it is possible that the grading will be finished by March or April, weather permitting.

That the East Rochester-North Georgetown road will be surfaced this year there is no doubt. Bids are now being sought on this job, and as it is a county-township project, the contract is to be awarded by the county commissioners. This road has been graded for several years, and when finished will add over six miles of additional improved highway to the present county record.

Improvement of the Hanover-Salem road is also another road project that is being given serious consideration. Hanover township is in a position to go through with the grading of this road from Hanover to the Hanover-Butler township line. The section of this highway in Butler township has been graded for several years.

With these road projects out of the way, it is very likely that the commissioners will give attention to road projects in other parts of the county.

Sunday Bus Service Suspended.

Sunday passenger service between Lisbon and New Galilee over the P. L. & W. railroad has been suspended until spring, at least. The motor bus that has been operating over this road will continue to make its weekly trips. The operation of the bus on Sunday has not been profitable.

Granted Leave of Absence.

In the case of the State of Ohio, on relation of C. C. Crabbe, attorney general, for and on behalf of Columbiana county against George B. Williams, wherein a claim is set up for judgment for $877.56, the court has granted leave to the defendants to answer by Feb. 28th.

Alleged Alimony.

Temporary alimony in the amount of $50 within 10 days and $30 on the 1st and 15th of each month thereafter until further order of common pleas court has been allowed Hilda Osborne in her divorce action against her husband Clarence Osborne.

Woman Granted Divorce.

Judge James G. Moore in common pleas court has granted a decree of divorce to Mary P. Loganecker against her husband, Dewey Loganecker. Her petition was filed by Attorneys Metzgar & McCarty of Salem. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, that of Mary Pasco.

Case Adjusted

Adjustment has been made in the $50,000 damage case filed against the Y. & O. railroad by Merle D. Halverstaldt, according to a record just filed in common pleas court. The action has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at the costs of the [illegible].

Property Transfers.

Real estate transfers have been recorded as follows:

Affidavit for transfer of real estate inherited from F. J. Redinger, deceased by Josephine Redinger, lands in Perry township.

Arthur Kibler to Helen E. Kibler, lot 30 in J. M. Evan's first addition, Salem.

Commissioners Meet With Officials in Joint Session.

A general discussion of the road improvement program as has been so far outlined was featured during a joint conference between the County Commissioners, Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Brookes and County Auditor C. E. Hamilton Thursday.

The commissioners will go to Columbus next week to discuss the county road program with the state highway department, leaving Monday afternoon, following their usual Monday session.

There has been set aside for road purposes on the general duplicate a levy of $2.20 per thousand of valuation, but this money is for county road purposes only.

In addition to the county road fund, various taxing districts of the county have made their individual road levies, nad these levies range from 86c to $3 per thousand of valuation.

It has been indicated by the commissioners frequently that it is the purpose of the board to improve roads that will result in the most good to the greatest number of people.

It is reasonable to believe that the Wellsville-Salineville road will be surfaced in Yellow Creek township this year if it is at all possible to reach this phase of the improvement.

Contracts have been awarded for the surfacing of the only open section of this road in Washington township, and the grading on the Yellow Creek section has been in progress for some months. This work will continue throughout the winter, and it is possible that the grading will be finished by March or April, weather permitting.

That the East Rochester-North Georgetown road will be surfaced this year there is no doubt. Bids are now being sought on this job, and as it is a county-township project, the contract is to be awarded by the county commissioners. This road has been graded for several years, and when finished will add over six miles of additional improved highway to the present county record.

Improvement of the Hanover-Salem road is also another road project that is being given serious consideration. Hanover township is in a position to go through with the grading of this road from Hanover to the Hanover-Butler township line. The section of this highway in Butler township has been graded for several years.

With these road projects out of the way, it is very likely that the commissioners will give attention to road projects in other parts of the county.

Sunday Bus Service Suspended.

Sunday passenger service between Lisbon and New Galilee over the P. L. & W. railroad has been suspended until spring, at least. The motor bus that has been operating over this road will continue to make its weekly trips. The operation of the bus on Sunday has not been profitable.

Granted Leave of Absence.

In the case of the State of Ohio, on relation of C. C. Crabbe, attorney general, for and on behalf of Columbiana county against George B. Williams, wherein a claim is set up for judgment for $877.56, the court has granted leave to the defendants to answer by Feb. 28th.

Alleged Alimony.

Temporary alimony in the amount of $50 within 10 days and $30 on the 1st and 15th of each month thereafter until further order of common pleas court has been allowed Hilda Osborne in her divorce action against her husband Clarence Osborne.

Woman Granted Divorce.

Judge James G. Moore in common pleas court has granted a decree of divorce to Mary P. Loganecker against her husband, Dewey Loganecker. Her petition was filed by Attorneys Metzgar & McCarty of Salem. The plaintiff has been restored to her maiden name, that of Mary Pasco.

Case Adjusted

Adjustment has been made in the $50,000 damage case filed against the Y. & O. railroad by Merle D. Halverstaldt, according to a record just filed in common pleas court. The action has been dismissed on the motion of the plaintiff and at the costs of the [illegible].

WOMEN AND WAR INCREASE SALE OF CIGARETTES

Decrease in Use of Cigars as "Fags" Boom.

FEDERAL REPORT

Department of Commerce Official Gives Tobacco Figures.

WASHINGTON, Jan. — The outstanding feature of the tobacco industry in the past decade has been the vast increase in cigarette consumption in all parts of the world, says T. L. Hughes, chief of the tobacco section of the Department of Commerce, in a report on the international trade in leaf and manufactured tobacco.

This trend, according to Mr. Hughes, developed during the war years and has steadily gained momentum. The more general use of cigarettes by women in all countries has given a further impetus to this movement. The consumption of cigars, however, during this period, due chiefly to the curtailed purchasing power in many of the larger consuming countries, has registered a marked decline.

As in indication of the increased use of cigarettes it is pointed out that in the decade of 1913-23 consumption in the United States gained fourfold, increasing from 15,000,000,000 in 1913 to 63,000,000,000 in 1923; in Japan, threefold, from 7,000,000,000 to 23,000,000,000, and in Germany almost twofold, from 12,000,0000,000 to 23,000,000,000. Sweden consumed 275,000,000 cigarettes annually during the years 1911 to 1916, compared with about 825,000,000 in each year from 1916 to 1920. Belgium is now consuming 5,500,000,000 cigarettes annually; Austria, 4,000,000,000; Hungary, 3,200,000,000, and France more than 4,750,000,000.

The consumption of cigarettes in Denmark has increased from 139 per capita in 1913 to 246 per capita in 1922, or a total consumption of 950,000,000 in the latter year. The popularity of the cigarette in Italy is shown by the increase from 2,690,450,000, consumed in 1914, to 7,721,168,000 in 1922, or 187 per cent.

Strange as it may seem the report states that the consumption of tobacco is probably influenced as little by the economic conditions or prosperity of a people as that noted in any commodity. Absence of prosperity among a people may cause a reversion from the use of the more expensive to the cheaper forms of tobacco. This is corroborated by the fact that although the United States is the richest nation per capita in the world, it has not the largest consumption of tobacco.

In recent years leaf tobacco alone has formed approximately 8 per cent of all agricultural products exported from the United States, being relatively of more importance than our export trade in meats. This country is by far the most important producer and exporter of tobacco, but strong competition has developed from a number of other countries, including the Dutch East Indies, Brazil and Greece.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

IN the most dramatic movement ever heralded in the interest of Musical America, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, one of the strongest institutions financially in the United States, is offering $5,000 in monthly cash prizes, in a nation-wide "music memory" contest.

The offer is made without reservations. It is open to every man, woman and child in America. And everyone is invited. There is no obligation.

You are neither required nor requested to buy anything or to render any service in order to enter—or to win.

The only persons excluded are employes of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, the Radio Corporation of America and the artists, orchestras and musicians whose selections are to be broadcast in the contest.

Contest blanks now here—free

Briefly, the purpose of the contest is to emphasize the remarkable musical possibilities of radio as recently attained through the combination of the miracle of Radio, the Radiola of the Radio Corporation of America, and the world-noted Brunswick Phonograph. And to enable people to attain a more thorough appreciation and understanding of good music.

• • •

Starting Tuesday evening, February 3, 1925, and for every Tuesday during each month, until further notice, certain Brunswick artists, orchestras and singers, among them famous stars of the New Hall of Fame, will perform via radio their selections to be broadcast through stations listed.

Your object is to identify the name of the artists and the selections.

Complete details are on the contest blank. Also the names of the artists, and a list of selections from which the contest program will be taken.

Call for your blank

Call and we will gladly give you a contest blank.

Owing to the tremendous interest this contest is creating, we suggest your coming early.

Maria Ivogun	John Charles Thomas	Willem Willeke

Starting by Radio, Tuesday Evening, February 3, 1925

At 9 P. M., Eastern Standard Time—8 P. M., Central Standard Time.
First CASH AWARDS to be announced March 17, 1925.

IN the most dramatic movement ever heralded in the interest of Musical America, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, one of the strongest institutions financially in the United States, is offering $5,000 in monthly cash prizes, in a nation-wide "music memory" contest.

The offer is made without reservations. It is open to every man, woman and child in America. And everyone is invited. There is no obligation.

You are neither required nor requested to buy anything or to render any service in order to enter—or to win.

The only persons excluded are employees of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, the Radio Corporation of America and the artists, orchestras and musicians whose selections are to be broadcast in the contest.

Contest blanks now here—free

Briefly, the purpose of the contest is to emphasize the remarkable musical possibilities of radio as recently attained through the combination of the miracle of Radio, the Radiola of the Radio Corporation of America, and the world-noted Brunswick Phonograph. And to enable people to attain a more thorough appreciation and understanding of good music.

* * *

Starting Tuesday evening, February 3, 1925, and for every Tuesday during each month, until further notice, certain Brunswick artists, orchestras and singers, among them famous stars of the New Hall of Fame, will perform via radio their selections to be broadcast through stations listed.

Your object is to identify the name of the artists and the selections.

Complete details are on the contest blank. Also the names of the artists, and a list of selections from which the contest program will be taken.

Call for your blank

Call and we will gladly give you a contest blank.

Owing to the tremendous interest this contest is creating, we suggest your coming early.

Be sure to enter. Arrange to receive the program in your home over your Brunswick Radiola, and invite your friends in to do so with you. We'll give you blanks for the occasion.

Contest Broadcast Over These Stations

Every Tuesday night during each month, beginning Tuesday, February 3rd, at 9 P. M., Eastern Standard Time—8 P. M., Central Time.

Billion Fish Eggs Planted.

Canada, a sportsman's paradise in many respects, has no intention of letting its fishing retreats run dry. During 1924 the inland lakes and rivers in Canada received more than 900,000,000 young fish and eggs to replenish them. The varieties released were salmon, white fish, perch, bass and pike. More white fish than any other were distributed because of their popularity.

ANTI-PISTOL LAW PROPOSED

Measure Introduced in Lower House Carries Severe Penalties.

Severe penalities are prescribed in a bill introduced in the house of delegates by Delegate Wood Taylor of Roane county, regulating the possession, sale and use of pistols and revolvers. Any person committing or attempting to commit a crime when armed with a revolver shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than five nor more than ten years.

The bill provides second or third offenses are punishable for double or triple the penalty. Fourth offenders may be sentenced to perpetual punishment. Possession of a pistol would be prima facie evidence of intention to commit a felony.

The measure would prohibit unnaturalized persons or second offenders from owning a pistol, violation to be punished by five years imprisonment. Carrying of revolvers on person or in an automobile would be punishable by one year in prison.

In certain instances, justices, sheriffs, chiefs of police or judges may issue licenses to persons making application to carry revolvers. It would be unlawful to sell or give pistols to persons under 18 or to unnaturalized persons.

Signing of prescribed blanks would be required of other purchasers of firearms.

FOLLANSBEE FIVE HERE TONIGHT

Chester High school basketball five is facing one of the hardest games of the season tonight when the strong Follansbee five will be engaged on the Rock Springs park floor.

The Brooke county passers have been hanging up a fine record this season and last week defeated the local squad on their home floor by a comfortable margin. High is going into the game confident of turning the tables on their heavier and more experienced opponents.

The preliminary contest will be between the Sophomore and Junior teams of the local school. This will begin at 7:30.

TWO NOON SHOP MEETINGS HERE

Rev. R. B. Ward, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was the speaker at the shop meeting today at the Edwin M. Knowles pottery. E. A. Gilmer was the leader.

Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, spoke at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor plant. Rev. T. H. Newcomb, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, was the leader.

MINISTER LISTS SERMON SUBJECTS

Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the First Christian church, will have as his subjects for Sunday morning, "The Man Who Lost the Prize When It Was Almost Won." His topic in the evening will be "One Hundred Percent Christianity." Announcement has been made that an attendance prize will be given.

CHURCH SOCIETY IS FORMED HERE

Young people of the First Presbyterian church met last evening and organized a Young People's Expressional department. The following officers were named: President, Faye Evarts; vice president, Sara Caughey; secretary, Eleanor Miller; treasurer, Mary Hindman. The first meeting will be held in the church at 6:45 Sunday evening.

Lumber Dealers Meet.

Two hundred delegates are on hand for the twelfth annual convention of the West Virginia Lumber and Builders' Supply Dealers' association, which opened yesterday at Clarksburg. The opening session was featured with an address by M. B. YOUR HEALTH

Short Fasts Surely Help to Renew Your Youth

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

IN Chicago they have been making some interesting experiments. The head of the department of physiology in the University of Chicago fasted for fifteen days. He believes the experience renewed the youthfulness of his tissues.

According to the report I saw, a fast of this length increases the powers of the body to take care of food. It appears to store up energy. The supply of gastric juices is added to and on this account food is more readily digested.

There is no suffering involved after the first pangs of hunger disappear. Gradual weakening of strength is observed, but aside from this nothing disagreeable is noted.

The average person "feels weak" and "faint" if he does not get his meal right on time. Much of this sensation is psychological. We are creatures of habit. Unless the food is ready we look for some sign of bodily protest and of course we get it.

Mother worries tremendously if the baby is "off its feed" and refuses to eat. She looks for the little one to grow weak and to suffer seriously for lack of food.

As a matter of fact, even a tiny babe can do without nourishment for a surprising time. If the digestion is upset, it is far better to cut off food than to overtax a weakened stomach.

I am not sure that long fasts are productive of practical good. Usually, disordered digestion is the result of bad eating habits. Unless these habits are overcome, there will be a speedy return of the symptoms on resuming regular eating.

There is at least one lesson and a good one in the Chicago experiments. If a man can go two weeks, without any food at all and suffer no more inconvenience than a gradual weakening of strength, why should you eat so much food at each meal? Why not reduce your intake and relieve the pressure on your vital organs?

Life is shortened by overeating. Too much strain is placed on stomach, kidneys, liver and indeed all the organs. It is a foolish habit and should be curbed.

It is hard to control appetite but to do so is a wise thing. Even though you do not fast for fifteen days, try it now and then for fifteen hours at least, at a stretch. It will do you good.

Answers to Health Questions

J. M. B. Q.—What should a woman of 45, 5 feet, 2½ inches tall weigh?

2.—What are the symptoms of cancer?

A.—She should weigh about 140 pounds.

2.—They are very numerous and depend upon the part of the body affected. A thorough examination and X-ray will definitely determine the presence of cancer.

E. M. G. Q.—Do you think that wearing rubber garments would injure the health? I wear a rubber corset each day for three or four hours.

A.—I do not believe so—rubber garments are reducing in effect, since they cause profuse prespiration.

EFFIE. Q.—What do you advise for snoring?

A.—This is due either to mouth-breathing which has become a habit or to some obstruction in the nasal passages or throat. It would be wise to have the nose and throat examined so that proper treatment may be prescribed.

* * *

E. F. F. Q.—What kind of exercise will reduce the hips?

A.—Such exercise as dancing, running, walking, climbing etc., should all be helpful along these lines.

143 Phones Per 1,000 Persons

United States still leads the world in the number of telephones per 1,000 inhabitants. In England it is only 21 per thousand as against 143 in United States, 83 in Denmark and 50 in Norway. A campaign has been inaugurated in England to increase and improve facilities and to enlarge the number of users thereby. The British telephone system is declared notoriously inferior to ours.

Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

IN Chicago they have been making some interesting experiments. The head of the department of physiology in the University of Chicago fasted for fifteen days. He believes the experience renewed the youthfulness of his tissues.

According to the report I saw, a fast of this length increases the powers of the body to take care of food. It appears to store up energy. The supply of gastric juices is added to and on this account food is more readily digested.

There is no suffering involved after the first pangs of hunger disappear. Gradual weakening of strength is observed, but aside from this nothing disagreeable is noted.

The average person feels weak and "faint" if he does not get his meal right on time. Much of this sensation is psychological. We are creatures of habit. Unless the food is ready we look for some sign of bodily protest and of course we get it.

Mother worries tremendously if the baby is "off its feed" and refuses to eat. She looks for the little one to grow weak and to suffer seriously for lack of food.

As a matter of fact, even a tiny babe can do without nourishment for a surprising time. If the digestion is upset it is far better to cut off food than to overtax a weakened stomach.

I am not sure that long fasts are productive of practical good. Usually, disordered digestion is the result of bad eating habits. Unless these habits are overcome, there will be a speedy return of the symptoms on resuming regular eating.

There is at least one lesson and a good one in the Chicago experiments. If a man can go two weeks, without any food at all and suffer no more inconvenience than a gradual weakening of strength, why should you eat so much food at each meal? Why not reduce your intake and relieve the pressure on your vital organs?

Life is shortened by overeating. Too much strain is placed on stomach, kidneys, liver and indeed all the organs. It is a foolish habit and should be curbed.

It is hard to control appetite but to do so is a wise thing. Even though you do not fast for fifteen days, try it now and then for fifteen hours at least, at a stretch. It will do you good.

Answers to Health Questions

J. M. B. Q.—What should a woman of 45, 5 feet, 2½ inches tall weigh?

2.—What are the symptoms of cancer?

A.—She should weigh about 140 pounds.

2.—They are very numerous and depend upon the part of the body affected. A thorough examination and X-ray will definitely determine the presence of cancer.

E. M. G. Q.—Do you think that wearing rubber garments would injure the health? I wear a rubber corset each day for three or four hours.

A.—I do not believe so—rubber garments are reducing in effect, since they cause profuse prespiration.

EFFIE. Q.—What do you advise for snoring?

A.—This is due either to mouth-breathing which has become a habit or to some obstruction in the nasal passages or throat. It would be wise to have the nose and throat examined so that proper treatment may be prescribed.

• • •

E. F. F. Q.—What kind of exercise will reduce the hips?

A.—Such exercise as dancing, running, walking, climbing etc., should all be helpful along these lines.

To Fill Local Pulpit.

Rev. Charles Bell, welfare worker of Elwood City, Pa.; will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. He was a classmate of the late Rev. Herbert O. MacDonald, who died early this month. He is not a candidate for the pastorate.

Gore To Take Office

Secretary of Agriculture Howard Gore, has issued a statement in which he denies that he intends remaining in the cabinet of President Coolidge after March 4 on which date he will be inaugurated governor of West Virginia. His denial was brought forth by reports that he would not qualify for the office to which he was elected last November.

143 Phones Per 1,000 Persons

United States still leads the world in the number of telephones per 1,000 inhabitants. In England it is only 21 per thousand as against 143 in United States, 83 in Denmark and 50 in Norway. A campaign has been inaugurated in England to increase and improve facilities and to enlarge the number of users thereby. The British telephone system is declared notoriously inferior to ours.

EVANGELISTIC PROGRAM HERE

Series of Meets in Christian Church Opens Feb. 1.

Arrangements are well under way for the series of evangelistic services which are scheduled to open on Sunday, February 1, in the First Christian church here, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Thomas B. Shearer.

There will be no week-night preaching during the first week of the services, according to Rev. Shearer, but members will convene at the church each evening at 7 o'clock for one-half hour and then go forth in teams to visit others.

Preaching services by Rev. Shearer, will be held on Sunday, there will be no sermons then until the following Sunday and from then on until the close of the revivals, there will be services each night. T. C. McClelland, choir leader, will lead the singing.

Rev. Shearer's sermon topics up until Feb. 13 follow:

Feb. 1—Morning, "Fishers of Men." Evening, "The Sinfulness of Sin."

Feb. 8—Morning, "Forgiveness." Evening, "A Program for Christian Unity."

Feb. 9—7:30 p. m. "Handling Aright the Word of Truth."

Feb. 10—7:30 p. m. "Life's Greatest Question Answered."

Feb. 11—7:30 p. m. "A Change of Heart."

Feb. 12—7:30 p. m. "The Bible Plan."

Feb. 13—7:30 p. m. "What Church Should I Join?"

YELLOW CREEK CHURCH SERVICES

"Lessons from the Eclipse" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. K J. Stewart, pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church, on Sunday morning at services at 11. His evening sermon, at 7:30, will be, "What the Scriptures Say About the Second Coming of Christ."

An offering will be taken at the morning services for the church improvement fund. Sunday school will convene at 10 a. m., and young people at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Stewart will discuss "What the Scriptures Say About the Second Coming of Christ;" also at services Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Long's Run Presbyterian church. Sunday school will convene at 1:30 p. m.

JOLLY MATRONS ARE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Roy Friskhorn was hostess to members of the Jolly Matrons club last evening at her home in Fifteenth street.

The home was appropriately decorated for the affair. Guessing contests, stunts and dancing were diversions. Honors in the guessing contests were awarded Mrs. George Fassett. A two course luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held probably within two weeks, at the home of Mrs. Paul Pearch.

APOPLEXY CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH

Apoplexy is believed to have been the cause of the death of Miss Bessie Blanche March, 42 years old, who died suddenly Wednesday night in her room in a private home in Buckeye avenue.

Miss March's lifeless body was found prone on the floor of her room, with her head against a couch leg, by a girl who lived in the house. Dr. E. F. Swift was summoned.

The body was removed to the Haugh funeral home and will be taken later to Mt. Zion where funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Shattuck.

Deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Raymond Meek and Edna, of Negley; and two brothers, William and Herbert, of Negley.

MISS STEVENSON CLUB HOSTESS

Miss Nan M. Stevenson will be hostess to members oif the Wellsville Twentieth Century club this afternoon at her home in Main street.

Members will respond to roll call with quotations from Don Marquis, Willa Cather, by Mrs. E. L. McGarey, and John Hall Wheelock, by Mrs. A. G. Smith, will be subjects on today's program. Mrs. A. F. Campbell's topic will be "Contemporary American Painters." In addition, there will be special music.

With Amazing Speed It Stops That Tough Hang On Cough That Racks Your Whole Body

For simple coughs any simple sweet sugary cough syrup will probably do.

But when you want to throw out of your system one of those old timers, that simply won't be conquered, but lingers on and on causing sleepless nights and days of torment then you've just got to have a real cough medicine.

Then you must ask your druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion for the harder and tougher and tighter they come the more joy Bronchuline gets in knocking them out.

Bronchuline isn't a cheap cough conqueror, mind you, for first raters are never cheap. But if you are one of the unlucky ones that a persistent, health destroying cough is pushing towards the grave, get a bottle today and notice how the first dose takes right hold and soothes the terrible soreness.

Often three or four doses brings blessed relief and half a bottle forces the most stubborn cough into submission.

"A bottle of magic," one old man calls Bronchuline Emulsion. He was all worn out and ready to give up when a friend brought him the good news about Bronchuline.

Don't let a cough hang on—it's dangerous company—Get rid of it quick. Ask Jesse D. Holloway and Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and Newell, W. Va., or any up to the times druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion. It's a good medicine to have around the house because it contains no chloroform or dope and often two or three doses will stop any ordinary cough.

VICTIM APPEARS AS JUDGE SENTENCES "SLAYER" TO DIE

MILAN—A sensational incident reminiscent of the Michael Arlen stories occurred during a murder trial here recently.

A young peasant named Sabatini was charged with murdering the local butcher, and, although he vigorously denied that he had killed the butcher, he admitted that he had struck him during a quarrel, but had not seriously injured him. Testimony was submitted that the butcher had completely disappeared, and that it was apparent that Sabatini had disposed of his body.

The judge was in the midst of passing the death sentence upon Sabatini when a man rushed into court and announced that he was the supposedly dead butcher. "Sabatini knocked me unconscious," he said "and for weeks afterward I was unable to remember what happened. I heard of this case today for the first time."

The trial was abruptly suspended for evidence of identification.

NATHAN REICH STORE IS SOLD

Meyer Reich, proprietor of the Reich clothing store, East Liverpool, today announced completion of negotiations by which he will take over the drygoods business operated by Nathan Reich, at 423 Main street.

Nathan Reich, it was announced, will leave for New York City, where he will establish a jobbing and importing business.

The new store here will be known as the Reich Brothers' Clothing store.

A full line of drygoods as well as a ladies', men's and children's wearing apparel, will be carried.

Reich is now holding a clean-up sale to dispose of present stock. In the near future the business will be restocked and the interior of the store will be remodeled and redecorated.

The complete line will be installed within the next month. M. H. Reich, brother of Meyer Reich, will manage the business here.

DINNER PARTY AT KING HOME

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. King entertained a number of their friends last evening at their home in Main street, the affair honoring their wedding anniversary.

A two course buffet dinner was served at 7:30. Sweet pears were used in the decorations. Following dinner seven tables of bridge were in play.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cronin and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DeMunn, of East Liverpool

Silverweb Club Meeting.

Members of the Silverweb club will hold their semi-monthly meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Mary Wilson, in East Liverpool.

One of Five Has Poor Eyes.

Investigations carried on in the schools show that one child out of five on an average, has defective eyes or weak eyes. Of a million children observed, more than 200,000 had defective vision. This but proves the trend that has been noticed over a period of time, and indicates the situation is not improving.

Come on Boys

OF COURSE, no boy will really test his shoes with a saw, an auger or a chisel, but it does seem so, especially when mother just finished lecturing about the care of new shoes and father just paid the bill. And to make boys take care of their shoes all the time would be to take half of the joy out of their lives.

The solution of the problem is to buy WEYENBERG SHOES at the start

They "Stand the Gaff"
Weyenberg Boys' Shoes are made "All Solid Leather"—cut from the best part of the hide. They are not made like so many boys' shoes, from the culls or left-overs of leathers used for men's shoes. That's the reason Weyenberg Boys' Shoes wear so much longer and better than other shoes. The boys like them because they "stand the gaff."

Then you must ask your druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion for the harder and tougher and tighter they come the more joy Bronchuline gets in knocking them out.

Bronchuline isn't a cheap cough conqueror, mind you, for first raters are never cheap. But if you are one of the unlucky ones that a persistent, health destroying cough is pushing towards the grave, get a bottle today and notice how the first dose takes right hold and soothes the terrible soreness.

Often three or four doses brings blessed relief and half a bottle forces the most stubborn cough into submission.

"A bottle of magic," one old man calls Bronchuline Emulsion. He was all worn out and ready to give up when a friend brought him the good news about Bronchuline.

Don't let a cough hang on—it's dangerous company—Get rid of it quick. Ask Jesse D. Holloway and Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and Newell, W. Va., or any up to the times druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion. It's a good medicine to have around the house because it contains no chloroform or dope and often two or three doses will stop any ordinary cough.

VICTIM APPEARS AS JUDGE SENTENCES "SLAYER" TO DIE

MILAN—A sensational incident reminiscent of the Michael Arlen stories occurred during a murder trial here recently.

A young peasant named Sabatini was charged with murdering the local butcher, and, although he vigorously denied that he had killed the butcher, he admitted that he had struck him during a quarrel, but had not seriously injured him. Testimony was submitted that the butcher had completely disappeared, and that it was apparent that Sabatini had disposed of his body.

The judge was in the midst of passing the death sentence upon Sabatini when a man rushed into court and announced that he was the supposedly dead butcher. "Sabatini knocked me unconscious," he said "and for weeks afterward I was unable to remember what happened. I heard of this case today for the first time."

The trial was abruptly suspended for evidence of identification.

NATHAN REICH STORE IS SOLD

Meyer Reich, proprietor of the Reich clothing store, East Liverpool, today announced completion of negotiations by which he will take over the drygoods business operated by Nathan Reich, at 423 Main street.

Nathan Reich, it was announced, will leave for New York City, where he will establish a jobbing and importing business.

The new store here will be known as the Reich Brothers' Clothing store.

A full line of drygoods as well as a ladies', men's and children's wearing apparel, will be carried.

Reich is now holding a clean-up sale to dispose of present stock. In the near future the business will be restocked and the interior of the store will be remodeled and redecorated.

The complete line will be installed within the next month. M. H. Reich, brother of Meyer Reich, will manage the business here.

DINNER PARTY AT KING HOME

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. King entertained a number of their friends last evening at their home in Main street, the affair honoring their wedding anniversary.

A two course buffet dinner was served at 7:30. Sweet pears were used in the decorations. Following dinner seven tables of bridge were in play.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cronin and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DeMunn, of East Liverpool

Silverweb Club Meeting.

Members of the Silverweb club will hold their semi-monthly meeting tonight at the home of Mrs. Mary Wilson, in East Liverpool.

One of Five Has Poor Eyes.

Investigations carried on in the schools show that one child out of five on an average, has defective eyes or weak eyes. Of a million children observed, more than 200,000 had defective vision. This but proves the trend that has been noticed over a period of time, and indicates the situation is not improving.

Come on Boys
OF COURSE, no boy will really test his shoes with a saw, an auger or a chisel, but it does seem so, especially when mother just finished lecturing about the care of new shoes and father just paid the bill. And to make boys take care of their shoes all the time would be to take half of the joy out of their lives.
The solution of the problem is to buy WEYENBERG SHOES at the start
They "Stand the Gaff"
Weyenberg Boys' Shoes are made "All Solid Leather"—cut from the best part of the hide. They are not made like so many boys' shoes, from the culls or left-overs of leathers used for men's shoes. That's the reason Weyenberg Boys' Shoes wear so much longer and better than other shoes. The boys like them because they "stand the gaff."

F. J. BORING QUITS PENNSY DUTIES

Thomas J. Boring, who, 38 years ago, left the coal mines of Salineville to go to work on the C. & P. division of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been retired to the honor roll within the past month.

He is a twin brother of E. E. Boring of Irondale section, M. of W. department.

After working several years in the Farmer and Anderson coal mine at Salineville, Mr. Boring was given a position as work train laborer on the C. & P. Three years later he was promoted to car builder and worked in the Wellsville yards for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Boring had five children. One is dead. Cloid E. is an oil salesman; Ross is a switchman for the P. R. R. in Wellsville; Mrs. Andrew Coutts lives in Louisville, O., and Mr. Boring has been residing with his other daughter, Mrs. G. C. McCown, since the death of his wife.

Boring, in his younger days, possessed unusual talent as a baseball player. He was a star southpaw in his teens, and was tendered an offer when 19 years of age by Frank Skates, a baseball scout, to enter the ranks of the professionals. He turned down the offer, however.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors, Knights of Golden Eagle, Castle No. 108, Pennsylvania Railroad Co., M. of W. bridge department, storeroom employes, Rev. Many Diplomatic Changes Will Transform Capital Social Lite

Washington Hostesses Will be Compelled to Throw Away Old Guest Lists Next March 4.

By George R. Holmes.

WASHINGTON.—Social and official life in the national capital is undergoing a transformation, the like of which, for completeness, has seldom been seen.

Along with the Cabinet changes, Supreme court shifts, a new congress elected, a new administration coming into power, and new faces in many lesser places, the diplomatic colony in Washington is now about to experience an unusual renovation. By the 4th of March next capital hostesses will be compelled to throw away their old social lists, like last year's bills, and prepare new ones.

The diplomatic colony here usually is immune to the changes dictated by American politics, but this year seems to be an exception. With the advent of the new administration six weeks hence, there will be new Ambassadors representing four of the major world powers—an unprecedented shifting in the usually stable colony.

Four New Envoys.

France is sending Emile Deschanel to replace the veteran Jules Jusserand, who has served his country here with distinction through the terms of five presidents, beginning with Roosevelt.

Japan is sending Tsueno Matsuldara, scion of an old and distinguished Japanese family, to take the place of the popular but impolitic Masano Hanihara, who was recalled because he was undiplomatic enough to tell the State department that "grave consequences would follow the passage of the Japanese restriction act in congress.

Germany is sending Baron Ago von Maltzan to succeed Dr. Otto von Wiedfeldt, who has been here since the resumption of German-American relations following the war.

A new Ambassador from Italy also is expected during February. Prince Gelaeso Caetani, the present Ambassador, having resigned some weeks ago.

Before March 4.

It is probable that all of the newcomers will arrive in Washington in time for the inauguration ceremonies on March 4.

The exigencies of politics at home and the personal desires of the incumbents, rather than dissatisfaction with their work here, are responsible for most of the changes. But whatever the reasons, Washington has never seen anything like it for a complete shake-up. The changes will emphasize the "new deal" all around in Washington after the 4th of March.

Jusserand's going creates a new Dean of the Corps, this honor falling to Don Juan Rianoy Gayangos, veteran Frenchman in length of service here. The deanship is an important institution, socially at any rate. All new diplomats call and pay their respects to the dean as soon as they arrive, and they consult the dean about precedent, procedure, and their problems frequently. The dean ranks everyone else in the corps at receptions, official functions, etc., which means he enters first, leaves first, heads the line, and sits on the right hand of the host or hostess.

Washington is genuinely sorry to lose most of the outgoing diplomats. In Jusserand's case, he has been here for nearly a quarter of a century, enjoyed intimate relations with officials of five administrations, and has been regarded almost as an institution. But for his old friendships and his social contacts, it is probable that many of the Franco-American problems of the last ten years would not have yielded so readily to adjustment.

Wiedfeldt Friendly.

Dr. Wiedfeldt has made many friends. His was an unusually difficult diplomatic assignment—the first German Ambassador, after Count von Bernstorff. He came when war wounds were still a bit fresh. Yet he managed his affairs so ably and with such niceties of taste that he made himself very popular, and there is real regret at his going.

One thing which Wiedfeldt did was to set an example in diplomatic economy. The German embassy of the old days used to be one of the most luxurious and extravagant in Washington. On the theory, apparently, that it ill-behooved him to make any display of wealth at a time when his country was in such depths of despair and financial morass, Dr. Wiedfeldt has lived here with extreme simplicity, entertained but very little, and accepted only the most formal of courtesies elsewhere.

Dr. Wiedfeldt is an example of the business man in diplomacy. Upon his return to Germany he will resume directorship of the great Krupp iron works at Essen. He is known as the "Schwab of Germany."

Hanihara Popular.

There is, also, a good deal of regret over the fact that Hanihara will not return, for Japan has never had a more popular ambassador, in a personal sense, than the diminutive, jolly "Hanny." There is, too, a good deal of sympathy for him in official and social circles, for it is felt that in making his "grave consequences" threat he was simply being made "the goat" for his foreign office in an awkward diplomatic predicament.

Prince Caetani, the Italian ambassador, also has been popular. Despite his rather awesome title, he is a civil engineer by profession, and has roamed over much of the United States in pursuit of his studies. He is a bachelor—which may account for his popularity in certain circles.

The Washington dipomatic colony has been so increased since the war that it now numbers nearly half a hundred embassies and legations. All of the little countries created out of the breaking up of the old Central Powers now have representatives here. Late additions have been representatives of Egypt and the Irish Free State.

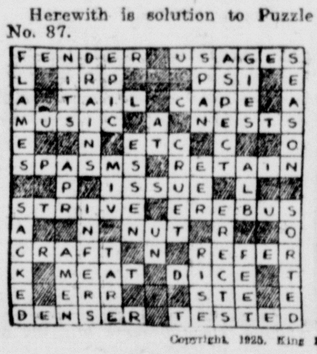
Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 87.



How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Canada Not Worried Over Tenant-Farmer Problem, Says Low

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada is not worried over its tenant farmer problem. Only one out of every 12.5 farmers in the Dominion is a renter, while in the United States one out of every 2.7 is a tenant, according to the Hon. Thomas Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address here.

"There are 711,090 farms in Canada at present," said Mr. Low. "Of this number only 56,887, or 8 per cent, are operated by tenant farmers. In the United States, according to the agricultural census, the are 6,4448,343 farms, of which 2,456,370, or 38 per cent, are held by renters. The average size of a farm in the United States is 148 acres. In Canada it is 198 acres. The average value of a United States farm holding is $12,084 and that of a Canadian farm is $2,963."

Buffalo Herds Cut Down.

It is frequently stated that the buffalo is almost an extinct animal in America, but the fact remains that the famous Philip Buffalo farm north of Pierre, S. D., which occupies 20,000 acres, has recently held a buffalo hunt for the express purpose of cutting down the surplus. The farm produces so many buffalo annually, that the supply exceeds the demand at this time. There were 1,000 or more buffalo in the pastures before the hunt, which was engaged in by 50 armed hunters, many of whom were Indians.

Thousands Dangerously Weak After Flu and Grippe

Tells How to Quickly Get Back Needed Strength, Appetite and Vitality.

Reports tell us that in one state, tens of thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of ever being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of the best health building vitamines, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

That's why millions of people are turning to cod liver oil in tablet form.

That's why physicians and pharmacists in all parts of the country and even in Canada are advising sick, weak, run-down folks to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

They helped millions of ill, weak, despairing folks last year—they will do the same for millions more this year.

To people who are exhausted or weary—who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy of the endurance needed to work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used, get your money back from Anderson, Larkin, Carnahan or Mathews' Medicine Store, or the druggist from whom you bought them.

60 tablets—60 cents—but be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Many Diplomatic Changes Will Transform Capital Social Lite

By George R. Holmes.

The diplomatic colony here usually is immune to the changes dictated by American politics, but this year seems to be an exception. With the advent of the new administration six weeks hence, there will be new Ambassadors representing four of the major world powers—an unprecedented shifting in the usually stable colony.

Four New Envoys.

France is sending Emile Deschanel to replace the veteran Jules Presserand, who has served his country here with distinction through the terms of five presidents, beginning with Roosevelt.

Japan is sending Tsueno Matsuldara, scion of an old and distingusihed Japanese family, to take the place of the popular but impolitic Masano Hanihara, who was recalled because he was undiplomatic enough to tell the State department that "grave consequences would follow the passage of the Japanese restriction act in congress.

Germany is sending Baron Ago von Maltzan to succeed Dr. Otto von Wiedfeldt, who has been here since the resumption of German-American relations following the war.

A new Ambassador from Italy also is expected during February. Prince Gelaeso Caetani, the present Ambassador, having resigned some weeks ago.

Before March 4.

It is probable that all of the newcomers will arrive in Washington in time for the inauguration ceremonies on March 4.

The exigencies of politics at home and the personal desires of the incumbents, rather than dissatisfaction with their work here, are responsible for most of the changes. But whatever the reasons, Washington has never seen anything like it for a complete shake-up. The changes will emphasize the "new deal" all around in Washington after the 4th of March.

Jusserand's going creates a new Dean of the Corps, this honor falling to Don Juan Rianoy Gayangos, veteran Frenchman in length of service here. The deanship is an important institution, socially at any rate. All new diplomats call and pay their respects to the dean as soon as they arrive, and they consult the dean about precedent, procedure, and their problems frequently. The dean ranks everyone else in the corps at receptions, official functions, etc., which means he enters first, leaves first, heads the line, and sits on the right hand of the host or hostess.

Washington is genuinely sorry to lose most of the outgoing diplomats. In Juseerand's case, he has been here for nearly a quarter of a century, enjoyed intimate relations with officials of five administrations, and has been regarded almost as an institution. But for his old friendships and his social contacts, it is probable that many of the Franco-American problems of the last ten years would not have yielded so readily to adjustment.

Wiedfeldt Friendly.

Dr. Wiedfeldt has made many friends. His was an unusually difficult diplomatic assignment—the first German Ambassador, after Count von Bernstorff. He came when war wounds were still a bit fresh. Yet he managed his affairs so adroitly and with such niceties of taste that he made himself very popular, and there is real regret at his going.

One thing which Wiedfeldt did was to set an example in diplomatic economy. The German embassy of the old days used to be one of the most luxurious and extravagant in Washington. On the theory, apparently, that it ill-behooved him to make any display of wealth at a time when his country was in such depths of despair and financial morass, Dr. Wiedfeldt has lived here with extreme simplicity, entertained but very little, and accepted only the most formal of courtesies elsewhere.

Dr. Wiedfeldt is an example of the business man in diplomacy. Upon his return to Germany he will resume directorship of the great Krupp iron works at Essen. He is known as the "Schwab of Germany."

Hanihara Popular.

There is, also, a good deal of regret over the fact that Hanihara will not return, for Japan has never had a more popular ambassador, in a personal sense, than the diminutive, jolly "Hanny." There is, too, a good deal of sympathy for him in official and social circles, for it is felt that in making his "grave consequences" threat he was simply being made "the goat" for his foreign office in an awkward diplomatic predicament.

Prince Caetani, the Italian ambassador, also has been popular. Despite his rather awesome title, he is a civil engineer by profession, and has roamed over much of the United States in pursuit of his studies. He is a bachelor—which may account for his popularity in certain circles.

The Washington dipomatic colony has been so increased since the war that it now numbers nearly half a hundred embassies and legations. Al' of the little countries created out of the breaking up of the old Central Powers now have representatives here. Late additions have been representatives of Egypt and the Irish Free State.

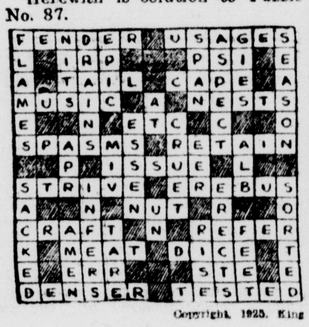
Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 87.



How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Canada Not Worried Over Tenant-Farmer Problem, Says Low

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada is not worried over its tenant farmer problem. Only one out of every 12.5 farmers in the Dominion is a renter, while in the United States one out of every 2.7 is a tenant, according to the Hon. Thomas Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address here.

"There are 711,090 farms in Canada at present," said Mr. Low. "Of this number only 56,887, or 8 per cent, are operated by tenant farmers. In the United States, according to the agricultural census, the are 6,4448,343 farms, of which 2,456,370, or 38 per cent, are held by renters. The average size of a farm in the United States is 148 acres. In Canada it is 198 acres. The average value of a United States farm holding is $12,084 and that of a Canadian farm is $2,963."

Buffalo Herds Cut Down.

It is frequently stated that the buffalo is almost an extinct animal in America, but the fact remains that the famous Philip Buffalo farm north of Pierre, S. D., which occupies 20,000 acres, has recently held a buffalo hunt for the express purpose of cutting down the surplus. The farm produces so many buffalo annually, that the supply exceeds the demand at this time. There were 1,000 or more buffalo in the pastures before the hunt, which was engaged in by 50 armed hunters, many of whom were Indians.

Thousands Dangerously Weak After Flu and Grippe

Tells How to Quickly Get Back Needed Strength, Appetite and Vitality.

Reports tell us that in one state, tens of thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he despairs of ever being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of the best health building vitamines, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—the smell disgusts and repulses.

That's why millions of people are turning to cod liver oil in tablet form. That's why physicians and pharmacists in all parts of the country and even in Canada are advising sick, weak, run-down folks to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

They helped millions of ill, weak, despairing folks last year—they will do the same for millions more this year.

To people who are exhausted or weary—who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy of the endurance needed to work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used, get your money back from Anderson, Larkin, Carnahan or Mathews' Medicine Store, or the druggist from whom you bought them.

66 tablets—60 cents—but be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine.

POVERTY KEEPS FEDERAL GUARD AT LOW MARK

IDAHO SUFFERS

Other States are Handicapped by Economy Program.

WASHINGTON, January — Insufficient appropriations for 1925 made it impossible to grant Federal recognition to seventy-nine National Guard units last year, and there is no possibility of their being granted Federal recognition unless the appropriations are materially increased, according to statements made before the House Appropriations committee by Brigadier-General Dennis E. Nolan, Deputy Chief of Staff of the War Department.

Idaho has been the chief sufferer, according to the figures submitted by General Nolan, as there are eight field artillery units, thirteen infantry units, four cavalry units and one Medical Department unit in that state which cannot receive Federal assistance.

Other states and organizations seriously handicapped by the economy program are:

Field Artillery—Minnesota, 1; South Carolina, 2; Tennessee, 2; Utah, 6.

Infantry—Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, Missouri and Maryland, 1 each; Illinois, 2; Oregon, 4.

Coast Artillery—District of Columbia, 3; Connecticut, 2.

Medical Department—New York, 3; Massachusetts, District of Columbia, Ohio and Tennessee, 1 each.

Engineers—Rhode Island, 4; Tennessee, 5.

Trains—Alabama, 1; New Jersey, 3.

Special Troops—Alabama and Ohio, 1 each; New Jersey, 3.

State Staff—California.

In September, 1924, when recruiting for the National Guard was stopped, according to General Nolan, the total strength was 189,605 officers and men, while the present appropriations will provide only funds sufficient for the equipment and maintenance of 177,000 during the present year.

In order to meet the cut necessary, men whose attendance at drills has been regular will be dropped from the National Guard rolls; but no organization at present recognized will be disbanded, nor will Federal recognition be withdrawn.

Need 250,000 Men.

Major-General George C. Rickards, Chief of the Militia Bureau in his statement before the committee, explained that, under the authority of Congress, plans were drawn for the maintenance of the National Guard at 250,000 men, comprising eighteen infantry divisions, four cavalry divisions, 130 companies of coast artillery, and certain other units.

It has been impossible to carry out that program within the appropriations made by Congress, General Rickards said, because of the increased per capita cost resulting from longevity pay, rental allowances, split drills, and the unexpected removal of certain equipment from the free issue list.

National Guard costs, also, have been increased, according to the information given at the hearings, because of the maintenance of air squadrons. The National Guard now has 130 planes, and as there is a higher proportion of officers than in other branches and the maintenance cost is higher, funds appropriated cannot be stretched as far as they could be if disbursed for infantry, cavalry and other units.

HALF A CENTURY STOMACH FIGHT ENDS IN SUCCESS

But Ka-di-ok Had to Come in on the Forlorn Hope to Win Out This Long-Fought Battle.

MRS. MARTHA A. MOORE

The Balkan "thirty year war" had nothing on Mrs. Martha A. Moore, a 75-year-old resident of Warren, O., living at 710 West avenue. For half a century Mrs. Moore has been waging battle against a disordered stomach, and now gloriously declares that, with the aid of Ka-di-ok, the great herbal remedy and system toner, she has come out on top with winning honors, and what is more precious, improved health and vitality.

And what appears to be more miraculous, is that at the time Mrs. Moore made the statements upon which the above paragraph is based, she had taken but one bottle of Ka-di-ok. Mrs. Moore has resided in Warren for the past 36 years, and is well known and honored among the older generation in that city.

Mrs. Moore was interviewed by a Ka-di-ok representative, and said she had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for the past 50 years, that she had indigestion, was constipated and did not sleep well, with occasional headaches and rheumatic pains. After taking one bottle of Ka-di-ok she states she has been greatly benefitted and is feeling stronger, with the bowels acting regular; that her stomach is much better, and her general health has been much improved.

Somewhat remarkable appears this case, but there are hundreds of others similar, as shown by the many statements published from time to time. To the older folks especially, Ka-di-ok should appeal, from the fact that it strengthens the vitality and aids the system to throw off those various ailments hard to resist on account of weakened vitality. Get a bottle at once and make a flying start on the road to health

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

From Girlhood to Motherhood

Through all these periods of their existence thousands of women toil on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness, all telltale symptoms of some local derangement. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one great remedy that will overcome such ailments. All over America women are telling other women how this wonderful medicine has restored them to health and the joy of living. This accounts for the tremendous demand for this popular medicine for women.

England Is Feartul ot U. S. Control ot World's Gold

Believe They are Under American Domination, and Suspect Gold Standard.

LONDON, Jan. — England is in a hub-dub, aroused lest the United States has already become the money master of the world.

Reports that Great Britain is about to return to a gold standard have caused a sudden commotion, with outcries and warnings from many sources that Great Britain will soon be under the heel of American financiers, if she is not already so.

The United States controls the world's gold supply, and when Great Britain returns to a gold standard she will be under the control of those who hold the strings of the world's gold bags, it is argued. The pro and con of this question is being bitterly fought out in the columns of the English newspapers.

Losing an Empire.

An amazingly frank article, printed in The Referee, a Sunday newspaper, has attracted some attention.

"British Finance a Back Number," is the Referee headline, with a subheading reading "Our obsolete methods are losing an empire."

"Mr. Bruce, prime minister of Australia, protested to the imperial conference over a year ago against the submission of Britain to what he called the dependence upon the United States," said The Referee.

"And a pitiful dependence it is! Dependence brought about by our inept and perilous finance—brought about and persisted in to our decline, and perhaps our fall.

"The policy of the Bank of England, and of government after government—during and since the war—is to make an old system work unmodified, in conditions which imperatively demand its modification.

Do Not Need Gold.

"The old device of raising the bank rate will not work now, either to stop exports, or to attract imports, of gold. It will not now affect gold, but it will industry, fill the Gazette, create unemployment, and add to the dole tax.

"We do not need the gold! We can get back to the gold standard of value, and to legal tender fully backed by gold, by a modification of our system of finance!

"The steps to be taken in unison that are necessary to restore our money are the steps necessary to restore our independence of America. These steps are:

"The limitation of legal tender to paper fully covered by gold; the limitation of the issue of such paper to the equivalent of the gold we have got; the establishment of an elastic banking credit currency; the intensive cultivation of the check system, and the issue of credit, practically interest free, under proper safeguards, for productive purposes alone."

This article is but one of many, which seem to indicate that if Great Britain hasn't already surrendered to the United States as the money controller of the world, that there are grave fears that such a surrender is on the way.

Constipation makes pimply skins—get permanent relief with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Do not allow this frightful disease to linger in your system.

Rid yourself of constipation at once! The longer it lingers, the greater the poisons it sends through your body—poisons which can wreck your health and lead to over forty serious diseases.

The destructive work of constipation shows in the face—pimples, hollow cheeks, circles under eyes. It brings gray hair. Causes spots before the eyes—and unpleasant breath. Get permanent relief. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN!

After all else has failed, thousands have regained their health with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Because it is ALL BRAN, it is 100 per cent effective. Only ALL BRAN brings sure results.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves the most chronic cases, if eaten regularly. It is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns the purchase price. Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ready-to-eat with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Michigan, and served by leading hotels and restaurants. At grocers.

Pen Filler Used To Feed World's Smallest Baby

LONDON—Mary Waghorn, of Hastings, is one of the world's smallest babies.

She weighed only three and a half pounds at birth, instead of the usual nine, and measured exactly twelve inches from head to toe.

A perfectly normal child, she is thriving under special treatment, which includes being fed with a fountain pen filler every two hours

Doctors state that there is no reason why she should not grow up a normal, healthy child.

CHILDRENS CROSS WORD PUZZLE

How to Solve Puzzle.

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across.

Word 1. A girl grown up.

Word 4. What you feel like doing when you hear lively music playing.

Word 5. A famous American general in the Revolutionary war, affectionately know as "Mad Anthony."

Running Down.

Word 1. A woman whose husband is dead.

Word 2. You cannot get anything at a store without it.

Word 3. What relation to your father is the daughter of his brother?

A new plant of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway at Wolverton, England, is turning out a twelve-ton covered goods wagon every hour and three-quarters.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for their kindness and help during the sickness and death of my husband, also all those who contributed flowers, Rev. Fowler and singers.

MRS. ELIZABETH HENDRICKSON.

Hiding a rash wont heal it

Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects.

Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment! It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

Ask your druggist for Resinol.

VERSE AND WORSE

By Larry Flint

Out of the Fryin' Pan.

We thought this thing o' settin' up
At night an' hearin' squalks an' cries
Wuz over when th' babies grew
Frum diaper t' trouser size.
Nocturnal wails we long endured;
Then babes were babes no more; an' so
We settled down in peace, an' then—
An' then we bought a radio!

Once Baby Ann wuz pron to' wake
At midnight, an' in tearful mood,
Shriek loudly to th' moon an' skies
An' rouse th' hull darned neighborhood;
An' ther wuz Jasper, John an' Jill,
Each with his midnight wail o' woe;
Then came a peaceful speel until—
Well, now we've got a radio!

"Well, Nell," I said, "th' kids are grown;
Now shall our nights o' walkin' cease;
No croupy coughs; no colic screams;
We'll settle down t' rest an' peace!"
Then ghastly irony o' Fate!
Then cruel stroke an' wicked blow!—
Oh death where is thine awful sting?—
We went an' bought a radio!

Filling a Long Needed Want For This City And Its Immediate Surroundings With a Big

Grand Opening Sale

Starts Saturday Morning at 9 O'Clock, 113 W. Sixth Street, Winezwige's Old Location

Welcome! to My Many Old Customers and New Ones

I have taken the old Winezwige store and after remodeling we can now offer you a place to trade that has long been a much needed want in East Liverpool, first class furnishings and shoes for men, women and children.

"Prices a Little Less Than Elsewhere"

Is going to be the slogan of our new establishment and we will prove it, at all times by giving you what you want, when you want it most and at an honest price you will want to pay. Come Saturday, or any day and we will prove it.

HARRY GORDON.

Park Elk Kills Its Mate.

Fairmount Park at Council Bluffs, Ia., has had two elk which for some time has attracted large numbers of visitors, but the bull of the pair killed his mate recently during a vicious rampage. The bull elk trampled the doe to death before keepers could intervene. Some time before the same elk killed a dog in the same way.

Woman Buys Church as Home.

In Belgravia street, in London, there is a church building that for many years has been in disuse. Recently it was bought by a woman resident of the community and she is converting it into a residence. She obtained possession at a public auction.

Canada is Educating Her People Rapidly; Figures Released

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canada believes in giving its children education. Census bulletins released here show that 89.10 per cent of all children between the ages of seven and fourteen years in the Dominion, or 1,344,371 out of a possible 1,508,846 youngsters attended school last year.

A growing tendency toward lengthening the period of attendance at school, the bulletin points out, is shown by figures which set forth that 61.7 per cent of all persons in Canada between the ages of five and nineteen years, or a total of 1,683,917 young people, were registered in educational institutions during the year.

The abolition of fly breeding places in winter, prevents the propagation of disease carrying flies in summer.

SIMPLE REMEDY WORKS WONDERS HEALING CUTS AND WOUNDS

The amazing results in healing cuts, wounds, burns, old sores, chapped hands, boils, bruises skin diseases with CORONA Wool Fat Ointment have caused this wonderful remedy to be called "The World's Greatest Healing Ointment." Corona is different — it is one of the most penetrating preparations known. It will not smart or blister the tenderest wound — goes right to the seat of trouble — instantly soothes the pain and heals very quickly. After you have used Corona once you'll never be without it. A real "first aid" you should have in the house ready at all times when accidents happen, especially with children. A "friend in need." At all druggists, large box, only 60c. Corona Manufacturing Co., Kenton, Ohio.

Don't miss it.

Gamblers Forced to Check Knives in Den; Place is Raided

PITTSBURGH—"Check your knives here," was the businesslike sign which greeted Lieutenant James McCormick and a squad of patrolmen when they raided the home of Luther Zimmerman, colored.

The sign was over a box in which the raiders found eleven knives, each carefully labeled with the owner's name. Gambling devices were found in the house.

Seals are eating 1,000,000 pounds of salmon a year and threaten to exterminate certain species of the fish.

PUTTING IN THAT NEW BATH

and toilet will not take long or cost much if we do the plumbing. You certainly ought to have them for no room in the house shows refinement or the lack of it like the bath room. Have us come and make an estimate of the cost of remodeling yours into a handsome, sanitary room. It will not be much.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

By Elizabeth Dejeans

The genial author, novelist, playwright, screen writer, and director of his own screen stories, who had exclaimed over Clarice's beauty, said, "Dascome! John Dascome! I remember now. There's subject matter for a Balzac! And she is his little girl grown up——"

Karesia was looking at Nadine Navarre, who was speaking to Rossiter. "Most certainly I would come, my friend—upon even an hour's notice. Our little Clarice brought me safely here." There were touches of mischief, daring, and defiance in her tip-tilted oval face. "On one point we always disagree, you and I; nevertheless, we are good friends. I do not believe in extending prejudice into the second generation—let us not quarrel over that," and with her graceful French shrug she turned away, a side-long glance bestowed on the meeting between Rossiter and Clarice.

"How de you do, Clarice?" he said, politely cordial.

Clarise said nothing at all, perhaps because she could not. She simply put her small hand in his and looked up at him.

No matter how much enthralled by one woman a man may be, he cannot see without a thrill the sort of thing that looked at Rossiter out of Clarice's great gray eyes; complete love and the pain visited upon love. Clarice was thinner; to Rossiter, who had studied her face so carefully, she looked older, graver, more like Dascome.

It struck Rossiter that there was no remark he could make, also that it was not best for Karesia to see that look in Clarice's eyes. He touched the shoulder of one of the famous producers and, when he turned, Rossiter put Clarice's had in his. "Nadine says she has discovered a new star in the firmament—what do you think about it?" he asked, and turned away.

He introduced Nadine Navarre to Karesia. "Madame Nadine Navarre, Kara. You two should have plenty to talk about. Madame Navarre is an admirer of the Orient."

Rossiter was near enough to hear and observe. They shook hands, Nadine Navarre enveloped Karesia with a brilliant, comprehensive, and keen scrutiny, and Karesia's expression grew sleepy, eyelids drooped so much that only a mere gleam of eye showed.

"John Dascome lives in your home, he tells me?" Nadine said in a softly accented way.

"He is my tenant—I have a double house," Karesia returned composedly.

"He is an interesting man—do you not think?"

Rossiter could make nothing of Nadine's expression, whether she was antagonistic or intensely interested, or both. "He would be, I should think—to any one who knew him well." Karesia turned so as to include Mrs. Whitsey. "I suppose I am introducing old friends?—everyone here seems to know everyone else."

Sarah Whitsey laughed. "Madame Navarre and I are old enemies. She told me once that I wrote 'without any substiety whatever.'"

"I said also that you would be very successful upon the screen," Nadine Navarre retorted, "and so you are."

Karesia drew away, which had been her object. Rossiter did not know just what to make of either Karesia or Nadine. Two Japanese were distributing cocktails now, and, in a moment, quiet talk livened into chatter, remarks and witticisms on the great dinner topic of today; it was possible to produce pictures, but to produce pre-war nectar such as this was far more difficult. An eminent author told a famous producer that she had glanced into the banquet room and had seen champagne glasses, and the whisper spread.

"No! You won't! Not even a cocktail?" the young playwright who had attached himself to Clarice exclaimed when she shook her head. The other young man at her side asked, "Where in the world did you learn your wisdom? You ought to marry Rand, Miss Dascome, he's unique, too—look at him over there! Never touches a drop. Thanks be, he laid in a supply for his friends!"

The young man who had asked where she had learned her wisdom was amused, for he had heard of Clarice's career. Clarice flushed; all these people knew who she was and what she had done; well, she would show them! Whatever Clarice did, she did thoroughly; good or bad, she would never stop halfway. She glanced at Karesia; she had not spoken to her and she was not going to.

When Takimoto had given Clarice Rossiter's invitation, a purpose had sprung into Clarice's being which had lifted her from her bed where she had lain for days like a dumb, suffering animal.

Rossiter would marry Karesia, she could not help that, but Karesia was ten years older than she. She would work day and night to make something wonderful of herself, and the time would come when she would take Rossiter away from Karesia Kaime. He had been nearly hers, until her father's history had frightened him away. He had told her that he wanted to marry—he was going to marry Karesia because he wanted to marry. She, Clarice Dascome, would win Randsome Rossiter's love if it took her twenty years to do it! And when she had won him she would keep him!

Clarice had invaded the studios with sublime determination. She had run the gaunt of usual disappointments—not even "extras" were wanted. Finally, with complete hardihood, she had waylaid Oscar Behrens, because she had heard Rossiter say that he was one of the best directors in Hollywood. He lived at the Hollywood Hotel and she had spent two days sitting in the lobby lying in wait for him. She was prepared for all sorts of rebuffs, prepared to go on her knees.

"What did you say your name was?" Behrens had demanded.

"Clarice Dascome. I'll do anything, even black shoes for the extras," she had pleaded.

He had frowned. Then he had fumbled in his pocket for a note, then had looked her up and down and around with a degree of interest that had brightened. He wrote something on a piece of paper. "Come over early to the studio tomorrow. Show that at the office," he had said.

Pep, Humor, Speed Characterize Hines Picture at Ceramic

The epitome of action, the personification of pep, the incarnation of humor and the dynamo of thrilldom—that in toto is as exact a description of the volcanic Johnny Hines as is possible to obtain. And in "The Speed Spook," the latest feature thriller featuring this inimitable comedian, he steps right out and gives the screen one of the outstanding performances of a decade. This Hines person is an individual to conjure with, for his ebullience and his rip, tear and fight attitude, coupled with the sound philosophy of fun which he characterizes to a nicety, makes him one of the outstanding types of the screen. Johnny Hines has more than native intelligence, for the simple reason that he is able to probe just a bit farther in the realm of human sensitiveness than the average comics of the screen. He seems to know what the public wants, and in this respect he has been sensible enough to give the public that sort of screen fare that only Douglas Fairbanks has had the wisdom previously to follow. Hines is by all means a character—an individual sort of screen star who takes all sorts of dare-devil chances to furnish movie patrons with a thrill, a laugh and perhaps a tear. That is an unbeatable combination, and Hines commandeers these elements beautifully in "The Speed Spook."

Whether the plot be impossible does not make a particle of difference. The public wants to be pleased—the public wants to laugh—the public wants to be thrilled—and, most paramount, the public wants to be lifted out of itself and its daily monotony. It wants to forget the problems of life for the hour that it gets its entertainment, and if Hines has done nothing else in "The Speed Spook," he has accomplished this important object. The audience at the Ceramic last night howled with delight, they cried immediately after, then they were consistently thrilled, and towards the final close-up they laughed again. What bill of fare could have been more enjoyable than this; what greater comment can the reviewer make than that Johnny Hines in "The Speed Spook" came as near being an example of the true mission of the motion picture as it is humanly possible to be? By all means see "The Speed Spook." Life won't appear so dull after you've spent an hour watching this streak of the screen.

$40,000,000 Spent By U. S. Tourists In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B. C.—More than $40,000,000 was left in British Columbia by tourists in 1924, according to a report of the Vancouver Tourist Bureau. Of this total about $10,000,000 was brought in by motorists during the summer.

Nearly 90 per cent of the tourists came from the United States, many of them in automobiles, from California, Washington, Oregon and other Western states, the report shows.

General tourist traffic from the United States to Canada broke all records last year, according to John B. Harkin, Dominion Commissioner of National Parks.

Truck Driver Injured.

ELYRIA — John Worcester, 25, Ridgeville farmer, sustained severe scalp wounds and other injuries when a New York Central flyer hit the truck he was driving. The truck was hurled 50 feet and was completely demolished. Worcester was able to crawl out from under the wreckage and summon a surgeon who sewed up his wounds.

$40,000,000 Spent By U. S. Tourists In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B. C.—More than $40,000,000 was left in British Columbia by tourists in 1924, according to a report of the Vancouver Tourist Bureau. Of this total about $10,000,000 was brought in by motorists during the summer.

Nearly 90 per cent of the tourists came from the United States, many of them in automobiles, from California, Washington, Oregon and other Western states, the report shows.

General tourist traffic from the United States to Canada broke all records last year, according to John B. Harkin, Dominion Commissioner of National Parks.

Truck Driver Injured.

ELYRIA — John Worcester, 25, Ridgeville farmer, sustained severe scalp wounds and other injuries when a New York Central flyer hit the truck he was driving. The truck was hurled 50 feet and was completely demolished. Worcester was able to crawl out from under the wreckage and summon a surgeon who sewed up his wounds.

Runyon Says

Jack Curley Objects.
His Game Is No Laugh.
The Cost of Wrestling.
A Tale of Jess Willard.
How He Tried to Train.

BY DAMON RUNYON.
Copyright, 1925, by the International Features Service.

THE writer recently, speaking of wrestling in New York, said the sports writers of the big town laugh at the game.

This remark has brought a long letter from Jack Curley, who promotes the wrestling shows in the big town. Jack is gently remonstrative.

He wishes the writer to understand that if any sports writers are laughing at wrestling, he, Jack Curley, is furnishing them with the most expensive humor on record.

He gives in detail figures which show that it costs him $5,100 to open his doors. The main events take 50 per cent of the gross after the State tax is deducted.

Thus he must have $12,000 receipts before he can break even.

That, Jack Curley says, is no laughing matter.

If you have never seen Jack Curley, he is a big, healthy-looking man, with a bland countenance, usually covered by a smile. Of late years he has been getting bald.

He is an optimistic man, of tremendous energy. He has been promoting wrestling and boxing shows for many years. If he had devoted the same effort to some commercial enterprise, Jack Curley would now be rich.

The writer is convinced that the excitement and the GAMBLE of promotion keep men like Jack Curley and Tex Rickard at it. It involves work and worry to a greater extent than any other business.

The public hears only of the PROFITS of promotions of this kind.

It rarely hears of the LOSSES.

Nurmi to Try for Sixteenth Record In Tonight's Race

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Having nothing better to do, Paavo Nurmi tonight will attempt the now prosaic business of breaking another world's record, which if carried through to a successful conclusion, will be his sixteenth consecutive record since beginning competition on American tracks some five weeks ago. Paavo will go after his own record at 1 1-8 miles in the feature event of the Morningside A. C., games and is justifiably confident of success. The mark, 4:58 was made last Saturday when Nurmi was beaten by a handicap runner in a 2,000-yard race.

The handicap runner, Gunnard Nilson, will be one of his opponents tonight. He will try to repeat but those close to Nurmi have stated that the great Finn will make certain of winning this time. Ilmar Prim and Gus Fager will comprise the rest of the field. All will be granted liberal handicaps, which will be announced shortly before the race.

Another meeting between Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, and Willie Plant, American title holder, is scheduled in the 4,000 meter walk. Plant won the first race easily.

No Movie Rights

The shooting of "Four Gun" Glenn Young at Herrin, Ill., was sort of an impromptu affair. No one had the movie rights. Tex Rickard didn't have a chance to sign up the winner.

Sandy Fess and Nate Allen to be Brought Here for Contest, Announces Manager Perry; Boone's Team at Salem Tonight.

General admission tickets have already been placed on sale by high school students for the contest Saturday night on the local gym floor which will see Coach O. V. Boone's 1925 passers in action against the veterans of 1916, the crew that won the basketball championship of northern Ohio and came within an ace of taking the Ohio title.

The Saturday night fray will be the second engagement on a two-game week-end card. Tonight the Blue and White five will tackle the Salem scholastic quintet on the Salem floor and the result should send the locals further along in the county championship race, which they have already practically clinched by their victory over Columbiana.

Columbiana defeated Salem, 36 to 35, and both Salem and East Liverpool have won from Lisbon. The figures, as a result, forecast an East Liverpool victory, but the game will have to be played, and on the Quaker City court, at that, and Boone will take no chances of a defeat, which, at this time, would mix things up pretty well.

Manager Bruce Perry today announced that arrangements had been completed to bring Nate Allen and Sandy Fess, two of the stars of the championship 1916 team, to the city for tomorrow night's engagement. The entire roster includes Irvin Vorndran, Ronald Smith, Howard Smith, Sandy Fess, Nate Allen, Bill Vodrey and Ernie Bucher.

The High School Reserves and the Glenmore A. C. will meet in the preliminary to the Saturday game. The prelim will start at 7:45 and the main clash at 9.

Basketball Score Board In High Gym

School Plans Purchase of New Recording Device.

Why did the whistle blow?
Who made that foul?
Why is that man put out of the game?
What is the score now?
Who made the points?
How long have they still to play?

These and other similar questions no longer will be on the lips of countless high school basketball fans here with the installation of an up-to-date court-record-graph, or a basketball score board, in the local school gymnasium.

According to Manager Bruce Perry the board will be installed in the near future for operation during high school games.

The board is operated by one man behind who is in direct telephone communication with the man on the playing floor. Thus each event is marked up as fast as it occurs.

The board contains slots for holding the names of the players on each side. A sixth slot is for the extra center on girls' teams. It has colums for showing the number of fouls, field goals and free throws to each man. The total score and the time are shown at the top. The board is finished in dark green enamel with white lettering.

Red Grange, Illini Gridiron Star, to Appear in Movies

URBANA, Ills, Jan. 30.—"Red" Grange, star football player of the University of Illinois, is going into the movies. His contract calls for four weeks work at $2,000 a week. University officials will grant him a leave of absence. This much became known today from sources close to the big ten officials.

The prestige Grange has brought to Illini by his stellar gridiron performance is said to have influenced the concession from university officials. He is well advanced with his studies and his leave of absence will not affect his scholastic standing, it was said.

The date of Grange's departure for the studio has not been announced.

Ousted Star Won't Appear In New York

O'Connell Refuses Part in Scandal Probe.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—If, as the young man himself has been at some pains to imply, Jimmy O'Connell will not appear in New York for the official investigation of the baseball scandal, the local district attorney's probe will die a painful death of malnutrition. There can be little done without O'Connell, the only man mentioned in the expose from whom a confession was obtained.

Local officials made no attempt to conceal this state of affairs today as they prepared to make the best of Jimmy's sudden refusal to do business with them.

Barring extradition proceedings the district attorney's office has no alternative beyond proceeding with the hearing of minor witnesses from whom there is no hope of getting to the bottom of the affair.

Without actually saying as much, local officials have intimated they will not attempt to extradite O'Connell. He would have to be indicted by the grand jury in the first place, and in the second, they have no assurance that an attempt at extradition would be successful.

They believe that the governor of California would not consent to O'Connell's extradition.

In coming here to testify, O'Connell would lay himself open to possible imprisonment, if convicted in the eyes of the law.

He has asked for immunity. The district attorney will not grant it. Therefore O'Connell will stay where he is.

Whether the fact that Cozy Dolan, barred from baseball with O'Connell, saw fit to waive immunity in testifying yesterday will have no effect on Jimmy's present attitude, local officials would not say. They pointed out, however, that Dolan has little to worry about as long as O'Connell, his sole accuser, remains in California.

In fact, they made no attempt to evade the fact that neither Dolan nor any of the men accused could be convicted even with O'Connell present. According to the New York statute, no man can be convicted on the unsupported testimony of a self-confessed conspirator.

It was therefore their original plan to attempt to force a confession from other witnesses, provided they had anything to confess, and thus to reach an open clearing through the undergrowth by placing such a confession side by side with O'Connell's and letting the law do its worst.

Dolan has steadfastly maintained his innocence since the day Judge Landis adjudged him guilty solely on the indefinite character of his answers before the baseball commissioner. It is believed that he continued to deny all knowledge of the plot when questioned by Assistant District Attorney Brothers yesterday, although just what transpired behind these closed doors will not be divulged until some later date.

It is the general idea, however, that whatever happened is of slight consequences as long as O'Connell turns up missing. Without him the local probe falls as flat as a letter carrier's foot.

Liverpool Motors Vanquish Ramblers At New Cumberland

On the New Cumberland floor Wednesday night the Liverpool Motors basketball passers sent the New Cumberland Ramblers down to defeat by the score of 37 to 23.

The Fords outclassed their opponents in all departments of the game, though the Ramblers played good basketball against their more experienced foes.

Last Night's Fights

New York—Les Price, England, knocked out Phil Weissberger, New York, first round; Billy Prestage, England, knocked out Arthur Smith, New York, seventh round.

At McKEESPORT, Pa. — Harry (Kid) Brown, Philadelphia, beat Dick Conlon, Altoona, ten rounds; Young Penno, McKees Rocks, shaded Mike Duda, Homestead, six rounds.

McCandless' Bisons Expect to Wallop Waynesburg Squad

BETHANY, W. Va., Jan. 30.—Coach McCandless now has a combination of Bison passers with which Katy Easterday's passers will not be able to play so easily as they did in the opening game of the Bison season, and if this combination is working at their best the Bison followers are confident that they will be able to take the Waynesburg scalp tomorrow night.

The two Bison forwards, Herman and Beckwith, are both good shots from almost any place on the floor and have led the attack in each of the last five games that swept such teams as W. & J., Duquesne and Marietta off their feet. Coupled with these fast offensive players Coach McCandless has two defensive players in Captain Shoemake and Hanna who are hard to equal. For the center he will probably use Carey, who has been making a splendid showing in both offensive and defensive. These five men have been working well together and will no doubt prove quite a stumbling block in the path of the Yellow Jackets when they meet Saturday night.

Pirate Bosses Would Like to Know What Morrison Will do

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30.—Right now the Pirate bosses, players and fans would like to know what Johnny Morrison can be counted on to do for the jolly Buccaneers in their coming drive for the elusive National League pennant.

Morrison, experts agree, has one of the greatest, if not the greatest curve ball, in the big show today. When he and it are working right he is unbeatable. Last year, however, he was of little use—relatively speaking—to the Pittsburgh team. Did win 11 games but lost 16. That's a punk average for a good pitcher with a winning ball club. He finished only 12 games. He allowed 114 runs in 238 innings.

In 1923 he won 25 and lost but 13 games for his team.

Morrison was ill part of last season. Couldn't hit his stride at other times. If he fails to get to going this year the Pirate's hopes will sink. If he goes at his 1923 pace the Pittsburgh stock will be considerably above par.

Wooster Athletes Facing Busy Week End in Cleveland

WOOSTER, Jan. 30.—Wooster college athletics will have a busy week-end in Cleveland. Both the basketball and the swimming teams will meet Case at Cleveland. Both squads are being pushed as hard as a stiff mid-year exam schedule will permit. This week ends the first semester at Wooster college and it is expected that a large number of Wooster students will trek to Cleveland for the week-end and see the Wooster teams play.

The Wooster basketball team has already taken one fall out of Case. The Scientists were defeated here at Wooster 30 to 17 two weeks ago. Wooster is expecting a harder game at Cleveland and is prepared to play it. Since the Case game "Dutch" Pfeiffer has returned to the Wooster lineup and strengthened the Wooster offense.

The swimming team has one victory in as many starts so far. Last week the Ohio Wesleyan tank stars were swamped at Wooster 39 to 20. Wooster won the relay and five of the seven firsts. Wooster expects much harder opposition from the Case swimmers.

Two 'Y' Industrial Cage League Games On Tonight's Card

Two "Y" industrial basketball league engagements are scheduled for tonight. The Liverpool Motors and Trotters will clash at 7:30. The second game will bring the Hall Chinas and Laughlin 6 into action.

Runyon Says:

Dempsey-Carpentier fight, and said: "Pretty soft for Rickard!"

Probably Rickard's profit on that fight, proportionately to the investment and the risk, also proportionately to the receipts, was LESS than any other enterprise ever launched.

The writer didn't intend making Jack Curley unhappy when he made that remark about wrestling in New York.

It would have been pleasanter to say that SOME New York sports writers SOMETIMES make light of wrestling.

That is not the fault of wrestling, nor of Jack Curley.

At one time he had the game established in New York as a major sport, drawing big gates. Then it passed under the control of the New York State Athletic Commission, which instituted what the experts said were devitalizing rules.

Anyway, the game fell off in the big town. Jack Curley, always optimistic, is just getting it back on something like the old scale.

But the writer is very glad he said something to send Jack Curley to his typewriter, as he adds to his comment on wrestling an interesting story.

It is about Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world. Jack Curley promoted the Willard-Jack Johnson fight at Havana that made Willard champion. Afterward Jack Curley had a financial interest in Willard.

The day before the Willard-Dempsey fight Curley was in Toledo, and he made a prediction to the writer to this effect:

"Willard will sulk when he finds out he can't beat Dempsey. He'll quit in his corner after three rounds."

He was so sure of what would occur he wouldn't remain over in Toledo a day to see his prediction fulfilled.

"You do me an injustice," Jack Curley says, "in saying that in picking Dempsey to win the wish was father to the thought. That is not correct.

"Three months before the date of the match, when Jess Willard settled with me in full at the Stratford hotel in Chicago, he asked me in the most friendly spirit my opinion of the proposed match between himself and Dempsey.

"Here is what I said to him: 'Jess, you are talking of fighting Dempsey three months from now. What you need is six months' time for preliminary training before you can think of starting three months of active training work.

"'If you go out to reduce yourself to fighting weight in three months' time (Jack Curley is still telling of his talk with Willard) you will get the most terrible beating a champion ever got in the ring. Dempsey is fast, hits hard, and you will never have a chance.'

"The day that you speak of in Toledo you were very near when Willard and I met in the lobby of the Secor and you sat on a sofa for probably half an hour," Jack Curley continues.

"The first thing Willard did was to open his vest, saying: 'Well, I'm down to weight—the fat is all gone, as you can see.'

"'You're right, Jess,' I answered, 'the fat is all gone, and you're down to weight, but you didn't do it by proper training. To me you look the hungriest man I ever saw in my life, my prediction made to you three months ago holds good today.'

"After a few minutes more of friendly conversation, during which Willard assured me he was certain to win, these were my parting words:

"'Jess, a lot of newspaper men in the lobby are watching us. They know we are friendly, because we have proved it by chatting here for half an hour. Now, I'm going to leave you, and if I should meet you in the street don't stop to talk to me, because the more I hear you talk the more I look at you, and the more I remember what a fighter you were at Havana the more scared I get you convince me I'm wrong.

"'And I don't want to be convinced. I have a few bets stringing on Dempsey, and I have a lot of money to further back him, and I don't want you to scare me into switching.'

"His parting words, with a smile and a handshake, were: 'Well, you won't cash.'

"Now, Mr. Runyon, you have the whole story, and my memory is good, and I am positive I have here repeated verbatim our conversation that day."

Jack Curley quit the boxing game some years ago.

He had something to do with making the last two champions.

He promoted the fight between Jack Dempsey and Fred Fulton which got Dempsey the chance at Willard's title.

And, a long time ago, Jack Curley had a heavyweight champion of his own in Marvin Hart of Kentucky. Hart won the title that Jim Jeffries donated as the stake of the battle between the Kentuckian and Jack Root.

Thereafter Hart lost to Tommy Burns, and Tommy Burns to Johnson, if you are interested in tracing the matter back that far.

Shift Billiard Match Date.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The date of the Hoppe-Cannefax three-cushion billiard match has been shifted from February 14 to 19, it was announced today, in order to give Hoppe a chance to practice for the international balkline championship tourney in which he will defend his title, beginning February 23. The three-cushion match will be at 600 points.

Berlenbach Favorite.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Ruling a 2 to 1 favorite, Paul Berlenbach, local knockout king, was expected to score a victory over Tony (Young) Marrullo of New Orleans, before the end of their scheduled 12 round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Marrullo gained decisions over Billy Britton and Battling Siki in former appearances here but Berlenbach's punch is regarded with such esteem that the great majority of fans look for him to win inside the limit.

To Memoralize Blue Ridge.

The Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, famous in song and story, are to be immortalized in a great national park. The Interior Department indicates the park will be called the Shenandoah National Park. It will be within a day's travel of more than 40,000,000 of the population.

McCandless' Bisons Expect to Wallop Waynesburg Squad

BETHANY, W. Va., Jan. 30.—Coach McCandless now has a combination of Bison passers with which Katy Easterday's passers will not be able to play so easily as they did in the opening game of the Bison season, and if this combination is working at their best the Bison followers are confident that they will be able to take the Waynesburg scalp tomorrow night.

The two Bison forwards, Herman and Beckwith, are both good shots from almost any place on the floor and have led the attack in each of the last five games that swept such teams as W. & J., Duquesne and Marietta off their feet. Coupled with these fast offensive players Coach McCandless has two defensive players in Captain Shoemake and Hanna who are hard to equal. For the center he will probably use Carey, who has been making a splendid showing in both offensive and defensive. These five men have been working well together and will no doubt prove quite a stumbling block in the path of the Yellow Jackets when they meet Saturday night.

Pirate Bosses Would Like to Know What Morrison Will do

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 30.—Right now the Pirate bosses, players and fans would like to know what Johnny Morrison can be counted on to do for the jolly Buccaneers in their coming drive for the elusive National League pennant.

Morrison, experts agree, has one of the greatest, if not the greatest curve ball, in the big show today. When he and it are working right he is unbeatable. Last year, however, he was of little use—relatively speaking—to the Pittsburgh team. Did win 11 games but lost 16. That's a punk average for a good pitcher with a winning ball club. He finished only 12 games. He allowed 114 runs in 238 innings.

In 1923 he won 25 and lost but 13 games for his team.

Morrison was ill part of last season. Couldn't hit his stride at other times. If he fails to get to going this year the Pirate's hopes will sink. If he goes at his 1923 pace the Pittsburgh stock will be considerably above par.

Wooster Athletes Facing Busy Week End in Cleveland

WOOSTER, Jan. 30.—Wooster college athletics will have a busy week-end in Cleveland. Both the basketball and the swimming teams will meet Case at Cleveland. Both squads are being pushed as hard as a stiff mid-year exam schedule will permit. This week ends the first semester at Wooster college and it is expected that a large number of Wooster students will trek to Cleveland for the week-end and see the Wooster teams play.

The Wooster basketball team has already taken one fall out of Case. The Scientists were defeated here at Wooster 30 to 17 two weeks ago. Wooster is expecting a harder game at Cleveland and is prepared to play it. Since the Case game "Dutch" Pfeiffer has returned to the Wooster lineup and strengthened the Wooster offense.

The swimming team has one victory in as many starts so far. Last week the Ohio Wesleyan tank stars were swamped at Wooster 39 to 20. Wooster won the relay and five of the seven firsts. Wooster expects much harder opposition from the Case swimmers.

Two 'Y' Industrial Cage League Games On Tonight's Card

Two "Y" industrial basketball league engagements are scheduled for tonight. The Liverpool Motors and Trotters will clash at 7:30. The second game will bring the Hall Chinas and Laughlin 6 into action.

Runyon Says:

Dempsey-Carpentier fight, and said: "Pretty soft for Rickard!"

Probably Rickard's profit on that fight, proportionately to the investment and the risk, also proportionately to the receipts, was LESS than any other enterprise ever launched.

The writer didn't intend making Jack Curley unhappy when he made that remark about wrestling in New York.

It would have been pleasanter to say that SOME New York sports writers SOMETIMES make light of wrestling.

That is not the fault of wrestling, nor of Jack Curley.

At one time he had the game established in New York as a major sport, drawing big gates. Then it passed under the control of the New York State Athletic Commission, which instituted what the experts said were devitalizing rules.

Anyway, the game fell off in the big town. Jack Curley, always optimistic, is just getting it back on something like the old scale.

But the writer is very glad he said something to send Jack Curley to his typewriter, as he adds to his comment on wrestling an interesting story.

It is about Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world. Jack Curley promoted the Willard-Jack Johnson fight at Havana that made Willard champion. Afterward Jack Curley had a financial interest in Willard.

The day before the Willard-Dempsey fight Curley was in Toledo, and he made a prediction to the writer to this effect:

"Willard will sulk when he finds out he can't beat Dempsey. He'll quit in his corner after three rounds."

He was so sure of what would occur he wouldn't remain over in Toledo a day to see his prediction fulfilled.

"You do me an injustice," Jack Curley says, "in saying that in picking Dempsey to win the wish was father to the thought. That is not correct.

"Three months before the date of the match, when Jess Willard settled with me in full at the Stratford hotel in Chicago, he asked me in the most friendly spirit my opinion of the proposed match between himself and Dempsey.

"Here is what I said to him: 'Jess, you are talking of fighting Dempsey three months from now. What you need is six months' time for preliminary training before you can think of starting three months of active training work.

"'If you go out to reduce yourself to fighting weight in three months' time (Jack Curley is still telling of his talk with Willard) you will get the most terrible beating a champion ever got in the ring. Dempsey is fast, hits hard, and you will never have a chance.'

"The day that you speak of in Toledo you were very near when Willard and I met in the lobby of the Secor and you sat on a sofa for probably half an hour," Jack Curley continues.

"The first thing Willard did was to open his vest, saying: 'Well, I'm down to weight—the fat is all gone, as you can see.'

"'You're right, Jess,' I answered, 'the fat is all gone, and you're down to weight, but you didn't do it by proper training. To me you look the hungriest man I ever saw in my life, my prediction made to you three months ago holds good today.'

"After a few minutes more of friendly conversation, during which Willard assured me he was certain to win, these were my parting words:

"'Jess, a lot of newspaper men in the lobby are watching us. They know we are friendly, because we have proved it by chatting here for half an hour. Now, I'm going to leave you, and if I should meet you in the street don't stop to talk to me, because the more I hear you talk the more I look at you, and the more I remember what a fighter you were at Havana the more scared I get you convince me I'm wrong.

"'And I don't want to be convinced. I have a few bets stringing on Dempsey, and I have a lot of money to further back him, and I don't want you to scare me into switching.'

"His parting words, with a smile and a handshake, were: 'Well, you won't cash.'

"Now, Mr. Runyon, you have the whole story, and my memory is good, and I am positive I have here repeated verbatim our conversation that day."

Jack Curley quit the boxing game some years ago.

He had something to do with making the last two champions.

He promoted the fight between Jack Dempsey and Fred Fulton which got Dempsey the chance at Willard's title.

And, a long time ago, Jack Curley had a heavyweight champion of his own in Marvin Hart of Kentucky. Hart won the title that Jim Jeffries donated as the stake of the battle between the Kentuckian and Jack Root.

Thereafter Hart lost to Tommy Burns, and Tommy Burns to Johnson, if you are interested in tracing the matter back that far.

Shift Billiard Match Date.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The date of the Hoppe-Cannefax three-cushion billiard match has been shifted from February 14 to 19, it was announced today, in order to give Hoppe a chance to practice for the international balkline championship tourney in which he will defend his title, beginning February 23. The three-cushion match will be at 600 points.

Berlenbach Favorite.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Ruling a 2 to 1 favorite, Paul Berlenbach, local knockout king, was expected to score a victory over Tony (Young) Marrullo of New Orleans, before the end of their scheduled 12 round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Marrullo gained decisions over Billy Britton and Battling Siki in former appearances here but Berlenbach's punch is regarded with such esteem that the great majority of fans look for him to win inside the limit.

To Memoralize Blue Ridge.

The Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, famous in song and story, are to be immortalized in a great national park. The Interior Department indicates the park will be called the Shenandoah National Park. It will be within a day's travel of more than 40,000,000 of the population.

SPEED CENSUS OF FARMLANDS

Work of taking the Hancock county farm census is progressing rapidly and probably will be completed within the next few weeks. Statistics are being gathered under the direction of the federal agricultural department.

Secretary of Agriculture Gore, has sent out a statement from Washington urging farmers to co-operate with the enumerators.

He pledges that information secured will be held in strict confidence by his department.

School Inspector Is Visitor

L. O. Taylor, state high school supervisor, with offices at Charleston, yesterday inspected the Newell high school. He plans to visit several other schools in the county before returning to the capital.

Odd Fellows' Meeting.

Clark lodge, No. 447, Odd Fellows, will meet tonight in the Aaron building. Routine business will be transacted. Local members attended the installation of officers last evening in the rooms of Pennova lodge, East Liverpool.

No Action On Charter Bills.

Short session of the state legislature which adjourned Wednesday failed to take action on the proposed charters for Holliday's Cove and Follansbee. Both bills will be placed on the calendar for consideration at the long session which under the constitution cannot exceed 45 days. The initial session covered a period of 15 days.

High Cagers Face Glenmoor.

Coach George Kidder plans to use his strongest lineup in the game tonight with the Glenmoor five on the home floor of the latter on the Lincoln Highway, East Liverpool. The local passers have been played throughout the season under a disadvantage in that all contests have been on hostile floors.

Sheriff Denies Friction.

Sheriff Robert M. Love of Brooke county, has issued a statement in which he vigorously denies friction exists between his office force and members of the Follansbee police department. Wide publicity was given the alleged breach.

Town Supplies Hot Water.

Owing to the proximity of a hot water spring near Windhoek in Southwest Africa, all residents of that town get hot water free of charge. The spring merely is connected by pipes to the regular water system of the town, and hot water is on tap at every faucet.

Dr. Hill Invites Frank Campbell to Lincoln Day Dinner

Frank Campbell, of Lincoln avenue has been invited to attend a luncheon, celebrating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, to be given at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C., on February 12 by the trustees of the Lincoln Memorial University, of Cumberland Gap, Md.

The invitation was extended by Dr. John Wesley Hill, chancellor of the university, who was the speaker at the Elks' memorial services held at the Ceramic theatre, in December. Among the guests of honor who have accepted the invitation to attend are Secretary of War John W. Weeks, Secretary of the Interior Huber Work, Secretary of the Navy Curtis W. Wilbur, ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; Judge Elbert Gary, John Kirby and William C. Proctor, of Cincinnati.

Mr. Campbell plans to attend the affair.

Health Nurse Named.

BUCYRUS—Miss Bernice Chloe Bowers, Galion, has been appointed public health nurse here at a salary of $150 per month. Miss Bowers is a graduate of the Glenville hospital training school, Cleveland.

Men Turn to Cold Creams.

Although women are turning to bobbed hair and thus enriching the barbers, men are likewise turning to cold creams and thus enriching in proportion the makers of these lotions for the skin. Middle aged men especially are increasing the trade in these complexion aids.

Dogs smile when pleased, says Sir Charles Bell, the scientist.

Clever Buffalo Chemist Says New Treatment for Piles Never Fails

Buffalo, N. Y.—For years the generally accepted treatment for Hemorrhoids or Piles has been by the insertion of many so-called antiseptics and astringents into the rectum. Such treatments, while they in many cases gave relief, never reached or acted on the cause of the trouble and this was often true of surgical operations.

You've got to attack the real cause of the Piles and not the piles themselves and you've got to do it from a constitutional standpoint and this is just what the Hamadala treatment does. It attacks the cause and not the formation and the cause once removed, all those painful, congested, knotted and strangulated blood vessels are restored to their normal function and blind, bleeding or protruding piles become a thing of the past.

So sure and certain of results are the manufacturers that the Hamadala treatment is only sold under a rigid guarantee of satisfaction or money back. C. G. Anderson, Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway are selling lots of this truly wonderful remedy. The price is $1.00. Mail orders filled.
